Harrisburg Streets and Parks Were Transformed Into Vistas of Fairyland Before March Sun Struck the Snow To-day

Harrisburg parks and the streets of the city presented Fairyland pictures this morning until the sun cleared away the snow of last night. The upper picture on the left shows the wires laden with snow. The photograph was made from the top of the Columbus Hotel. In the center is the General Hartranft monument and on the right is the Capitol building and grounds as seen from the top of the Telegraph building. Below on the left is a scene in Capitol Park and a sign not intended for this kind of weather. On the right the river bank shrubbery, above the Walnut street bridge, is shown.

MYSTERY VEILING GIRL'S DEATH IS DEEPENING TODAY

Coroner Eckinger Still Refuses to Give Out Results of Autopsy.

THINK WOMAN TOOK POISON

Chief of Police Believes Coroner Eckinger Is Taking Proper Steps to Clear Up Case

The mystery veiling the death of a young woman in a room at the Lochiel Hotel yesterday morning was deepened to-day by the announcement made by Coroner Eckinger that the results of the autopsy would not be given out. Attempts to identify the woman have been unsuccessful. The name she registered is believed to be fictitious.

Dr. R. L. Perkins, who made the autopsy worked for hours last night, but nothing was given out by the coroner as to his findings.

It is the general opinion among those who saw the body that the young woman committed suicide by taking poison. She took the poison while in the cab which brought her to the hotel is the belief.

Colonel Hutchison said to-day that

State Police Search For Black Handers in Vicinity of Indiana

Indiana, Pa., March 7.—A detail of the State constabulary was sent to-day to Iselin, Pa., to hunt down a gang of Black Hand operators who have been operating in that section for several weeks. Recently the residence of G. C. Campbell, manager of a coal company's store, was blown up, and yesterday a box of dynamite was found on the porch of the house occupied by G. Steffen, a butcher. On it lay a letter telling him he must place $1,000 at a designated spot or the dynamite would be used.

EIGHTEEN MEMBERS OF STEAMER'S CREW ADRIFT IN OPEN BOAT

Men Were on Board Charlemagne Tower, Jr., Which Sank in 53 Feet of Water

Seaside Park, N. J., March 7.—Eighteen members of the crew of the steamer Charlemagne Tower, Jr., which sank near here, are adrift on the ocean in an open boat. The last seen of them they were going out to sea in a southeasterly direction. The steamer sank in fifty feet of water three-quarters of a mile from shore between Cedar Creek and Forked River Life Saving Stations, six miles south of here.

PRESIDENT HUERTA SAYS HE WILL NOT TOLERATE MEDIATION

Increases Strength of His Army by Appointing Five Division Generals

Mexico City, March 7.—Mediation in any form in revolution by other governments, even though the governments be Latin-American, would not be tolerated by Mexico. This reply has been given by President Huerta to a question based on the assumption that Chile, Argentine and Brazil were disposed to extend their good offices. These countries have followed the example of the United States in not recognizing the Huerta government.

Lancaster County Is Praised in Congress

Washington, March 7.—Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, was described as "the matchless marvel of farm productivity" in Congress yesterday by Representative W. W. Grist in the course of a speech on the agricultural appropriation bill. Announcing that Lancaster had been pronounced the greatest of all agricultural counties by each census since 1870, he presented the latest census statistics, showing that farm products of the county were valued at $21,000,000. Los Angeles county, California, ranked second with $3,000,000 less.

Appealing for appropriations that Agricultural Department experts might render greater service to individual farmers, Mr. Grist charged that too many nonagricultural duties were being imposed upon the department. He criticized the assignment of the Secretary of Agriculture to banking duties under the new currency law. To perform the strictly agricultural duties of the department, said the congressman, will suffice to keep the secretary and his experts busy.

WADSWORTH MADE SECRETARY

Reading, Pa., March 7.—The Pennsylvania Commercial Secretaries' Association was completed here to-day after the discussion of a number of important topics. Sherrard Ewing, secretary of the Reading Chamber of Commerce, was elected president. Robert M. Wadsworth, of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce, was made secretary of the body.

Rumor of Murder Is Not Verified by the Police

Reports that the body of a murdered man had been found along the Linglestown road near Penbrook early this morning were not verified by the city and county authorities. The report was to the effect that a farmer on his way to market this morning found the body of a man, apparently about 45 years of age, near Penbrook, that the man had been hit over the head with some instrument and that his clothes had been removed.

KUNKEL'S CAMPAIGN FOR SUPREME BENCH FORMALLY LAUNCHED

President Judge Accepts Following Request of United Bar of County

PAY HIM HIGH TRIBUTE

Lawyers of Every Party Declare Head of Local Court Would Make Ideal Candidate

President Judge Kunkel's campaign for Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania was formally launched to-day.

The initial step was taken by Lyman D. Gilbert, chairman of yesterday's meeting of the Dauphin county bar, who appointed a general committee of twenty-eight well-known attorneys to advance Judge Kunkel's candidacy and inform the people of Pennsylvania of the work of Dauphin's President Judge.

The selection of the committee was in accordance with the action of the united bar of the county and the personnel was named without regard to politics.

The committee is headed by John R. Geyer, Middletown, a member of the firm of Fox & Geyer. The committee will get down to work and the naming of the subcommittee will be a matter of a day or two. Following is the committee:

John R. Geyer, chairman; John E.
