BOUND IN ENGLISH RIBBED BUCKRAM CLOTH---GOLD DECORATIONS

A 15-Day Distribution of the Complete Romances of VICTOR HUGO

HERE'S A STROKE OF ENTERPRISE WITHOUT A PARALLEL IN THE ANNALS OF PENNSYLVANIA NEWSPAPERDOM. By special arrangement with Thomas Nelson and Sons, the famous Bible publishers of Edinburgh, Scotland, we are able to make this remarkable offer to our readers exclusively, affording, without a doubt, the greatest book bargain ever offered by any newspaper. These books, positively, will not be sold in single volumes at any price.

THESE WORLD-FAMED ROMANCES BY HUGO

occupy a most important position in the history of literature---there are few books in the world that can be compared with them---they are masterly conceptions and masterly developments, full of pathos, truth and high eloquence. As Edgar Saltus says:

"For sixty years Victor Hugo was a volcano in eruption, and above the crater was sky from which, in an enchanted shower, fell sequins, opals, perfumes and Stars."

No better way of planning your winter reading can be suggested than a perusal of these living and stirring romances. "Les Misérables" you have probably read, but many of the stirring passages in this great drama of truth can be read and re-read with profit. There are no more moving scenes in all literature than Hugo's description of the rescue of the condemned girl in "Notre Dame." The struggle in the storm in "Toilers of the Sea," the final execution in "Ninety-Three," and the speech of Gwynplaine in the House of Lords in "The Laughing Man." These are the most thrilling and intense of all the writings of this great French author.

Each Set of Six Splendidly Bound Volumes contains more than 3,000 pages of reading matter. They are printed in large type on thin, strong, Bible-finish paper, are beautifully bound in English ribbed Buckram cloth, with gold embellishments. The illustrations are by notable French and English artists, who have vied with each other to produce fitting designs to illustrate these masterpieces of literature.
