Veteran of Civil War Has Casket Made From Rebel Cannon Captured in Battle

GENERAL JOHN P. TAYLOR

Lewistown, Pa., March 18.—The picture accompanying this article is that of General John P. Taylor, a brave veteran, who at the age of 86 years is living on his estate near Reedsville, this county, still enjoying good health and as chipper as many men twenty years younger.
General Taylor just recently ordered his burial casket from a Philadelphia firm. The casket is being cast from captured rebel cannon and will cost $1,000. It is now on exhibition in Philadelphia and will be brought to this place and stored in the undertaking rooms of J. H. Fretz until the time comes when the general will hear the last roll call. John P. Taylor was born on the estate where he now resides June 6, 1827. His parents educated him for a farmer, but just at this period the war broke out and young Taylor felt that his services were needed by his country. Taylor enlisted in the United States army as first lieutenant in Company C, First Pennsylvania Cavalry, and before his company reached the front he was made captain. In September, 1862, he was promoted to lieutenant-colonel, and in June, 1863, he was made a full-fledged colonel. In August, 1864, he was made brigadier-general for the service he had rendered to his country. General Taylor took part in twenty-seven of the hardest-fought battles of the war and was commended for his bravery.

FRESH AIR AND HEALTH

Mental work calls an unusual supply of blood to the brain; the process of digestion calls the blood to the stomach. Brain work immediately after a hearty meal often causes indigestion because the brain has first call on a supply of blood that should be helping the stomach.
Wherever, in the economy of the body, work is to be done there is a demand for bright, red blood. Thin blood or blood dark with impurities will not do because it is the oxygen carried by the blood that does the work and oxygen-bearing blood is bright and red. This life-sustaining oxygen is taken up by the blood from the air which it meets in the lungs. Hence the great need of fresh air every hour of the day and night. But fresh air is useless if the blood cannot take up the oxygen which it gives. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enable the blood to take up more oxygen because they increase the part of the blood that carries the oxygen. This corrects the lassitude, palpitation of the heart, shaky nerves and the pallor that are the results of thin, impure blood.
You must have pure, rich blood to enjoy complete health. A booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.—Advertisement.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and nobody can tell. Brush it through hair
Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, it turns gray and looks dry, waxy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.
Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff; stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.
