

What Is a Bond?

We all know there can be no better security than a FIRST MORTGAGE ON REAL ESTATE, therefore, there can be no safer investment than a FIRST MORTGAGE REAL ESTATE BOND.

In the case of a First Mortgage the whole amount is borrowed at one time from one source, while Bonds may be sold as money is required.

All FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are secured by a FIRST MORTGAGE upon some property owned by the company issuing the bonds, THE TITLE TO WHICH MUST BE ABSOLUTELY FLAWLESS, in favor of a Trust Company, and the signature of an officer of the Trust Company appears on every bond sold, to certify that the bond is so secured.

The Trust Company, as Trustee, will act in behalf and for the interest of the bondholder; will pay the interest as it becomes due every six months; will pay the principal upon the expiration of the bond; and if the Company issuing the bond fails to produce the money for the payment of the principal and interest, the Trust Company will foreclose the mortgage, and pay the bondholders the principal and accumulated interest.

If you have One Hundred Dollars or more saved earning less than 6%, this is your opportunity to increase your income. We have FIRST MORTGAGE 6% BONDS in denominations of $100 to offer, interest free from all taxes.

Banks, Trust Companies and all large investors get 6% for their money. YOU CAN GET IT TOO.

SEND FOR OUR BEAUTIFUL CIRCULAR DESCRIBING OUR PLANS IN DETAIL AND SHOWING CUTS OF HOUSES TO BE ERECTED, FOR WHICH OPERATION WE ARE ISSUING BONDS. A POSTAL WILL BRING EVERYTHING.

REPRESENTATIVE OF STOUGH PARTY HERE

Tells Civic Council of Churches What Evangelist Is Doing Elsewhere

The Rev. F. T. Cartwright, associate evangelist of the Dr. Henry W. Stough evangelistic party, stopped off yesterday to confer with E. F. Weaver and R. F. Webster, the president and secretary, respectively, of the Allison Hill Men's Christian Association, the men who are backing up the evangelistic campaign arranged to be held in this city next November.

On the invitation of the Rev. John H. Daugherty, the Rev. Mr. Cartwright and Mr. Webster visited the meeting held last evening at the Civic Council of Churches and at the close of the regular business the Rev. Mr. Cartwright was introduced to the council and invited to give a talk on the work of his party. He was very attentively listened to while he outlined the community work done by the Stough party.

At the close of the meeting last evening it was arranged that a special mass meeting of pastors and lay workers of all the Harrisburg churches will be held next Tuesday evening in the Church of God, Fourth street, when the Rev. Mr. Cartwright will be prepared to answer all questions and explain in great length about the campaign to be waged next November, with a view to securing a special commitment on the question of making the campaign a great city-wide one instead of restricting it to Allison Hill.

Knights Celebrate.—Irish wit and the wearing of the green made the atmosphere for the St. Patrick's Day celebration of the Harrisburg Council, Knights of Columbus, held in Cathedral Hall last evening. Mgr. M. M. Hassett, rector of St. Patrick's cathedral, made an address on the life of the Irish patriot and the Rev. Father W. W. Whalen gave a dramatic sketch.

"A Man's Job."—"A Man's Job" will be the subject of the address at next Sunday's "Pleasant Sunday Afternoon" meeting of the Allison Hill Men's Christian Association, and the speaker will be the Rev. Harry Daniels, of Shrewsbury, who is attending the Methodist Episcopal conference here. This is an address especially for men which Mr. Daniels has frequently delivered and which has been received with great interest. He was engaged for next Sunday through the offices of the Rev. B. H. Hart, of this city, who will himself address the Hill Association in the near future and will read one of Billy Sunday's sermons. Several special musical numbers will feature next Sunday's meeting which will be held, as usual, in Lenney's theater at 3.45 o'clock.

SHOULD POPULAR SONGS BE CENSORED?

Isn't it possible that we have started the censor on the least important trail? For a picture though bad, soon grows dim to memory. But a song is a thing that can be memorized. We hear it, learn it, and we receive its effects with added force at every repetition.

If the effect of the song is good, we are cherishing a blessing. But if the effect of the song is bad, then indeed, whether we know it or not, we are cherishing a thing that has a remarkable resemblance to a curse.

Look through any moving picture audience and you will always see the little daughters of the poor.

All day they have drugged in factory, shop or home. The bloom of youth is still upon them, but poverty is beginning to pinch.

In their adornments, cheap jewelry and a brave show of style, one can see alike their ambition and their ideal.

A moving picture comes to its end. The singer takes his place upon the stage. The title page of a song is thrown upon the screen and the laughter of approval greets some such heading as this:

"When I Get You Alone To-night!"

The little daughter of the poor hums the chorus; for the song is all the go, presently she leaves the movie show and gains the street outside.

It may be that she finds herself in the street called straight.

Or it may be that she finds herself in another street entirely, depending somewhat upon the influence around her and depending particularly upon such influences as the songs which she has just heard and which she is humming as she steps out into the night.

LONGER PASTORATES FOR U. B. MINISTERS

Advance Steps Taken by Church Building Up Stronger Organization

One of the advance steps taken by the United Brethren Church during the last ten or fifteen years is the longer pastorate. In the earlier history of the denomination the custom of sending pastors for only three years on the same charge prevailed. The change to longer pastorates has resulted in building up stronger churches and enabling the pastors to bring in better financial reports from their respective fields of labor.

Speaking on this subject to-day, the Rev. O. G. Romig, of Hershey, Pa., said: "Especially is this advance movement noticeable within the bounds of East Pennsylvania Conference, which includes all the United Brethren churches in this territory. At the head of this list stands the name of the Rev. D. D. Lowery, D. D., of Harrisburg, the efficient, colorful superintendent. He is at present serving his twenty-first year in that capacity, during which period he has been instrumental in bringing the conference to a high standard in every respect. Both the clergy and laity of the conference attest to the fact of his aggressive leadership.

Some of the pastors whose names appear on the list are the Rev. H. E. Miller, of Lebanon, who is serving his tenth year; the Rev. J. A. Lyter, D. D., of Harrisburg, his fourteenth year; the Rev. L. K. Kramer, of Pinegrove, his ninth year; the Rev. D. S. Longenecker, of Avon, his ninth year; the Rev. P. H. Balsbaugh, of Harrisburg, and the Rev. H. M. Miller, of York, are in their seventh year; the Rev. R. R. Butterwick, of Mountville, his sixth year. All of the bishops of the denomination favor this advanced step and do not hesitate in appointing the men without any respect as to the number of years they have served in the same field of labor."

To Inspect Headquarters of 8th Regiment March 23

The annual inspection of the headquarters of Colonel Joseph B. Hutchison, Eighth Regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, will be held Monday evening, March 23, at the Armory.

The entire Eighth regiment staff will be present. The inspection will start at 8 o'clock. Later in the evening Company I, Captain Frank E. Ziegler commanding, will be inspected. Following the usual drill and inspection of arms and accoutrements an examination of officers will be held.

The inspection of Company D is scheduled for Friday night, March 27. The annual inspection of the Governor's Troop will not take place until May. Colonel M. H. Taggart will inspect the local infantry companies and Colonel John P. Penny the troopers. During April another inspection will be made by United States Army officers.

Mrs. Levi Smith Was Told That Taking Medicine in Her Present Condition Would Be Dangerous, Yet She Took Quaker Extract and Her Life Was Saved

The Address of This Party is Union D eposit, Dauphin County, Pa., and the Truth of This Cure May Be Investigated in Any Manner Which Might Suggest Itself

Mrs. Levi Smith lives in Union D eposit, Dauphin county, Pa., a little village about thirteen miles east of Harrisburg. She is the mother of an infant still nursing and it was owing to these circumstances that medicine was refused her, as it had been said that it would be harmful to mother and child. The advice was sincere and true, as in such a case nearly all medicine would indeed be dangerous. But Quaker Extract is a purely vegetable product, containing no poisons, and can therefore be safely taken by young or old under all of life's conditions and all circumstances. Mrs. Smith's condition was alarming. Her bowels were irregular, she complained of stomach troubles, she was exceedingly nervous and irritable, and how else had expelled this worm at hour or two previously. Thus another life had been saved by Quaker and thereby proved that this remedy was safe to take under the circumstances mentioned. Now, who was right? Quaker Herb Extract, $1.00 per bottle, 3 for $2.50. Oil of Balm, 25 cents. At all times at W. H. Kennedy's, 39 South Third Street.—Advertisement.
