MUST PAY DOG TAX TO EVERY COUNTY

Attorney General's Department Gives a Decision of Interest to Everyone

NO DUCK HUNTING NOW

Sorrow of the Gunners Is Heard on Every Side—Auto Business Climbing

Owners of dogs must pay a county dog tax as well as a municipal tax levied by a city or borough if they reside in a municipality, according to an opinion just given to the State Livestock Sanitary Board by Morris Wolf, Deputy Attorney General. The opinion was given to clarify a situation which has arisen in districts where rabies exist and where it has been claimed that dogs bearing the local tax tag are not subject to the county tax.

The county tax is held by Mr. Wolf to be separate from the local tax and a constable who is after unregistered dogs has the right to shoot a dog which does not bear a county tax tag.

Auto List High—The 70,000 mark in issuance of automobile licenses will be passed before many days, according to officials at the State Highway Department, who say that the late winter has not had any appreciable effect upon registration of motor vehicles as compared with former years. The license tags are being sent out at the rate of 50 to 100 a day.

After Midwives—Midwives who fail to appear for State examinations before April 1 will be liable to prosecution if they practice with a State license after that date. The examinations are now being conducted at the tuberculosis dispensaries of the State Department of Health, but it is believed that especially in the anthracite region many women of foreign birth are ignorant of the law. It is believed the examination will show hundreds of women who practice in the State, particularly among foreigners.

Reyburn Estate—The estate of William E. Reyburn, father of the late ex-Mayor John E. Reyburn of Philadelphia, was yesterday adjudicated by Judge Dallett in the Orphans' Court and a balance of $1,083,346.36 was awarded to the trustees under the decedent's will. The sole beneficiaries under the trust are William Stewart Reyburn and Eleanor C. Reyburn, grandchildren of the decedent, and Margaretta C. Reyburn, widow of the ex-mayor.

State Challenged—The authority of the Public Service Commission to grant reproduction in a case decided by the State Railroad Commission was challenged to-day at a hearing in the matter of the complaint of the Pennsylvania Paraffin Works of Titusville, against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Pennsylvania Company. The old Railroad Commission decided that the rate of 8 1/2 cents for the transportation of crude petroleum oil from Walford to Titusville, was excessive and recommended a 7 1/2 cent rate. The carriage did not promptly comply with this recommendation and the complainant seeks reparation because an 8 1/2 cent rate was charged on shipments made from May 31 to October 6 of last year. The Railroad Commission's decision was upheld by the State Railroad Commission. The Public Service Commission is without jurisdiction, notwithstanding the provision in the act of its creation which does not permit it to take jurisdiction of the unfinished business of the State Railroad Commission.

Pardon Cases Held—The Fayette county murder cases were continued by the State Board of Pardons yesterday and will come up in April. The men will be granted respites.

Will Visit Butler—The Public Service Commissioners have decided to visit Butler in order to get firsthand information about the grade crossings which are a matter of dispute.

Dr. Phillips Here—Dr. G. M. Phillips, former member of the State Board of Education and now principal of the Norfolk West school, was here yesterday on business.

State Saved Money—The division of document distribution saved the State considerable money by use of the parcel post this week. Had the parcel post ruling on books been in effect in January the State would have saved about $500.

Education Bulletin—The State Board of Education has issued an interesting bulletin regarding the activities of various school districts and complimentary references are made to County Superintendent J. W. Snoke, of Lebanon, for his agricultural club work. It is stated that Erie is about to establish a pension system for teachers.

Demonstration Work—State Zoologist Surface is inundated with requests for demonstrations in orchards and sprays. The work is now being outlined and it is the Zoologist's plan to include as many orchards as means will permit. The series starts next week.

Petitions Filed—Petitions for Democratic legislative nominations were filed to-day as follows: Representative Reuben Howard, Uniontown, Second Fayette; and John A. Williams, Port Matilda, Centre county district.

Kick on Name—A hearing was held yesterday by Corporation Clerk John A. Whitworth on the protest of the Carinbrook Coal Company against issuance of a charter to the Carinbrook Coal Mining Company, because of similarity of name.

Duck Hunters Sad—Duck hunters all over the State are sad over the Federal law which prohibits the sale of ducks. Dr. Kalbfus, secretary of the State Game Commission, says there is no help for it as the Federal law supersedes the State laws on game.

RAILROAD NEWS

P. R. R., HIT HARD BY BIG BLIZZARD

Estimate Places the Total Damages at Two Million Dollars to Date

With another week of hard work to complete repairs, the Pennsylvania Railroad officials yesterday announced that the total damages from the recent blizzard would reach $2,000,000.

This sum includes the actual destruction of the company's property; the cost of temporary repairs; loss of revenue during the twenty-four hour period while traffic was wholly suspended in northern New Jersey and during the much longer period when only partial service was possible; the cost of clearing the tracks of snow and wreckage, and the extraordinary expenses of operating the lines while the tracks were partly blocked, and train dispatching and signaling apparatus were out of commission. The property damage alone is placed at an amount in excess of $500,000.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, alone, had 180 poles and 3,000 miles of wire down. Besides, 2,000 crossarms were torn from railroad poles that had been left standing.

In clearing the tracks of snow and wreckage, the official record shows, the company used a force of 7,300 men for three days. Of this number 5,000 were extra laborers and the remaining 2,300 were regular employees, recruited from many points on the Eastern lines. To feed this army 60,000 men were sent out along the line on special trains from Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

Lehigh Company Is Again in Court

Special to The Telegraph
New York, March 19.—The Lehigh Coal Company was sued here yesterday by Attorney General McReynolds under the Sherman anti-trust laws as being the dominant factor in a combination to control the output of anthracite from Pennsylvania fields it touches.

It is further charged that the Lehigh has violated the provision of the Pennsylvania Constitution prohibiting common carriers from engaging in mining or other business besides transportation.

Among the corporations and individuals named as co-defendants and parties to a conspiracy to monopolize the coal trade are the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, Lehigh Valley Coal Sales Company, Cote & Bros. Company Inc., Edward T. Stotesbury, Daniel G. Reid, Charles Stee, George F. Baker and George F. Baer.

Fireman Smith Is Highly Commended

In the latest bulletin issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, giving efficiency reports, C. B. Smith, a former Harrisburg, a fireman on the Harrisburg-Lock Haven local express, is commended for his thoughtfulness on the night of January 27, "While your train was running perhaps fifty miles per hour, you saw the opposite track near Dalmatia was obstructed by a mass of ice which had come down the mountain. You immediately threw a lighted fusee on the obstructed track and had another ready to throw if a train was seen before reaching the next telegraph tower, from which place a report was made to this office.

"This showed the quick-wittedness which is a characteristic of the best railroad men, and is highly appreciated by the officials and by fellow employees, as it makes for safety of operation.

"I not only want to thank you for having done this, but to congratulate

Crew of Unidentified Schooner Reported Lost

Bremen, Germany, March 19.—An unidentified three masted schooner was sunk and her crew drowned through a collision last night in the North Sea with the North German Lloyd liner Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse.

The steamer remained in the vicinity for two hours but could not discover any trace of the schooner's crew. She then resumed her voyage to America.

The Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse left Bremen yesterday on her first trip since her reconstruction as a third class and stowage passenger vessel. The captain sent the news of the collision in a wireless message to the company here.

Age of Little Girl in Abduction Case May Cost Youth Life

Estelle Harrison
Norfolk, Va., March 19.—Upon the exact age of little Estelle Harrison, said to be 13, whom he is charged with abducting from her Brooklyn home, may hang the life of William Groud, 17 years old, of New York. If it develops that the girl had not attained her thirteenth birthday at the time of the alleged abduction, the charge against Groud may be changed to a more serious one, the penalty of which in Virginia is death.

A Single Application Banishes Hair From Face

(Beauty Topics)
Here is a way to remove obnoxious hairy growths while you are preparing your toilette for the evening: Mix into a stiff paste enough powdered delatone and water to cover the hairs not wanted. Apply, and in about 2 minutes rub off and every trace of hair comes with it. Washing the skin to remove the surplus delatone leaves it soft, clear and free from blemish. To insure success, be certain that you get real delatone.
