MIDDLETOWN CASE WITH STATE BOARD

Long Controversy Over Water Rates Will Be Considered by the Commission

The charges of discrimination against residents of Middletown in the water rates of the Middletown and Swatara Consolidated Water Company were submitted to the Public Service Commission last night and a brief will be filed in behalf of the company.

John R. Geyer appeared in behalf of the citizens and Charles H. Berger for the company, it being contended that water is furnished to the Pennsylvania Railroad at Royalton at a lower rate than furnished to Middletown people.

The commission resumed its hearing on the Bell Telephone case today and will have others later in the Spring. A hearing was also held in the claim that the Lehigh Valley Transit Company discriminates in fares between Allentown and Coopersburg to the advantage of other zones.

It may be that the commission will dispose of some of the questions arising out of the company service law as relating to clerical rates, free water to religious institutions and reduced rates to charitable establishments.

CRAZE, "STOVE-POLISH" RIBBON

This ribbon is the newest trimming featured for millinery purposes, says the Dry Goods Economist. It is a black waxed satin the correct name of which is colle cire; but it is popularly called in this market stove polish ribbon.

Some firms have adopted terms for this ribbon, suggesting its suitability for auto hat trimmings, since it is supposed to be waterproof. At present, however, it is having its greatest vogue for the decoration of the modish all-black street hat.

VARIETY IN TANGO CAPS

The Dry Goods Economist says that interest in tango caps continues at a high pitch. Metal effects lined with flesh-colored silk and trimmed with fancy metal bands, tassels and ornaments are liked. Some excellent examples are shown decorated with pearls.

SICK WIDOW WANTS SON SENT FROM ARMY NEVER A PROMISED

Writes Secretary Garrison Pathetic Letter Telling of Her Need in Declining Years Shipped to the Borough

MRS. ANNA MORRIS AND "HER BOY"

Hopeless and heartbroken in her fight against a fatal illness, and left alone by her 19-year-old son John, who has enlisted in the army, Mrs. Anna Morris, living in Steelton's foreign quarter, at 605 South Third street, has written to Secretary of War Garrison, asking him to forgive her son and send him back to her to support her in her last days.

In her letter she tells the "great secretary" that she is now unable to earn money to support herself in her declining years. The aged lady since the death of her husband some ten years ago has kept the little home going by doing housework and taking in washing.

She is a small woman, five feet tall, and frail. How hard has been her struggle is recorded in her careworn expression and wrinkled face. In the sickly pallor of her face and sunken cheeks the ravages of the "white plague" are seen. Her falling strength makes it impossible for her to longer continue her hopeless struggle. For the short time left her she begs to be allowed the comfort and support of her only son. Her letter to the secretary is as follows:

"My son, John Morris, enlisted in the U. S. Army and is stationed at Jefferson Barracks, Mo. He left me here alone. I am a widow, 53 years old. I am now unable to earn my own living. John is under age. He is only 19 years old, and was my only support. I have no other children. He was born in Austria. I beg you to please release him, because I am here alone. If he said that he was 21, that is not so. Please forgive him and send him back to me."

PLANT OF MILLIKEN COMPANY IS BEING SHIPPED TO THE BOROUGH

That the raising of over a half hundred houses in lower West Side and replacing them with new modern steel mills means a new era in the industrial history of Steelton, is the opinion of men well versed in the steel-making industry. While the Steelton officers of the Pennsylvania Steel Company has received no word to go ahead with the erection of the new mills and no definite information as to what the exact character of the new mills will be, has been given out, it is generally understood that the mills to be erected will enable the former of a contract, with the possible exception of armor plate. Rapid strides have already been made in the preparation for the erection of the new mills. The plant of the Milliken Steel Company on Staten Island, recently purchased by the Pennsylvania Steel Company, is being dismantled and already a large part of it has been shipped here.

Wild Birds and Their Habits Lecture Subject

From 1840 to 1890 more than twenty species of American birds became extinct, notable among them the passenger pigeon, which was ruthlessly slaughtered along the whole path of its migration from South to North. Recently $5,000 was offered for a single specimen, but there are none to be had except one very old bird in the Zoological Gardens at Cincinnati. The wholesale slaughter of our birds that has gone on for some time is a tragedy within the space of a few years, and in many cases to total extinction. When I hear of the destruction of a species, says former President Roosevelt, I feel as if the work of some great writer had perished.

Judge Kunkel's Petitions Circulated by Volunteers Throughout York County

Petitions for the nomination of Judge George Kunkel, for the Supreme Court job bench, were placed in circulation throughout York county today.

The committee having in charge the Kunkel campaign received this news this morning, with the statement that the petitions are being taken out by volunteers who believe that Judge Kunkel is the only man for the place. There is strong Kunkel sentiment throughout the county and some of the petitions were completely filled before noon.

Judge Kunkel frequently assisted the district attorney of York county when the judge was district attorney of Dauphin county and he has many friends among the members of the bar and people who learned to admire him as a lawyer during the trial of important cases. One of his most memorable efforts there was the conviction of Paynton, for the murder of Mrs. Michael Strominger, of Lewisberry. Mr. Kunkel at that time assisted District Attorney Bentzel and the burden of the case rested on him.

are pale and frail—backward in studies—with pinched faces and poor blood—their minds and bodies are actually starved because their regular food does not nourish. Such children need Scott's Emulsion above everything else; it contains nature's rarest life-giving fats; it is essentially food value blood-food and bone-food, free from wine, alcohol or harmful drug. Scott's Emulsion often builds many times its weight in solid flesh—its medicinal, tonic and nutritive properties make all good food too good. IT IS NOT A FEEB, BUT A FOUNDATION FOR STURDY GROWTH. Every Drugist Has It. Avoid Substitutes.
