

"The image of Hugo has replaced that of Napoleon the Great." ALPHONSE DAUDET

Poet Patriot -- Dramatist Romancist VICTOR HUGO The Greatest Frenchman of His Time

THOSE who have read any one of Hugo's romances have enjoyed a never-to-be-forgotten treat. Those who haven't read at least one, have entirely missed a master-writer. No one can be said to have known the best in modern literature who has not read "Les Miserables" (2 Vols.), "Ninety Three", "Notre Dame", "The Laughing Man" and "The Toilers of the Sea"--- a few notable portions from the five supreme creations that constitute Hugo's

Complete Romances

The Harrisburg Telegraph believes that to place a good book in the hands of any one is to do that one a substantial favor. It follows that to distribute the works of a master like Victor Hugo, at a price within easy reach of all is an achievement of which any newspaper may well be proud.

This very thing has been accomplished. Three important factors have made it possible: (1) Twentieth-Century perfection in the art of printing and binding as exemplified in the productions of the century-old house of THOMAS NELSON AND SONS, of Edinburg, Scotland; (2) the printing by them of the largest single edition of Hugo's Romances that has ever come from the press; (3) the recent tariff reduction on foreign-made books.

And so it comes that those who promptly bring or send the Harrisburg Telegraph Library Coupon, printed below, can get this charming set at a cost hardly believable. When you actually see the volumes, you'll wonder more than ever how it can be done.

Advertisement for Victor Hugo's Complete Romances. Includes image of the book set and text: Six Volumes Bound in Red and Gold Duotone Illustrations By Noted Artists. JUST NOW 98c PER SET. Over 3,000 Pages Printed From New Plates on Bible Finish Paper Large, Clear Type

All alert Central Pennsylvania readers, which means Telegraph readers, will be quick to take advantage of this unusually attractive offer and make sure of the Romances for their homes or as gifts to someone whom they wish to please. For it should be remembered that these sets are not for sale in bookstores; they cannot be secured at retail even from the Nelsons; but if they could the cost would be about five times the present nominal figure. In Harrisburg the sets are available.

TO The Harrisburg Telegraph READERS ONLY

Having thus arranged to place these sets within easy reach of our readers it remains for them to take prompt advantage of the opportunity, whether for themselves or someone else. These are two ways in which the volumes (which, by the way, are neatly boxed) can be secured: (1) by personal application at the Telegraph office; (2) by mail, with inclosure to cover the nominal price of the volumes and cost of delivery. In either case

BALKANS LAUGH AT BRYAN'S MINISTER

American Brewer-Diplomat Shocks European Rulers by His Queer Behavior

London, March 21. -- Information has reached London that the Washington government might direct attention to Charles J. Vopicka, of Chicago, American minister to the Balkan States. The instructions which Secretary of State Bryan sent Vopicka to go direct to his post after he had delivered an effusive speech in Prague, Austria, apparently have had little effect, for the minister since has staggered the diplomats of other nations. Vopicka, who owes his appointment to Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, was a brewer who was popular with the Bohemians of Chicago. He attended a dinner in Prague, where he delivered a speech which showed no appreciation of his position as a minister of the American diplomatic service. He talked freely and made criticisms of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria. The speech was such an extraordinary one that the American consul general sent a cablegram to the State Department calling attention to it and intimating that it might offend friendly foreign powers. Secretary Bryan urged Vopicka to his post.

Tells Cost of His Shirt At Bucharest, the capital of Rumania, where Vopicka makes his headquarters, the stories of his doings caused Queen Elizabeth, "Carmen Sylva," to remark: "The American minister, I am told, is a very curious person." At Sofia, capital of Bulgaria, Vopicka drove up to the palace in a state carriage. He said to an American acquaintance as he got out of the carriage, pointing to his soft shirt: "That shirt cost me $12. I wore it when I saw King Carol and Peter and now I am wearing it to see Ferdinand." Vopicka was carrying his credentials wrapped in a small silk American flag, in which he presented them to King Ferdinand.

Familiar With Ferdinand Vopicka is said to have adopted a familiar, confidential tone, saying to the king: "I have met King Carol and Peter and I understand that there would be some difficulty in the Balkan states. If there is any more trouble, come to me. I think I will be able to arrange matters." Even less pleasant is the story that Queen Eleanor of Bulgaria, who is soon to pay a visit to the United States, sent an enquiry to ask the American minister to appoint a day to accompany her to the hospitals. Vopicka replied that he was unable to name a day at the moment, but that he would telephone her. The visit naturally was canceled. Admirators of the Bulgarians for Mr. Vopicka was not heightened when they learned that he was seen in the new year in a beer hall in Sofia.

Waynesboro Man Ends Life on Day of Wedding

Special to The Telegraph Los Angeles, March 21.--Instead of appearing to marry Carrie Schabell Thursday night, Harry D. Schultz, of Waynesboro, Pa., sent the wedding ring with a note announcing that he was about to commit suicide. A few minutes later he was found lying on the floor of his apartment with a bullet through his breast. His note to the prospective bride declared that she "was too good for a fellow like me," and expressed the hope that they would meet in the hereafter. "I haven't the heart to marry you, nor the nerve to face you," he wrote.

Waynesboro, Pa., March 1.--Harry D. Schultz, who committed suicide at Los Angeles, was the son of a farmer living near here. His mother, Mrs. Lester Law, received a letter from him telling of his approaching marriage to Miss Schabell, whose photograph he had sent home several weeks ago. Schultz wrote in a happy vein, and said that he was anxiously awaiting the date of his wedding. His parents today received a telegram announcing his death. Schultz's father said that his son probably would have to be buried at Los Angeles, as he was not financially able to have the body sent home. Schultz was 35 years old. The fire was discovered by railroad men who quickly summoned the fire company. Several small buildings were burned and the loss is estimated at $800. The origin of the fire is unknown, but is believed to have been incendiary.

Taft Says Apples Have Caused Loss of Weight

Special to The Telegraph Minneapolis, Minn., March 21.--It one would know the secret of William Howard Taft's loss of weight and corresponding breadth and frequency of the Taft smile he would find it in the only word--apples. The ex-President has become a chronic apple eater. Two things are contributing factors in the system whereby he has lost 15 pounds since he left the White House--dieting and exercise. The exercise he finds for the most part in walking, and as a dieting requires reducing quantity as well as variety, he makes up for it between meals by munching apples.
