

Women and Their Interests

The Man Who is Hard to Please

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Frank writes me: "I am keeping company with a girl of nineteen. I am twenty-one. Recently I took her to the theater and to supper, and spent seven dollars on her. I got one kiss good-night, and now she has thrown me down. A n i s w e r s o o n h a s k e d b a t h i n g a t a cost of seven dollars to himself, and she kissed him good-night. After which she threw him down. He is injured, the thought finding no room in his little brain that the man who spends money on a girl, and counts what he spends and demands a return in such payment as he may see fit to exact, is too contemptible to merit anything save a "throwing down." It is a pity that all such men do not receive their just dues as promptly.

He feels that he did not get his money's worth, not knowing that the society of a nice, decent girl is not for sale, and that if the pleasure a man finds in such a woman's company is not recompense for the outlay of cash then the sooner they part company the better for both, and particularly for her. Better that she provide her own amusements than be the guest of a man who accusingly counts up what every hour in her company has cost him.

Has anything honorable as marriage in view. The companionship of the young woman for one evening cost him $7, and his regrets do not mean that her society was not worth that much, but rather, that he spent $7 more than he could afford in justice to himself. Few young men of twenty-one are so calculating as to justify an expenditure of $7 for one evening's amusement, but when they are profligate they have only themselves to blame. No nice girl goes around begging a young man to spend money on her, and there are too many nice girls in the world to afford the excuse of escape from loneliness for the young man who goes with the other kind. If a young man spends so much that he is handicapped in his resources he has only himself to blame. The companionship of the right sort of a girl is worth tenfold the financial cost. The companionship of the wrong kind costs too much if it costs nothing.

For Freckled, Rough or Spotty Complexions

The freckling, discoloring or roughening to which delicate skins are subject after exposure to wind or sun often appearing in early spring, may readily be gotten rid of. Mercolized wax, spread lightly over the face before retiring and removed in the morning with soap and water, completely obliterates the freckles. There is no more effective way of banishing freckles or other cutaneous defects. Little skin particles come off each day, so the process doesn't even temporarily mar the complexion, and one soon acquires a brand new, spotless, girlishly beautiful face. Wrinkles caused by weather, worry or illness are best treated by a simple solution of powdered salicylic acid, dissolved in 1/2 pt. witch hazel. Bathing the face in this produces a truly marvelous transformation.

Superfluous Hair Disappears Like Magic

New Wonder Makes It Unnecessary to Use Dangerous, Disfiguring Electric Needles or Burning Pastes, Powders or Liquids. Every woman who suffers the deep humiliation and embarrassment of superfluous hair and who has used any or all of the worthless advertised depilatories in a fruitless search for lasting relief, will rejoice to learn that an entire new method has been found which quickly and painlessly eradicates all signs of ugly regrowth. FOOD INSPECTION MEASURE PASSES

Action of Council In To-day's Session New food inspection ordinance, including provision for appointment of a new board of health, was passed Monday, 3 to 2. A resolution providing for appointment of physician as assistant health officer, at $200 per year, assisting present officer of sanitary officers, passed Monday, 3 to 2. A resolution creating office of Assistant City Solicitor at salary of $1,000 per year, 3 to 2. A resolution creating office of Assistant Assessor at $1,000 per year, introduced. A resolution amending Howard Barnes and Joseph Somgarder appointed sewer inspectors. Ordinance to pave Ferry street, Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets, passed finally. Harrisburg Railway Company to start changing tracks on Adams street. Application for position of special license tax officer from William F. Hurley. Ordinances passed finally: Paving Seventh street, Emerald to Woodbine street; constructing sewers in Twentieth street, Spencer to Swatara; water, Twentieth to Twenty-first. Discussion of 1914 budget; opposition voted $900 for assistant health officer. Mayor Taylor promptly informed the president of Council that "Mr. Taylor not only serves as the City Solicitor, but also as the City Assessor. The solicitor's office is along with a man of his caliber." When the vote was called for Mr. Gorgas voted "no," because, as he said, he didn't understand enough about the position and whether or not the new one was necessary. The same tactics were tried by the Mayor when the food inspection ordinance was voted on. "Now this provides for two or three offices," he began, when Commissioner Bowman interrupted: "Now why not say two, Mr. Mayor, when you know it provides for only two?" "Two? Well, I beg your pardon," returned the president. Bowman raised questions about the samples of foodstuffs to be collected unless there were officers provided for the purpose. If the samples were collected and inspected, the city wouldn't have to get the license taxes, he pointed out. "Couldn't the license tax officer do it," the Mayor wanted to know. "Why not get the license tax officer to do it?" Bowman returned sharply returned the commissioner of public safety. It is necessary, he insisted, to have the necessary officers to make the collections if the fines or violations are to be imposed and the ordinance enforced. And when Mr. Gorgas and the Mayor also voted "no" on that measure, Commissioner Taylor smilingly called out: "Their's the orders!" The Mayor's objection to the appointment of an assistant health officer was based on the ground that it isn't necessary when there is no small-pox to be taken care of. Mr. Bowman pointed out that the new officer will take charge of all contagious diseases, and some proposed amendments. Among these was a change to lower the rate for insurance agents from $10 to $5 per year. The Chamber of Commerce and other business interests and merchants were represented by Attorney John T. Olmsted and George B. Tripp, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Some residents of Tenth street in the vicinity of the Ninth street plant of the Harrisburg Light and Power Company, protested against the smoke nuisance. Mr. Tripp, vice-president and general manager of the company, said that the matter had been referred to the company and that the necessary steps to comply with the wishes of the petitioners were now being taken.

Proposed to Build Tabernacle at Seventeenth and Chestnut Sts. to Seat 8,000

Pastors and laymen interested in a city-wide evangelistic campaign will meet to-night in the Fourth Street Church of God. The meeting will be an effort to make a "call" for the proposed campaign. The Rev. F. O. Wright, associate pastor of the Stough evangelistic campaign party, now working in Mt. Carmel, will be present, to explain fully the details of the proposed campaign. The proposed campaign is well under way on Adams Hill, and it is proposed to build a big tabernacle, seating 8,000, somewhere in the neighborhood of Seventeenth and Chestnut streets. The "call" for the campaign has been signed by a majority of the pastors on the hill and the first meeting of the campaign will be held on Sunday, November 1. Although it is not made to begin the campaign about the week of October 1, the meeting of to-morrow evening is the direct result of a suggestion made at a meeting of the Civic Council of Churches held last Tuesday evening.

Large Audiences Hear Miss Grayce at Majestic

Large audiences greeted Helen Grayce at the Majestic theater yesterday when she opened a week's engagement. "The Lion and the Mouse," one of the best of the late successes, was given both afternoon and evening in a way that won much favor. Her impersonation of her popularity and as Shirley Rossmore who fights the money king single handed, she gave a delightful portrayal of the role. Lawrence Brooke made an excellent impersonation of her popularity and as a leading man of merit, Roger Barker who for many years has been identified with the Appell attractions scored a hit at Ryder, the millionaire. Others in the cast deserving mention are Thomas Burrough, Earle Ritchie, Frank O'Brien, Earl Howell, Helen Robinson, Antoinette Hoche and Huberta Mack. ONLY SEVEN BEFORE JUVENILE COURT BAR

Five Youthful Defendants Just "Bagged It"; Session on Friday Before Kunkel

Only seven small defendants, new ones, that is, will face President Judge Kunkel at the March quarter sessions to term of juvenile court Friday. Two of the youngsters will have to answer to charges of stealing; the other five, convicted from school not wisely but too well. The number of new cases thus far listed is unusually small as a rule; there are nearly a score of cases to place before the juvenile court judge. In addition to the new defendants, however, there are half a dozen or more cases that had been continued from previous terms. These, too, will be passed upon. While it has not yet been decided as to just when John Thomas, the murderer of a fellow-writer in an Eighth ward hotel, will be called for sentence on the charge of manslaughter, it is generally expected that he will be arraigned at Friday's session of court.

Half a dozen cases were argued following a brief session of March orphans court this morning. Both President Judge Kunkel and Judge Henry Lebanon, specially presiding, were on the bench. Twenty-three guardians, trustees, executors and administrators' accounts were presented for confirmation in orphans' court, excepted having been filed to but two. March Desertion Court Finished.—A few hold-over cases of desertion and surety court were heard by Judge Henry. Among the cases was that of Harvey Rowe, whose pretty 19-year-old girl-wife had him before Judge Jefferson Kunkel at 200 Locust street, in a charge of failure to support her. Harlow, who barely had declared that he made several efforts to call upon his wife after she had gone home to her mother, but that she refused to see him, his wife's mother promptly sent her daughter and his wife to bed. To Build at Cameron and Maclay.—A perfect 100-foot by 25-foot brick building at Cameron and Maclay streets was issued to-day to Joseph Bradley. The dwelling will cost $1,800. D. Frank Lebo III.—D. The Home Beauty Parlor

June: The "French complexion" you inquire about is probably the craze for liquid powders. They are thought to be more wholesome for the skin, as well as more beautifying and less likely to show, than ordinary powder. The following preparation can be made at home: Buy one ounce of salicylic acid from any druggist. Get 4 ounces spummax from your druggist, dissolve in one-half pint of water. Add 10 drops of tea-spoonful before each meal. Dieting or exercise is not necessary with this. Mrs. S.: My own experience with wrinkles was three years ago when I removed them with a very simple, inexpensive preparation which I made by mixing an ounce of alcohol (from your druggist) in one-half pint of water and adding two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This, by contracting the skin slowly, restores healthy firmness and keeps the surface circulation of the blood so good that a perfect natural glow develops in the cheeks. I have used it ever since. Lilly: You will find shampooing with a teaspoonful of cantharid dissolved in a cup of hot water is a quick and pleasing way to free the scalp of dandruff, itching and excess oil. This is a cleanser and hygienic, most appreciated by one whose scalp is either dry, scaly and itchy or profusely oily. Its use reduced the hair to come in plentifully, with a gloss, and greatly enriched color. Madge: No, you need not have lots of money in order to give your hair and scalp perfect care. I often recommend many made-at-home items which are even better than high-priced patent hair tonics. I get an ounce of quinine at the druggist's, dissolve it in one-half pint of alcohol and add one-half pint of water. Rub a little at a time well into the scalp and your dandruff will disappear and you will keep your scalp healthy. Exie: I brighten my eyes and rest my head by putting a few drops of crystals solution into each eye, using the lids with the same. I make the tonic by getting an ounce of crystals from the drug store and dissolving it in a pint of clear water. It will not irritate the eyes and healing. It is the safest way of making the eyes sparkling and expressive. Betty Dean's Beauty Book, $5. (Adv.)

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE-RHEUMATISM, QUICKLY VANISH Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After A Few Doses Are Taken Backache, urinary disorders, and rheumatism, are caused from weak inactive kidneys, which fail to filter out the impurities and keep the blood pure, and the only way on earth to permanently and positively cure such troubles, is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Iroxone, cures such conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; it neutralizes the tender membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, lifeless kidneys so they filter and sift all the poisons from the blood, and drive it out of the system. So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting, are the results obtained from the use of Iroxone, that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to cure the worst case of backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders, and overcome the numerous other similar conditions. It is the most wonderful preparation ever made for the purpose. It is entirely different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth to compare with it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You can obtain an original package of Iroxone at trifling cost from any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Iroxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered, or what else has failed to cure you.—Advertisement.
