BEHIND BARS JUST 19 DAYS TOO LONG

Steelton Foreigner Gets Release on Habeas Corpus Proceeding Today

After serving a jail sentence of just nineteen more days than the law allows, Mile Milovic, a Steelton foreigner, this morning was released from prison by President Judge Henry Lebanon, specially presiding in Dauphin County Court, following a habeas corpus proceeding. Milovic was arrested for trespassing on the Pennsylvania Railroad and arraigned before Squire William Kenard, Middletown. The justice of the peace committed him to jail for sixty days and the prison doors closed on Milovic February 27. Attorney W. B. Boyd to-day brought the foreigner into court on a habeas corpus writ, contending that his client was unlawfully and illegally detained for these reasons. The only act under which Milovic could have been committed for trespass is the act of 1905; this act prescribes a penalty of $10 fine and in default of payment, 31 per cent in jail may be imposed until the fine is paid. This would have given Milovic at the most but a ten-day sentence.

Amend Emanuel License Application.—President Judge Kunkel to-day allowed E. E. Beldleman, counsel for Joseph Emanuel, proprietor of the hotel at Washington and Second streets, to amend his application for a re-licensing of the hostelry. In the original application the name of the Pink Brewing Company was inserted instead of B. Leslie Potter. Potter acquired the property since the 1912 application was made. The hotel has been closed since license court. Potter himself has asked to transfer his hotel from the Eighth Ward to the South Harrisburg property.

City Policemen Paid.—The city cops to-day got their vouchers for the first half of March. Approximately $2,500 was paid out.

Additional Time in Ensminger Case.—President Judge Kunkel has allowed John Fox Weiss and J. G. Hatz, counsel for John Ensminger, and Martha Osten additional time in which to file reasons for a new trial. Ensminger and Martha Osten were convicted in March quarter sessions of the crimes growing out of Ensminger's marital infidelity. The usual four-day time limit expired to-day.

Realty Transactions.—Realty transfers to-day included the following: Helen V. Vore to William O. Tyson, Lower Paxton, $4,000; E. C. Henderson to Anna E. Yost, $1; R. V. Loudermilk to Mark Mumma, $10; Anna Yost to Mark Mumma, $1; H. A. Kenker to Mark Mumma, $750; and R. N. Loudermilk to E. C. Henderson, $1, all of Steelton; W. L. Gorgas to James F. Brooke, 1822 Regina street, $3,200; John B. Mastley to E. H. Crum, Conewago township, $3,300; H. E. McCausler to Charles E. Reberick, Riverside, $1,850.

At the Register's Office.—Letters on the estates of Henry I. Hartman and John F. Welker were issued respectively to Thomas M. and March C. Hartman and Hannah M. Welker.

HOLD BOYS ON SUSPICION

Three boys from Lebanon, who were en route to Marysville to get employment, were held up at the police station this morning until they were searched. A number of petty robberies have been reported in Lebanon recently and Chief of Police Zimmerman learned that three boys who had been showing pawn tickets wear en route to Harrisburg by trolley. The boys had very little money on them when searched and said they intended to walk to Marysville. They gave their names as Adam Swartz, 17 years old; Charles Heckert, 17, and Frank Mickey, 16.

YOU and Your HOME

Is your home where you want it? In these days of approach of the robins and the bluebirds don't your thoughts wander to the great outdoors? Think of the city home in the country. Think of having all the conveniences of city life at your beck and call, and yet to be lost in all the beauty of nature. Think of your children having spacious grass-covered plots for unrestrained romp and play.

Think of BELLEVUE PARK

And the spacious, open, quiet setting for a home in

BELLEVUE PARK Costs Less Per Foot Front than in any other of the desirable residence sections of the city.

You have city water where you live—you may have it in Bellevue Park. You have gas—electricity—city schools—city fire and police protection—trolley service to your door—you may have them all in Bellevue Park.

But you don't have sunlight and fresh air on all sides—you don't have beautiful trees—you don't have quiet and solitude—you don't have restful nature nooks to which to retreat—you don't have all that majestic beauty of the great outdoors, which is yours at Bellevue Park.

Choose Bellevue Park for your Saturday afternoon or Sunday walk. Take the Reservoir Park Car direct to the Park, and stroll along its stone walks, wander through Locust Lane, see a bit of Old Japan, and the other reservations that have been set aside for the permanent enjoyment of its residents. Take the family with you—let them vote on the questions as to whether they would rather live in the stuffy city or have you do as many others contemplate doing this Spring—build a HOME in Bellevue Park.
