DO MEN ADMIRE FREAKS?

By Beatrice Fairfax
In Other Words, When Girls Seek to Be Freaks Are the Men to Blame?

Take two girls: Let one dress modestly, refrain from using powder and rouge, and take her walks abroad with no attempt to attract masculine attention. Let the other bleach her hair, paint and wear her dress cut indecently low in the neck and her skirt slit indecently high, and take her walks abroad with the plain intent to attract the men, and which of these girls is the first to get a husband?

pleasure-loving girl? Which class stays at home? or is dependent on father or brother or a girl friend for escort? From which class is recruited the fast-growing army of spinsters?

THREE NICE GIRLS.
"In the neighborhood in which I live," writes a woman, "are three of the nicest and sweetest girls that any one would ever care to know. They are they fashionably, but not extremely so. Also they are good to talk to and to look at, yet I have never seen one go out with a young man. It is not because there are not any nice young men in the neighborhood, but simply that they don't take any interest in these girls."

"In the same neighborhood there lives a girl who is extremely modern in dress and manners. She is an artist in making up her face and bleaching her hair. Yet this girl attracts all the attention, for she is out every Sunday with a different boy, and is popular with all the young men in the neighborhood. The painted lady is taking off somewhere for a ride, or swim or sail with some young man. From what I have seen of the young men of to-day, they do not admire nice, sensible girls."

is it based on fact?
ARE MEN TO BLAME?

"I am twenty-one," writes a lonely hearted girl, "and a good cook and know every detail of housework from the front to the back door. I dress neatly, but can't afford all the late fashions, and have been brought up to modestly to approve of them. I know I have every qualification that makes a good wife and mother, yet men pass me by to court and marry girls who can't tell waffle iron from a vacuum cleaner, but who are authorities on rouge and hair bleach. Don't scold the girls for dressing like freaks. My loneliness is proof that the men are to blame."

"My mother died when I was sixteen," writes another girl, "and for ten years I have kept house for my father. He brings me his wages every Saturday night, and I spend his money so carefully that we have a nest egg laid by for the times when work is slack. I know I would make some man a good wife, and I know also I will never be a wife for the reason that I haven't the tiny waist and doll up and chase the streets looking for a husband."

If girls dress like freaks, who is to blame?
A terrible arrangement that, but

To Put an End to All Superfluous Hair

Advice to Ladies Who Have Been Deceived and Disappointed

By a Specialist

Thousands of ladies and even young girls have learned to their sorrow that it does not pay to trifle with hairy growths on the face and arms by trying to remove them with waxes, pastes, powders and liquid depilatories that smell awfully and burn like mad. A well-known woman who succeeded in entirely and painlessly destroying all trace of her hairy growth has arranged to put on public sale the scientific discovery that cured her after all else failed. It is a simple, inexpensive, harmless and amazingly effective treatment which she has called Mrs. Osgood's Wonder. It never fails to remove all trace of superfluous hair absolutely without pain or injury to the skin or complexion and in a surprisingly large number of cases has killed the hair roots so it has never returned. You can get it from Kennedy's Medicine Store or any up-to-date drugist or department store, on the guarantee of money back if it fails. Ask for it by name, "Mrs. Osgood's Wonder." Signed guarantee with every package. If you have tried all the advertised depilatories in vain and want sure, quick results, this new method deserves your immediate attention. Let me caution you, however, not to apply Mrs. Osgood's Wonder to hair growths you do not wish totally destroyed—Advertisement.

Let Unhealthy Hair Fall Out, Is Madame Ise's Advice

HAIR PROBLEMS OF MIDDLE AGE —PART IV.

The life of a hair is from five to seven years, therefore a certain falling of the hair is natural and should not cause alarm if the scalp is healthy and new hair is pushing out at the same time. Healthy hair is firmly embedded in the hair follicles; it is said that a single hair will stand the strain of four ounces and therefore there is little danger that brushing, shampooing or even pulling the hair will cause it to fall out if it is healthy hair. If it is not healthy, it might as well fall out today as tomorrow, for dead hair must make way for new hair. Do not hesitate to give your hair a prescribed treatment for fear that it will fall out. Only the dead hair will fall. However, after youth hair not only grows more slowly, but the renewal is apt to be less active. For this reason any excessive fall of hair should be investigated and the reason for it discovered and corrected. Avoid scraping and irritating the scalp beyond a healthy glow; you may kill the new hairs just forming.

Look to Your Brush and Comb.

The old rule of brushing the hair a hundred strokes a day is rarely enforced now and I believe that we can get better scalp stimulation by a few minutes massage than by long brushing. However, regular brushing is good for the hair itself; it not only frees it from dust, but it makes it glossy by distributing the oil throughout its whole length. Brush and comb should be kept spotlessly clean, wiped clean every day and thoroughly washed at least once a week. This rule is particularly important when dandruff is present.

CURFEW AT LEBANON

Special to The Telegraph
Lebanon, Pa., April 3.—Lebanon's new curfew law went into effect on Wednesday and a large whistle was sounded for the first time at 9.15 o'clock last evening. Owing to inclement weather there was little trouble in shooting the kiddies home, for very few were in the streets at that hour. Fear of a fine to be imposed upon their parents cleared the moving picture shows as soon as the whistle sounded and the police were not required to report any infractions of the new ordinance.

For Easter Morn

Some of us fast during Lent—some of us don't, but we all agree that there is no better breakfast for Easter or any other morning than mild sugar cured ham or bacon—the kind that leaves a lingering memory of juicy, delicate flavor with just a suggestion of the "tang" of hickory log smoke. That's
