NEW PAROCHIAL SCHOOL BUILDING AT COLUMBIA

Special to The Telegraph

Columbia, Pa., April 3.—The new parochial school of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church has just been completed and will be dedicated after Lent. This new building, which is 60 feet square, contains four large schoolrooms and a gymnasium and recreation room in the basement, which has been equipped for games and various kinds of amusements. The new structure was needed owing to the increasing number of pupils in the schools and was built in accordance with plans arranged by the rector, the Rev. P. J. Costigan, who has been in charge of St. Feter's parish in this place since February 2, 1906. The buildings are on the corner of Second and Union streets, formerly the principal residential section of the borough.

Gallons of Young Trout Planted in State Streams

Special to The Telegraph

Waynesboro, Pa., April 3.—Streams near Waynesboro at a number of places will be good for trout fishing some day as the result of many young fish being planted yesterday. About 290 gallons of young fish, fifty fish to the gallon, were planted by Edwin Hoeflich, Allen Smith, John Wyncop, Harvey Thompson and Benjamil Lease.

John Miller, Marsh district, received a can of fish yesterday and planted them in the streams of that vicinity. Russell Bumgardner, north of Waynesboro, also received a can of fish and put them in the stream near his home. The fish were sent to Waynesboro from the fish hatcheris at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

PEACH FAILURE INDICATED

Special to The Telegraph
Marietta, Pa., April 3.—From latest indications the peach crop in Lancaster county will be a total failure. The other fruit trees have suffered severely
the past winter and the famous Engle farms, near town, which always gave lots of fruit, will not contain any the coming season. There will be more potatoes planted in the county this year than for many years, as many of the land owners will not plant tobacco as heretofore.
