YORK BOOSTERS WERE MUCH IN EVIDENCE

President Graham and Others Injected Loads of Ginger With Their Addresses

Special to The Telegraph

York, Pa., April 8.—As a result of the big banquet held here last night, 200 businessmen and fans promised their earnest support to the Tri-State game this season.

It was the first event of the kind ever held in this city. President George M. Graham, head of the Tri-State, was among the honor guests.

President Graham made a powerful argument for baseball as a business proposition for, in his mind, nothing advances a community like a professional ball team. He was convinced of this, he said, when, on his trip through the South, he saw what strenuous efforts small towns had put forth to induce league teams to train there.

In cities like York, a whole season's business means but the expenditure of a few thousand dollars, but it means advertising and profit hundreds of thousands, said Mr. Graham.

Ex-District Attorney Ray P. Sherrill and ex-District Attorney Allen C. West delivered short addresses, in which they paid a tribute to the ability of Manager George W. Heckert.

Manager Heckert was also complimented by President Graham, who said that he had passed through all of the storms of Tri-State days and was the only one of the old managers left.

President James J. Gerry, of the York Athletic Association, complimented the committee who had arranged the "boosters' day" banquet, and bespoke success for the coming Tri-State season.

Others who were present and made short addresses were H. S. Schmidt, ex-president of the York association; Calfee, State Manager; George W. Heckert, Charles Kellifer, coach of the Albright College baseball team; Leroy Reaves, secretary to President Tener, and others.

Those who had the boosters' banquet in charge were James J. Grey, George W. Heckert, manager; George L. Stalman, Stuart LaFae and Bert Averill. Among those present was George Cockill, manager of the Harrisburg team.

Phillies Again Losers; Bob Shawkey a Factor

Special to The Telegraph

Philadelphia, April 8.—The Phillies lost again yesterday, the Athletics nosing out a victory, score 2 to 1. "Bob" Shawkey, the former Harrisburger, was a big factor. Pennock also did good work. The score by innings:

Philadelphia 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 — 1 8 0
Athletics 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 — 2 4 0
Batteries: Alexander, Jacobs, Kilmer and Burns; Shawkey, Pennock and Lapp.

Booster Luncheon Is Planned; Commerce Directors Take It UpFollowing This Event Which Will Be Held Within the Next Two Weeks Another Big Time Is Promised

Advertising a city with a baseball club will be one of a number of timely questions to be discussed at a luncheon to be held under the auspices of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce on or about April 20.

Plans for this important meeting, which will inaugurate a boosting campaign in the interest of the Tri-State baseball team, were discussed at a meeting of the directors of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce held this afternoon. Members of the Chamber of Commerce with whom

Methodist Athletes Receive Their Letters; Scrubs Are Included

Members of the board of governors last night at their regular monthly meeting discussed plans for further road improvements and decided to again issue warnings to autoists and motorcycle owners regarding violations of the city traffic ordinance.

Road drags will be sent to various parts of the county for the improvement of dirt roads. In the vicinity of Penbrook and Lingelstot good work has already been accomplished by the members of the club. The road from West Fairview to Enola was reported to have been repaired at a cost of $1,000. The road from the village to the town of the day.

Reports were presented showing that North Front street was being used as a speedway by autoists and motorcycle owners and letters will be sent to them to advise them of the rules of the road.

The regulars received a large "M" and the members of the scrubs team, who won the Class C championship, were awarded the monogram "MC".

When the awards were given, the name of the champion was changed to Mercury team and Murray Washburn was elected as manager.

The following players received letters:

James Thomas, forward and captain; A. Winn, forward and center; Fred Rudy, guard and center; Robert Flickinger, guard; John Yoder, forward; John Meindgen, guard; Leslie Hall, guard; Earl Flickinger, manager; Scrub players: Robert Thomas, forward; Emil Hall, forward; Earl Flickinger, center; Paris Rupp, guard; Harry Long, guard; Fulmer Crane, substitute, and W. R. Winn, manager.

Tech High Juniors Elect New Captain

Winning his "T" by good work on the junior basketball team at the Technical high school and doing special work on the varsity five as a substitute, won for Wili Scherer the honor of being elected captain of the senior team next season.

The members of the junior class met yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium and after winding up business for the year and approving the awards for letters held the election.

The juniors won the championship of the school at basketball this season and will get into the game early next season.

PENN WANTS DICKSON AS ASSISTANT COACH

Special to The Telegraph

Philadelphia, April 8.—On Tuesday next the major league season will open and a big event will be pulled off at the Phillies park.

Governor Tener "dropped in" for a social call on Mayor Blankenburg in the City Hall yesterday and incidentally invited the city's executive to pitch the first ball at the opening game at the Phillies' grounds next week. The Mayor accepted the invitation.

We merely passed the pleasantness of the season," said the Governor. He jokingly added the information that the Killifer case was not discussed.

The Governor, as president of the National League, is keenly interested in the suit now pending in the Michigan courts over Catcher Killifer, of the Phillies, for whom the Federal League has made a claim.

MOONLIGHT ENDS CONTEST; THIRTEEN-INNING TIE

Special to The Telegraph

Burlington, N. J., April 8.—Moonlight ended a thrilling 13-inning game last evening after Burlington High School and Brown Preparatory School batters battled since the tenth inning to break a tie score of 2 to 2. The contest was the most brilliantly fought and game witnessed on the local diamond in recent seasons.

Brown men led the scoring by sending Twaddell over the plate in the opening of the fourth. Burlington tallied with a run by Probasco in the latter half of the same inning, and the score stood without change until the tenth, when Brown again scored.

Burlington tied again in a sensational jolt with two out and two strikes, when Warburton scored from third on a squeeze play. The game continued until called by darkness, the last inning being played by moonlight.
