COURTS SEND KILLIFER TO PHILLIES

CATCHER BILL KILLIFER

Killifer, whose services have been awarded to the Philadelphia National League team, under a suit brought by the Federal League to restrain him from playing with the Quakers, is a backstop of rare merit and is believed by many to be crowding the leaders in his class for superiority. In spite of the fact that the Feds lost Killifer, they consider that they won a big victory when Judge Sessions in handing down his decision declared the all leagues free to sign with whatever club they please after the contracts at present in force expire.

DIVIDED DECISION IN KILLIFER CASE

Feds Will Not Be Able to Hold Other Players; Governor Is Pleased

Declaring the old reserve rule in the major leagues void, Judge Clarence W. Sessions yesterday at Grand Rapids, Mich., gave the Federals a little hope. Announcement is made that only those players who had not been signed under a new contract and revise reserve rule, could be retained by the outlaws.

Philadelphia fared well in being allowed to retain Killifer, and it is now understood that the National League, the heaviest losers in the recent deals, will start suits to recover those players they are entitled to by the decision yesterday. Referring to the decision Governor John K. Tener, president of the National League, said last night: "Judge Sessions' decision in the Killifer case is timely, and its effect will be far reaching and beneficial to baseball. Naturally, the Philadelphia Club and organized baseball are much pleased with the result which they won in the defending their interests and not as claimants for the services of a dissatisfied player or players. The supporters of organized ball and National League players may rest assured that no effort will be spared to maintain the game on the highest plane through organization, and protect the players who remain loyal to their respective clubs."

The decision holds that the contract

Plan Four-club Circuit For the Valley League

Hagerstown, Md., April 11.—With Hagerstown, Frederick and Martinsburg signed up to join the new Cumberland Valley Baseball League, effort will be made to get Chambersburg to come in and form a four-team league. The three towns agreed to enter the league at a meeting of the representatives held in this city deciding that the league shall be under the rules of class D of the National Baseball Commission. This will throw safeguards around the individual teams and insure proper discipline.

According to previous action, the salary limit of each team per month will be $750. A delegation from the three towns will go to Chambersburg next month to confer with the manager of that team.

Annual Call to Amateur Managers

Future grants are warning up for the coming baseball season, and will soon be in the field for honors. The Harrisburg Telegraph desires to keep in close touch with all amateur teams and games. Managers are requested to send in at once the names of their team, manager and captain, with their addresses.

Jack Dunn's Baltimore Yanigans Were Too Well Seasoned; Benedict a Star

"AMBITION"
"Ambition," the new play with music, written by Ashley Miller, with music composed by Alfred Solimon, and produced by all who are competent to judge, is a dramatic gem, is not in any sense of the word to be classed with the ordinary musical comedy, opera, or even with drama wherein there are songs introduced in certain scenes of the play.—Advertisement.

TRAINED NURSES COMING

To-night witnesses the passing engagement of Hyams and McIntyre at the Orpheum. These two musical comedy stars were supported by an unusual array of talent and the offering, which proved a most successful one, will make its exit to a capacity house to-night, the management says. Next week Jesse L. Lasky's "Trained Nurses" appear as the big Easter week feature. This delightful musical comedy has been headlined in every important theater in the eastern part of the country since its engagement at the Orpheum, and there it will be a tremendous drawing card here next week is already assured.

PALACE THEATER

At the Palace, Monday, J. Warren Kerrigan will be featured in a Victor drama, "A Woman's Honor." In the drama Mr. Kerrigan plays the part of the wood-cutter who befriends a strange woman found alone in the hills. He takes her home to his wife. Later he becomes sick with fever. The woman, fearing the wife will catch the disease, nurses him herself. Later the wood-cutter is the means of saving her honor.

Pauline Bush, Murdock J. MacDuarrie and Lou Clayton will appear in a Gold Seal three-reel drama fashioned after Beethoven's life entitled "Record and Harmony." It is that. This play is a Gold Seal masterpiece, and Miss Bush's part in the play is far above even the known ideal of what a moving picture actress should be expected to do. She conveys sentiment and emotion, not through deliberate action or movement, but almost wholly through the "windows of the soul," and by means of her expressive and eloquent hands. Murdock J. MacDuarrie is especially noted for his ability at makeup and plays the role of the composer, fashioned after the life of Beethoven. The ending of this picture drama is rife with pathos.

Donald MacDonald and Vera Sisson will also appear in Powers comedy, "Two Much Married," a comedy that will bring forth laughter showing how Dippel is arrested trying to get to his wedding. Pear White in a "Crystal comedy" entitled "The Fat and Thin of It." This is absolutely the funniest and most amusing farce in a decade, featuring the most amusing characters in a conglomeration of real laugh-producing scenes.—Advertisement.
