

SULPHUR IS SURE TO RELIEVE ITCHING ECZEMA

An Ounce of Bold-Sulphur Cream and Heal Skin Eruptions Right Up

Any breaking out or irritation on face, arms, legs or body when accompanied by itching, or when the skin is dry and feverish, can be readily overcome by applying a little bold-sulphur cream, says a noted dermatologist. He informs us that bold-sulphur cream instantly allays the angry itching and soothes and heals the inflamed skin right up leaving the skin clear and smooth. Bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position for many years in the treatment of cutaneous disorders because of its parasite-destroying property. Nothing has ever been found to take its place in treating the itchy and inflammatory skin affections. While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to drive the itching irritation and drive Eczema away and it is often years before any eruption again appears on the skin. Those troubled should obtain at any pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream which is applied to the affected parts in the same manner as an ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded, particularly in itching Eczema, proves very welcome.—Advertisement.

BEGIN WORK ON THE NEW HEMMELL BLDG. NEXT WEEK

Plans are being completed by the Construction Company of Philadelphia, to begin early next week on construction of the new L. S. Hemmell grade school building at 5th and Catherine streets. The structure, it is expected, will be ready for occupancy by January 1. No formal ceremonies incident to the laying of the cornerstone will be held but there will be appropriate exercises in the Spring when the building will be formally dedicated.

CHILDREN FILL MOUTHS WITH MARBLES; BOTH ARE DEAD

Wareham, Mass., April 11.—Sheridan and Verly Russ, children of about 10 years, tried last night to see which could stuff the most marbles into his mouth. The result was fatal to both. The child died black in the face and ran to their mother. She was unable to extract the marbles, but the children died a short time later. Physicians said they had been frightened to death.

Pay Homage to Mother's Friend

I am not surprised to observe the number of men who come into the store to purchase 'Mother's Friend,' remarked a druggist. An expectant mother if she hasn't read of this splendid embrocation is likely not reading the papers to much effect. And if she does it is a happy omen to send hubby to the drug store. 'Mother's Friend' is applied externally to the abdominal muscles. It is a gentle, soothing lubricant, penetrates to the fine network of nerves in the skin and has a marked tendency to relieve the muscular strain which these broad, flat abdominal muscles are subjected. The cords, tendons and ligaments are thus permitted to run without the corresponding surface so often involved during the period of pregnancy. And particularly to young mothers is this remedial application of value since in this keeping the muscles firm but pliant it enables them to go through the ordeal without the strain of the epidermis often the case in this gentle attention is neglected. 'Mother's Friend' is highly recommended by a host of women. Write to the Regulator Co., 408 Lamar Bldg., St. Ga., and we will send you a little book to expectant mothers.

TENER WILL FIND OUT THE ASSETS

schedule of assets. It is the plan to obtain figures on every piece of property, real, personal and mixed, to which the State has title and to appraise it at a fair market value. The heads of departments, of institutions owned or controlled by the State, everyone administering property in which the State has an equity, is to be asked to furnish a list of the property and their ideas of valuation. The commission will also have its own appraisal made. The commission will make a report to the Governor this Fall.

Just what this appraisal will show no two people on Capitol Hill think alike. It will amount to millions, probably thirty, maybe forty. The sinking fund, which is hard cash in bank and earning interest, will more than wipe out the debt, which amounts to probably $625,000. The State could pay off every cent of obligation due and have probably $200,000 left over if the holders would only present the bonds, and it had authority to stop paying interest to itself on the half million of State College bonds which it has in the Treasury.

Money Ahead at Start

So that, starting with no debt and money in the bank, the State's newest commissioners, who will serve without pay, will have to appraise the State Capitol and its wealth of furnishings, paintings and other things, on which probably $15,000,000 was spent; then the Capitol Hill project and the $1,150,000 of properties bought in park extension, the executive mansion and the State Arsenal and other properties in Harrisburg, together with such automobiles and road building equipment, military stores and dear know what that is located here. Then there will be over a million acres of forest reserves appraised and thirty-five armories located in various parts of the State; three or four fish hatcheries and some tugs and motorboats, together with certain riparian rights. Then will come the State hospitals and institutions; State College and Scotland Orphans' School; the charitable and educational institutions which the State owns in part and the hospitals, colleges and other establishments against which the State has liens; the normal schools now owned by the State, including the West Chester property, which may be worth nearly a million, and those against which the State has a claim. Next will come bridges, testing stations, highway equipment, agricultural experimenting apparatus and office furniture in various parts of the State. Also the State school fund.

The beauty of the appraisal will be that the State will know just what it owns and as appropriations are made hereafter they can be added to the value and the government run like a great corporation which it really is.

was receiving free transportation and making the remarkable assertion that the sending of this free transportation was in accord with "invariable custom." Inasmuch as many remember when Colonel Guffey's use of free tickets was considered a near-capital offense by the reorganizers this statement has a singular ring to it to Harrisburgers.

Caravan Gets Home

The machine caravan, spellbinders, campaign thunder, attendance adding machine and all the rest will get back to Harrisburg to-day for a few days' rest after having been dragged through twenty counties and encountering early Spring frosts. The caravan comes home at a sad time because of the various scandals and the prospects of a row at the State committee meeting and a big Ryan rally looming up. The Ryanites are making strenuous efforts to have a crowd at Chestnut Street Hall next Saturday, but the machinists say that it will be a poor affair, and that only the men who are sore at the present leadership will be on hand. The reorganizers are saying that if the Ryan men do not do better with what they have at their hands than they did at the State delegate election battle in 1912, there will be a whopping big majority for McCormick in his home city.

A Pottsville View

A special dispatch from Pottsville to the Philadelphia Press gives the following about the activities of Wilson Bailey in Schuylkill: "The statement given out last night from Democratic county headquarters in Schuylkill county has received demands for contributions of 5 per cent of their salaries from the Democratic State committee doubtless will insure the investigation of campaign contributions asked for by Senator Penrose and Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer during the last week. It is now charged that Wilson Bailey, said to have been an agent of the State Democratic committee, visited Postmasters James Kingsbury, of Pottsville; E. Max Hirsch, of Tamaqua, and James Durkin, of Frackville, in his tour of this county in search of funds the latter part of last January. He introduced himself by presenting his personal card, it is said, with 'Democratic State Headquarters' engraved beneath his name."

Penrose Comments

Senator Penrose found considerable delight yesterday in commenting upon the fresh attacks upon the Democratic State committee in purchasing free transportation, it is evident that it is getting money from somewhere—from the federal officeholders or elsewhere. It is well known that transportation runs into large amounts," said he. The senator then took up the Schuylkill county charges. "I am every day reared of additional information in offices under the present administration," he said. "The charge is that 5 per cent of the salary has been stipulated prior to the appointment and that printed blanks emanating from the Democratic State committee have been issued to be signed by the prospective appointee promising to pay these amounts. Letters from the Democratic State committee will be produced indicating participation in these proceedings, together with efforts to collect the money within the precincts of federal buildings, contrary to the penal laws of Congress. Information has been voluntarily submitted with respect to this practice in four or five congressional districts. At the proper time in case the investigation is started, subpoenas will be issued for the parties concerned."

SUNDAY

Baseball

Now every one is playing it—on the diamond, on the bleachers, or on the Sports' Page of the Public Ledger.

The Sunday Ledger will have two pages of baseball stuff—pictures and stories. The pictures will show the players in action, not merely posing before the camera. The stories tell how things are with each team—a page for the Phillies—a page for the Athletics.

It's going to be a baseball year, and you want to get it right from the start.

100 Years

One hundred years ago this summer, Uncle Sam and John Bull signed up to quit fighting and be good. This peace was signed at Ghent, but nobody knew then that these two nations were arranging for such a long peace.

Warwick J. Price, who knows all about it, has written an interesting page to tell what he knows. This long peace will be celebrated this summer not only in Ghent, but in Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, London and other places.

Hayti

There are good business chances on the islands of Hayti and San Domingo for young American business men, according to Roger C. Babson, the well-known lightning calculator.

He has been down there looking around, and the result is a whole page of facts and figures about the industrial possibilities of these two fruitful and rapidly growing islands. All they need is American money and American "get-up-and-git."

Napoleon

History says that Napoleon lost the Battle of Waterloo because one of his Field Marshals was five minutes late.

After the war was over a number of his officers moved to Philadelphia—though not the Field Marshal who was late.

The Public Ledger will celebrate the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Battle of Waterloo with a full page illustrated story of the descendants of these refugee French Generals now living in and about Philadelphia. This is one of the things that will make next Sunday's Ledger a paper not to be missed.
