Local Shopmen Hopeful That It Public Service Commission Gives Orders About Commodity Rates in State

> The Public Service Commission has issued an order that all utility com-panies doing business in Pennsylvania must file at the office of the commission by June 1 copies of all tariffs issued by them in effect on January 1. In addition there must be filed all supplements and amendments so that the commission will have a record of all prices, rates, etc., for service ren-dered, and, if a common carrier, the dered, and, if a common carrier, the manner of distributing trains, cars, boats or other means of transportation, together with rules and regulations that affect rates or distribution of facilities. The notice states that the filing is not to be construed as approval or waiver of any authority of the commission.

A ruling has also been made that common carriers are authorized, upon reasonable request, to publish commodity rates on one day's notice to the commission and the public from and to intermediate points which do not exceed those in effect from or to the next distant point named in the tariff, provided no advance is made in existing rates. This is to avoid confusion and burden in making commodity rates requiring wide publication.

Health Board Routs Epidemic of Fever

Although it is now believed there is no danger of an extensive epidemic of scarlet fever, statistics of the Health Board, issued to-day, show that there were twelve more cases of the disease last month than there were in the whole of the year 1913. Painstaking investigation of reported cases, and prompt methods of quarantine enabled the Board of Health's experts to check a virulent outbreak of the disease.

There are still a number of cases, but it is now believed that the epidemic will subside. There were thirty-five cases in Harrisburg last month, and only twenty-three the whole of 1913. During March the following cases of contagious diseases were reported: Typhoid fever, 3; chickenpox, 47; diptheria, 8; measles, 51; German measles, 60; whooping cough, 18; pneumonia, 5; mumps, 12.

With simple, but impressive services, Joshua Strouse was buried in the new Mount Moriah Cemetery this afternoon, The Rev. Charles J. Freund, of Ohev Sholem Temple, officiated. Burial was relief. Shotem Temple, vision of the pallbearers were close friends of the deceased, and included: Al Simms, Simon Hirsh, Jacob Lowengard, Herman Tausig, Samuel Kades and Al Wormser.
