EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly back-ache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Advertisement.

CAPTAIN DAN POWERS AND HIS LOG CABIN HOME

Oldest Riverman in State Lives in Old Log Cabin

Captain Daniel Power, Eighty-six Years Old, Has Been Celebrated Raft Pilot, Soldier and Marksman

Marysville, Pa., April 17. — About two miles west of town, between the big and little mountains, lives Daniel Powers, the oldest riverman in Pennsylvania, and believed by many to be the oldest in the United States.

"Cap'n Dan," as he is familiarly known, was born on April 10, 1828, at Swatara Gap, Lebanon county. Early in his life Dan showed a liking for the river, and in 1845, when only 17 years of age, he piloted his first raft down the Susquehanna. During his lifetime it is estimated that he piloted over 3,000 rafts down the river between Lock Haven and Marietta. In addition he piloted many large canal boats.

Before he had been on the river many years, Dan came to be known as one of the best raftsmen on the river, and his services were always in demand. When any lumberman wanted a raft taken down the Susquehanna at its worst time, he would call on "Cap'n Dan," for Dan always delighted in doing hazardous pieces of rafting which others refused to perform.

In one instance "Cap'n Dan" made $75 for one and one-quarter hours' work, exactly $1 per minute. A large lumber dealer wished to have two large rafts taken down the river when it was very low. He had hired another raftsmen to bring them down. This man got along all right until he came to Heckton Mills. At this place he had to run his rafts between two

GRIPPE PREVALENT

How to Regain Strength After a Severe Attack.

With so much gripe prevalent this winter a few words of advice regarding its cause and treatment will not be out of place.

Gripe is an infectious disease easily taken when the system is in a tired or run-down condition.

The best means of prevention are to keep the blood in good healthy condition, and if the system gets into a weak, run-down condition, take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic.

A lady from Long Branch, N. J., says: "Grippe left me in a nervous, weakened run-down condition. After taking three bottles of Vinol I am better and stronger than I have been for years, and I cheerfully recommend it to all who have suffered from the gripe and need strength." (Name furnished on request.)

We have never sold in our store such a valuable strength creator and health restorer for the convalescent, the weak and run-down as Vinol, and your money will be returned if it does not do all we claim for it. George A. Gorgas, druggist, Harrisburg, Pa. Vinol is sold in Steelton by T. Powell.

To Put an End to All Superfluous Hair

Advice to Ladies Who Have Been Deceived and Disappointed

By a Specialist

Thousands of ladies and even young girls have been deceived and disappointed by the use of hair removing preparations. They have been told that they could remove their hair by using a cream or ointment, and they have been disappointed. The hair grows back thicker and more abundant than before.

A well-known woman who succeeded in removing her hair permanently, has arranged to put on public sale the scientific discovery that cured her. It is a simple, inexpensive, harmless and amazingly effective remedy, which she has called Mrs. Osgood's Wonder. It never fails to remove all trace of superfluous hair absolutely, whether on the face, neck, arms or legs, and in a surprising large number of cases has killed the hair roots so it has never returned.

You can get it from Kennedy's Medicine Store or any up-to-date druggist or department store. Ask for it by name, "Mrs. Osgood's Wonder." Signed guarantee with every package. If you have tried all the advertised depilatories in vain and want sure, quick results, this new method deserves your immediate attention. Let me caution you, however, not to apply Mrs. Osgood's Wonder to hair growths you do not wish totally destroyed.

OWES HIS LIFE TO THIS LUNG REMEDY

A lingering cough or cold which does not yield to ordinary treatment, should be a warning. Preventative measures should be taken, at once. In many cases, Eckman's Alternative has brought about recovery. Read this:

775 St. John's Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Gentlemen:—In the year of 1903 I was taken with a heavy cold and a nasty short cough; consequently I failed in health. I then went to the Catskills and seemed to get better, but the cough still kept up. I stayed there for one year, and then went to a farm near Jersey City, a very sick man. About the time of my return, my brother recommended Eckman's Alternative very highly. It is now nearly two years since I first took it. I am now well, and I dare say that I would have been buried long ago if it had not been for Eckman's Alternative. (Abbreviated.)

Eckman's Alternative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and upbuilding the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Sold by leading druggists. Write Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet of recoveries.—Advertisement.

the second. In this little cabin he lives the life of a hermit, as contented as a man as can be found anywhere.

During the ten years he has lived at this place no one has lived with him. Up until last winter he remained in his little home the year round. Last year's severe winter, with old age creeping on, caused him to desert his little log cabin and go to live with his daughter at West Fairview, but as soon as warmer weather came, Dan came back to Marysville saying, "Here I have lived for ten years and here I will die."

He attributes his long life to his careful diet. He will never eat rich food, living entirely on plain food, such as mush, potatoes, meat, eggs and vegetables. Nothing will persuade him to taste strong drink of any kind, saying, "I have gotten along the rocks with scarcely an inch margin on either side. Other instances in which Dan made $4 and $5 per day are common.

Dan was also well known as one of the best marksmen in Pennsylvania. When his work took him to any place at which a shooting match was to be held, Dan was happier; but he was still happier when time permitted him to take part in the matches himself.

At a two days' match in Center county on the morning of the first day's shoot Dan sold his trusty old gun and purchased another rusty affair. He set about to get this in condition for the match. That day's match was close and not until the final shot was fired was Dan nosed out by a hair-breadth, by the then champion of that section. Dan did all this with an old gun which he had purchased just six hours before the match. At the supper table the winner began to brag of his victory and aroused the ire of old Dan. He went to a friend and borrowed $100. Then he challenged him to a match for $100 a side, to be held before the regular match began. This contest has never been forgotten in Center county. Dan won easily by putting three bullets through the center of the mark, and just for good measure, he walked off with first prize in the following match.

When the Civil War broke out "Cap'n Dan" joined the Union army. During the war he rendered valiant service.

For many years now Dan has been unable to follow the work that he loved. After he was obliged to give up rafting, he purchased several farms in Perry, Cumberland and Dauphin counties, which are said to have aggregated over 2,500 acres. As a farmer Dan was a huge success, but as a financier he was a failure. By judicious investments his estate has dwindled to almost nothing. Now he makes his home on a little plot of ground belonging to E. B. Leiby, of Marysville.

Attached to his home, is a small plot of ground, on which he raises a large part of his supplies. On many days in Fall, Dan can be seen in the woods gathering berries, and roots, which he sells in this place. Dan, with his basket of mountain products, is a common sight on the streets of Marysville.

For the past ten years Dan has made his home in a little log cabin on this plot of ground, living altogether by himself. His cabin contains a small room on the first floor and another on

MONTGOMERY AND STONE

"The Lady of the Slipper," said to be an especially well equipped musical show, will play matinee and evening performances at the Majestic Saturday. It ran for a whole season at the Globe Theater, New York, with no empty seats at any performance. There are a dozen well-known principals in the cast. The bright particular stars, of course, are Montgomery and Stone, old friends who need no further introduction to local theatergoers, for individually and collectively Messrs. Montgomery and Stone have banished the "blues" from many a "tired business man" in past performances of "The Wizard of Oz," "The Red Mill" and "The Old Town."

"THE BLINDNESS OF VIRTUE"

"The Blindness of Virtue," which will be seen at the Majestic Theater Monday and Tuesday, with matinee on Tuesday, is a comedy with a strong situation introduced for the purpose of striking home to parents a duty they owe their daughters. Physicians and school authorities agree that the time has arrived when girls must be instructed in the knowledge of motherhood. The play emphasizes this fact powerfully. It has received the unqualified endorsement of the better

PALACE THEATER

King Baggot, as King, the Detective, in "The Marine Mystery," an imp two-reel drama, will be shown at the Palace Saturday. This is the beginning of another great detective play that is being written, directed and acted by King Baggot, and it gets one guessing from the jump; who is this man dressed like a sailor, but with soft hands? True, there is a tan to his skin, but the tan is an odd one. The fellow keeps brushing his hand over his lip, which only a short time previous had a mustache. That is the clue. But King picks up others and succeeds in clearing up a strange mystery in which an Asia victims turns out to be a rich broker. Also Lincoln J. Carter's great melodrama, by 101 Bison, in two reels, entitled "Two Little Waifs." This is one of those plays which reaches the heart—which carries one through a series of saddening and interesting incidents that leaves the spectator smiling with pleased reflection. The action tells the unusual and gripping life-story of two girls, orphaned at an early age and separated. Recluse Western drama, "A Tale of the Desert," will also be shown. Max Ashes, Louise Fazenda and Bob Vernon will conclude the program. In a Joker comedy, "The Head Waiter"—Advertisement.

"TRAINED NURSES"

The Orpheum's bill has made a hit. Headed off with Lasky's "Trained Nurses," the current bill seems to be the town's chief topic. Were this delightful comedy, with music, the lone attraction at the Orpheum this week, it would be well worth the time and price in vogue there. However, this is not the case, for the bill from first to last is really clever and well balanced. Some of the most interesting features include a musical filtration called "Locked Out," offered by two pleasing and clever players, Lambert and Bain.—Advertisement.

AT THE COLONIAL

In connection with the corking vaudeville bill that is holding forth at the Colonial these days, the popular Country Store feature will be a part of both of to-night's performances. Many valuable as well as many comedy gifts will be distributed as usual.—Advertisement.
