By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

"I have a full size picture of Athens, and am just placing it in it, instead of the crescent moon, a fine view of the Parthenon, and back of her head in the distance a view of our State Capitol here. Together making a fine scheme for the purpose I have in mind: to represent Athens having come to Nashville, and she is shown in the picture as admiring the city and the beautiful Parthenon in Central Park.

"What I want to impress these modern mortals with is the fact that Athens to the Greeks was all the other goddesses, to all the other nations, and is our own dear Madonna—the Mother of Jesus and that they must not lose sight of the fact, and as it were return to idolatry. You have heard of the camp fire girls—hundreds of them here forming a camp fire club, and so tramping over the country, building fires—and going through with their rites of fire worship. Now these are young girls and may be led to take wrong views of such things which are in fact, and as it were return to idolatry. You have heard of the camp fire girls—hundreds of them here forming a camp fire club, and so tramping over the country, building fires—and going through with their rites of fire worship. "Editor of a Southern Magazine." Athens to the Greeks was the goddess of all the sciences and knowledge. She represented the clear upper air and clear mentality.

Sun Worship the Oldest Idea of Religion

She was the goddess of righteous war against wrong. Her robe was a storm cloud and her spear a shaft of lightning. The Romans identified her with Minerva.

It requires a somewhat strained effort of the imagination to identify her with Mary the Mother of Christ. Sun worship is the oldest idea of religion which can be found in historical research.

In the east continent of Atlantis sun worship prevailed, and the remnants of the 64,000,000 people who perished in a day by the great cataclysm which swept away this continent found their way to Egypt and to Mexico and other portions of the globe, and wherever they went the worship of the sun was established.

It is not a very wicked worship after all.

The woman who is a sun worshiper rises with the sun, saying: "Thou, God, rise, I too, rise from my bed." Every morning a true Brahmin stands with his hands held out before him, and his face turned to the sun in a few moments of silent worship. How many of our church members give as much time to God upon rising? The American Indians, and almost all sun worshippers. They thought of the sun as their father. Fire worship is a sort of outgrowth of sun worship, and both are based on the gratitude of the human heart for light and warmth and sustenance.

An erudite man says Holy is a word which is derived from the same root as "holiness" and "holiness" is the sun, and "Holy Books" are really sun books. All ancient Holy days were sun days. Long and long ago, thousands of years before the Christian era, the week beginning December 22 was set apart for festivals because the sun on that ancient people knew that the sun reaches the farthest point in its descent to what is known as the Tropic of Capricorn. There the sun seems to be delayed, because it is impossible to obtain measurements of the actual return for three days, on account of the obtuse angle at that turn. The people of early times believed the sun was being dragged into infernal regions at that point.

Symbols of Ancients Have Been Handed Down to Us.

They prayed and used sacrifices to help the Sun God overcome his adversaries. On the third day the re-birth of the Sun God was celebrated with great rejoicing.

Therefore, it is easy to see that Christmas Week has always had its peculiar religious significance.

The symbols of the ancients were very beautiful and almost all our Christian symbols and ceremonies can be traced back to them.

Sufficiently studied to be understood, it will be found that these symbols and customs of the people who worshipped the starry heavens and the sun and moon and elements of nature were all moral uplifts. Industry, reverence, and the adoration of beauty in nature, and worship of the Great Unknown Power back of all this, were among them, and many more admirable elements were included in the religion of the "Idolaters."

If our Camp Fire Girl indulges in sun worshiping or fire worshiping rites and lifts her heart and soul to the same altitude of devout reverence which marked the ceremonies of the true Idolater of those long gone times, she will be serving our God and our Christ quite as practically as if she attended church in some fashionable enclosure and allowed her mind to be distracted by her neighbors who went forth to indulge in criticism of her fellow creatures, or to adorn herself with plumage, bead birds and skins of dead animals.

We Should Be Broad in Our Devotion to Our Own Creeds

In order to perform her rites to the sun our Camp Fire Girl, of that orb, is she not living a more wholesome life than if she remained in a darkened room all day long, to drink her coffee in bed, hurry into her fashionable church clothes and proceed to service indoors?

Let us be reasonable, broad and consistent in our devotion to our own creeds.

All religious feeling, when sincere, is caused by man's love and reverence of Unseen Powers which created the universe.

It does not matter in what form it expresses itself, so long as it treats love for the Maker and the Made in the heart which holds it.

PICTURESQUE STYLE FOR A YOUNG GIRL

Figured Foulards Are Given the Preference For Summer Frocks

8206 Tunic Dress for Misses and Small Women, 16 and 18 years.

WITH TWO-PIECE SKIRT, WITH TUNIC THAT CAN BE GATHERED AT THE LOWER LEG AND FINISHED WITH FRILL OR LEFT PLAIN.

Small women and young girls are sure to welcome this design. It is essentially youthful in its lines and effect, it is in the very height of style, it is adapted to a very generous variety of materials and it requires so little labor that it need not daunt the busiest woman. The blouse is in peasant style, all in one piece drawn up at the neck and front edges, and the one-piece tunic is joined to it. The skirt is separate and attached to a belt. The frock of foulard illustrated is very attractive and very useful but it is easy to think of such a model made from any one of the fashionable silks or a pretty cotton material, or again, the blouse and tunic could be of one color and the skirt of another, as plain or striped color over white or any effect of the sort. As shown here, the frill of the tunic is simply hemmed but a pretty effect can be obtained by lining all the frills with a contrasting color.

For the 16 year size, the dress will require 5 1/2 yds. of material 27, 5 yds. 39, 3 3/4 yds. 44 in. wide. The width of the skirt at the lower edge is 1 yd. and 16 in.

The pattern of the dress 8206 is cut in sizes for 16 and 18 years. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents.

Writes of the Beautifying and Tonic Effects of the Bath

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE BATH IN BEAUTY CULTURE.

As we learn more of the scientific principles underlying beauty hygiene many old time ideas lose their value. The beauties of the Middle Ages placed great value on baths of wine and asses milk, believing that they made the skin fair and white. The slightly stimulating and whitening effect of a wine bath we could better get today with an alcohol rub, and there are emollient creams more beneficial to the skin than a bath of milk. The true place of the bath in beauty culture is in keeping the body clean, shedding off of dead skin and promoting circulation.

A dozen to twenty years ago baths of hot air or steam were in great favor with beauty devotees, and the Turkish and Russian baths have their adherents to day. In moderation and under certain conditions they are beneficial, but not to the extent once believed.

A prolonged bath at a high temperature is cleansing by reason of the activity it promotes in the sweat glands, but it is also very drying to the skin and should be avoided by the woman whose skin is inclined to wrinkle easily. A thick, sallow, dull skin may be improved by this treatment.

Turkish Bath Not Reducing.

The belief that the Turkish bath is reducing has proven to be a fallacy. The hot bath will only relieve the body of water which is renewed as soon as the patient begins to drink. We are inclined to drink as we perspire, and that is why the system needs much more water in summer than in winter. To reduce we must get rid of fat, or turn fat to muscle and this can only be done by exercise or changing the diet, not by any form of bathing.

Annville, Pa., April 20.—Miss Kate Walmer, of Railroad street, and Morton Tarbet, of Kansas City, Mo., were married on Saturday evening by the Rev. Paul D. Witman, of the First Lutheran Church. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride.

AMUSEMENTS

MAJESTIC
This Afternoon and Night—"The Blindness of Virtue."
To-morrow, Matinee and Night—Richard Carle and Hattie Williams in "The Doll Girl."
Thursday, Matinee and Night—"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."
Friday, Matinee and Night, April 24—Firemen's Minstrels.
Saturday, Matinee and Night, April 25—"Way Down East."
"BLINDNESS OF VIRTUE"
The original London Little Theatre production opened a two-day engagement at the Majestic last night. There will be a matinee to-day. This is Cosmo Hamilton's four-act sensation play, "The Blindness of Virtue." The American tour of this organization is under the direction of William Morris. It is said that the drama is a strong indictment against permitting children to grow up in ignorance of certain subjects. So great a sensation did Cosmo Hamilton's powerful play create at the Little Theater in London that William Morris brought over the entire original company and production to this country, where it ran for sixteen weeks at the Studebaker Theater in Chicago and for ten weeks at the Park Theater in Boston.—Advertisement.

"THE DOLL GIRL"
That dainty little bundle of femininity, "The Doll Girl," will come to the Majestic to-morrow afternoon and night and there is sure to be a large audience to bid her welcome and to bask in the radiance of her innocence and charm. She comes from her village home to the wicked Paris and there watch the adventures that befall her. There will be the fiery-tempered Spanish girl, the handsome lover, the naughty marquis, the strolling actor and a whole lot of other people in her train. Providing that you have not heard of the little lady, it might be just as well to remark right here and now that she is the pivotal figure in the new musical comedy in which Richard Carle and Hattie Williams are the stars.—Advertisement.

"TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE"
For rush of action and intensity of surprise Eugene Walter's dramatization of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" is without dramatic comparison. It is a vivid visualization of the most widely read romance of the day, enhanced by one of the most artistic and realistic productions yet made, a series of pictures of youth—virgin youth—in the rugged frame of natural scenery. A story of primitive love, it overflows with passion, the story of the June of Mr. Fox's delightful book. The play comes to the Majestic Theater Thursday afternoon and evening.—Advertisement.

PRISONER IN LION'S CAGE
This will be shown at the Palace Wednesday in Gold Seal two-reel motion picture drama, "The Lonesome Leopard Lady," featuring Miss Grace Cunard as "My Lady Raffles," and Francis Ford as "Kelly the Detective." The detective and My Lady Raffles, both clever to remark right here and now, match wits through a series of incidents that hold one spellbound. Kelly is trapped by a band of crooks, found and placed in a cage of untamed lions. My Lady Raffles has no part in it; it is one time that our detective went astray. This is one of the biggest scenes of this drama. The love story, the romance found in this picture is a magnificent one. The balloon plays an important part. In fact this picture is the most sensational, lavish, mystifying, thrilling one in this wonderful series being done by the Majestic. The stars are Miss Cunard and Mr. Ford. Also Arthur Allardt and Edith Sterling in a frontier western drama, "The Girl Bandit," in which a girl turns bandit to test her lover's courage. "The Wonder Comedies" will be shown. "Snookum's Last Racket," in which Snookum thinks an angel from heaven was worth kissing—but "Without Pants," in which stolen pants bring reconciliation between estranged lovers. "One Happy Tramp," in which a tramp occupies the house while the owner lounges in jail, and "Going Some," in which the justice of the peace married an eloping couple rather than continue job duties. Powers comedy, "A Bad Egg," will conclude the bill, in which a mischievous written on an egg lands portly maid in jail.—Advertisement.

FEEL HEADACHY, DIZZY, BILIOUS? CLEAN YOUR LIVER!—A DIME A BOX

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or a sick stomach. Poisonous, constipated matter, gases and bile generated in the bowels, instead of being carried out of the system, is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, sickening headache. Cascarets will relieve the cause by stimulating the liver, making the bile and constipation poison move on and out of the bowels. One taken to-night straightens you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular, and make you feel bright and cheerful for months. Children need Cascarets, too.
