High School Class in Longfellow's "Evangeline"

WEST SHORE NEWS

Young People of Enola to Present Dramatization

This and to-morrow evenings the Enola high school will give a dramatization of Longfellow's "Evangeline." The story is based on the expulsion of a colony of French settlers from Nova Scotia, or Acadia, in 1755. These colonists, or French Neutrals, as they were called, were accused of furnishing aid to the French in resisting the British, and were condemned as British rebels.

On Friday, September 5, 1755, the men of Acadia, unarmed and unsuspecting, were driven from their homes and the decision of the English crown, namely, that all their lands and dwellings and cattle of all kinds forfeited to the crown and that they themselves be removed from the province. In spite of some show of care on the part of the authorities, many parties were separated from their families, husbands and wives lost each other and maidens parted from their lovers forever.

On the night of the embarking the village was burned before the eyes of the horrified and heart-broken Acadians. Evangeline Bellefontaine was separated from Gabriel Lajeunesse. She sought for many years through the colonies and finally found him, dying in an almshouse in Philadelphia. Those in the picture are: Bottom row, left to right, Esther Shuman, Hilda Smith, Miriam Neuer, Sara Dice, Nellie Gruver, Margaret Black, Helen Humer, Theresa Gutshall, Mary Strickner, Clara Swinn, middle row, Ada Morgan, Ethel McBeth, Kroka Gaul, Mary Lutz, Mae Bryun, Esther Famous, Etta Myers, Bertha Gutshall, Beulah Parks, Esther Neidig, Helen Reigel, Hilda Wagner, standing, Harry Hoffman, Edward Hassler, Iler Fisher, Ralph Webster, Roye McClain, Paul Harrison, George Siever, Sara Lackey, James Minick, John Spangler, Walter Flora, William Shuey, Robert Neidheimer, David Burd and Paul Fisher.

Kidney Trouble Causes Lame Back

I am pleased to say a good word for Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, as I was troubled for a year or more with my kidneys and annoying symptoms. My brother advised me to try Swamp-Root. I took several bottles of this remedy with excellent results. At the time Swamp-Root was recommended to me, my condition was such that I found it an effort in stooping or bending and in attending to my duties as Manager of the $9.99 Store at 122 Main St., Evansville, Ind. Very truly yours, J. E. ALVEY, 519 Walnut St., Evansville, Ind. Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 21st day of December, 1911. EDW. A. TORCHE, Notary Public.

City Council and the bureau of health and sanitation after all have the last laugh on the barbers—especially the barbers who raise the price of a shave from ten to fifteen cents. The laugh is embodied in a whole section of the new city regulations recently adopted by the bureau of health and sanitation and approved at this afternoon's session of City Council.

Other sections deal with every phase of food inspection and supervision and among other important matters that are amply provided for besides the barber shops, are milk and meat inspection, markets, ice cream manufacturers even into "cone" and "snowball" salesmen and manufacturers, moving picture shows and other housing conditions generally. Here are a few of the high light features of the new regulations:

Barbers must sterilize all mugs, brushes, shears and clippers after each "shave" and "hair cut"; cuspidors must be cleaned daily; individual sponges and powder puffs must be provided; septic must be in liquid or powder form; no treatment for skin diseases permitted by barbers; every cut with inflamed, "broken-out" face must have individual brush, cup and razor.

Manufacturers and salesmen of ice cream, ice cream cones, snowballs, cream, milk must contain not more than 500,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter; "cones" may not be sold on highways; "snowballs" and "sandwiches" must be wrapped in proper paper under supervision of inspector.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
