

PENROSE DEMANDS BUSINESS SAFETY

Asks That Attacks and Harassment of Business by Administration Cease

Special to The Telegraph. Pittsburgh, April 28.—Declarations that harassing attacks on business must cease were made by Senator Boies Penrose at the American Club dinner last night and cheered to the echo.

Penrose in part said: "Probably no other country in the world in time of peace has the business, commercial and industrial system received the rude assaults and attacks to which our American business, commercial and industrial system has been exposed."

"We are suffering from excessive legislation and we are not governed by a majority of the people."

The Senator then reviewed the method of amending the Constitution, each State having one vote, and showed that five large States have a larger voting population than thirty-six that might amend the Constitution to the serious disadvantage of the whole people.

Continuing, he among other things said: "We were assured before the last presidential election by the leaders of the party now in power, and by the standard bearers of that party especially, that no legitimate business interest would suffer in the revision of the tariff."

"Notwithstanding the pre-election assurances, however, the country soon awoke to the fact that the tariff was being revised upon very radical free trade lines and with a strong sectional bias."

"Innumerable investigations have introduced an espionage into every business house and every corporation office such as hardly would have been tolerated in the darkest days of Russian despotism."

"A multitude of bills are pending in Congress regulating and curtailing in every conceivable way and degree the activities of business. Some of them are part of the plans of the Democratic majority controlling the government for enactment into law."

"How fortunate it was for the Republic to have, at a time which seemed to be its death agony, a commander

Owing to the great demand for admission to the Victoria Theater yesterday to see the big eight reels feature, Quo Vadis, a great many people were unable to be accommodated.

Those who were unable to witness this pretentious photo drama yesterday being torn down in the Capitol building, had better make special arrangements to continue the feature to-day.

such as Grant. Would that to-day we could have infused into our party councils and our discussions of public questions, and into our advocacy of remedial legislation, that sterling common sense which Grant possessed, and which always is so rare."

M'DEVITT SURPRISES THE FIRSTNIGHTERS

He Is a Monologist of No Mean Ability and Keeps Things Moving All the Time

"Butch" McDevitt was a hobo, a "traveling man," he terms it. "Butch" McDevitt was a millionaire for a day. "Butch" McDevitt was an alleged statesman with the ambition to present a statue of himself to the United States. And now "Butch" McDevitt is an actor.

"Butch" opened a week's engagement at the Orpheum theater yesterday and it must be said for him that he surprised the regular Monday crowds. He appears in a monologue, following the showing of moving pictures made of his trip to Washington when he attempted to have Congress accept his statue. "Butch" is naturally funny and the dozens of stories he tells about himself keeps the audience in almost continuous laughter.

The Orpheum bill, as a whole is good. This week, Dunbar's band of nine men is perhaps the best musical act of its kind seen here for a long time. Catchy popular airs and standard marches make up the program. The band men had a difficult time parading themselves from the audience last night and the separation was only effected after the introduction of the following act had been stopped several times.

Alexander Brothers, billed as the world's greatest ball bouncers, open the show and introduce a number of new feats in their line. An Italian Minstrel, Webb and Burns have few equals on the vaudeville stage. Maria Lo and Company present a number of living tableaux, depicting the most famous Dresden and other Chinese. The living models are well fitted for their respective parts, and their work is among the best ever seen here. The other numbers include moving pictures and Willard and Bond in "Detectivism."

Husband a Drunkard; Wife Will Get $5,000

Washington, D. C., April 28.—Finding no constitutional objection to a law making saloonkeepers liable for damages resulting from their sale of liquor, the Supreme Court to-day dismissed the appeal of Louis W. Prenica, a saloonkeeper, of Nebraska City, Neb., from a judgment of the Nebraska courts holding him liable in the sum of $5,000 to Mrs. May Bulger for her husband becoming a habitual drunkard.

A Nebraska law gives the wife and children of men who become habitual drunkards an action against saloonkeepers who sell them liquor. Mrs. Bulger got verdicts against saloonkeepers who had sold liquor to her husband, a paperhanger, and an appeal was taken by Prenica and his bondsmen.

BRANDEIS FAVORS INCREASE

The doors will be opened next Sunday at 3 o'clock and a regular "campaign" song service will start as soon as the theater is comfortably filled, the regular services following at 3.45. At last night's meeting it was tentatively decided that the Sunday afternoon meetings as now held would end with the last Sunday of May. A committee has the question of open-air meetings under consideration, but the association will start to merge with the work of the men's work committee of the campaign as soon as its start at Sunday afternoon's mass meeting, which will be a part of the Sough plan.
