

Women and Their Interests

What the Sad World Needs

"Will you be kind enough to tell me how a young girl is to get acquainted in the city? I go to business every day and always try to conduct myself as a lady should. I dress neatly, but not fashionably, and I am not always choice in my selection of things. I have been asked if there was any society for young people, and I was told it was only for the poorer classes and street girls, and I was asked if I could lead them to better acquaintance with a decent, respectable business girl to get acquainted?"

INQUIRE!

This question ought to make all our excellent Christian people and our philanthropists pause and ponder.

The land is filled with working girls and women who are trying to live respectable lives and who are craving human companionship.

In our large cities there are innumerable opportunities for both men and women who are not anxious to walk the path of discretion to find amusement.

Clean Amusement for Respectable Girls is Needed.

Dance halls and cheap shows are holding out inducements continually for new recruits to their already crowded ranks.

The Salvation Army and the people interested in rescue work are doing all in their power to entertain and amuse and instruct the reformed men and women who have been reclaimed from evil ways.

But there seems to be a dearth of benevolent and kindly hearted citizens who are making any efforts to invite to the large class of worthy men whose pleasures and social recreations are represented by the writer of the letter quoted above.

There should be a committee in every church in America, composed of good women, for the purpose of looking after the needs of respectable and self-respecting working girls and young women.

This committee should employ a publicity man, or woman, to exploit its purposes and its methods.

In every shop or factory or other place of employment where there are many toilers a notice should be posted, giving the place and hour where such committees in every church can be addressed or found.

Then, no matter what the religious denomination of a working man or woman, a door will be open to social life if the applicant proves to be honest and respectable.

It should be the work of these committees to investigate the reasons for the statements of the applicant for social privileges.

Naturally in these days of corrupt political White Slave organizations too great care cannot be exercised before strange men or women are introduced into the society of their fellows.

Why Bestow All of Our Time Upon the Fallen?

This very necessity to be worthy of passing before the searchlight of an investigating committee would make such a social organization desirable.

All this would necessitate the expenditure of time, money and effort.

But why not be willing to expend all these things in preventing evil and in giving pleasure to the worthy and the clean-minded and the industrious, instead of bestowing all our labors upon reclaiming the fallen?

Why not be as willing to work for the pleasure and happiness and encouragement of our own earnest-minded women who are obliged to devote so much effort to raise money for the conversion of heathens in foreign lands?

It is less incumbent upon us to convince the South Sea Islander that his nudity is indecent and to provide him with clothing than it is to provide our good young women with right companionship.

We need a more practical religion in our own country more than other countries need our religion.

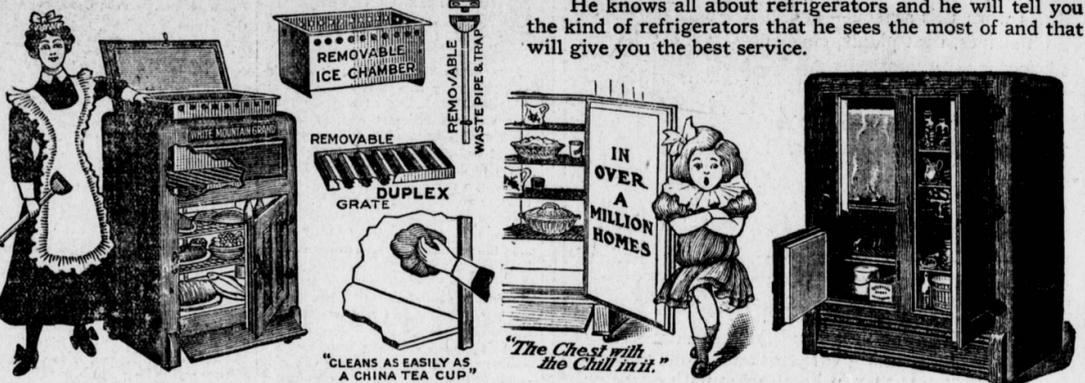

The Religion Which is Responsible for Progress

The religion of kindness and sympathy and fellowship, the religion which makes us realize the needs, the needs, and the best interests, social, financial and spiritual, of every human being in our midst, whether Gentile, Jew, orthodox or unorthodox, old school or new school, old thought or new thought, that religion which makes for progress and a higher humanity.

So many gods, so many creeds, so many ways that wind and wind; While just the art of being kind is all the sad world needs.

110 West 102nd St., New York City.—"About a year ago my face began to break out with large red pimples which itched and burned constantly causing me much uneasiness day and night. "I then saw an advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and decided to try them which I did. In addition to the sample sent me I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your Kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood; then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irritating or passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acid in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

DON'T TRUST CALOMEL

Thousands Experience Bad After Effects From This Dangerous Drug

A Safe Vegetable Substitute is Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a laxative and liver purifier in a combination of vegetable materials mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, and he has recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him, years ago, towards experiments with the new oil, discovering a substitute, and he has been for several years in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. And their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients, as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

There is no necessity, when you take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, by following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts, or castor oil, as you do after taking calomel. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. At all druggists.—Advertisement.

HIP RUFFLES WORN BY ALL SIZED WOMEN

8239 One-Piece Skirt, 22 to 32 waist.

With or without REEFERS, WITH HIGH OR NATURAL WAIST LINE.

Broad hips are essential to prevailing styles and even the simplest skirt must produce the effect in one way or another. This one is straight with circular and gathered ruffles applied over it and, as a matter of course, any number of ruffles can be used that may be liked or, if a very simple skirt is needed, they can be omitted altogether. In the illustration, cotton crepe is trimmed with circular ruffles of lace and with straight ruffles of lace but the trimming can be varied in many ways. The model is appropriate for any seasonable material but the straight skirt seems to lend itself to washable fabrics with peculiar fitness.

For the medium size, the skirt will require 2 1/2 yds. of material, 27, 36 or 44 in. wide with 1 1/4 yds. any width for the circular flounces, 4 1/2 yds. of lace 3 1/2 in. wide for the gathered ruffles. The width at the lower edge is 1 yd. and 16 inches.

The pattern 8239 is cut in sizes from 22 to 32 inches waist measure. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

"LITTLE LOST SISTER"

Virginian Brooks' great white-slave play, "Little Lost Sister" is the offering at the Majestic Theater, to-morrow, Friday and Saturday, with daily matinee. Perhaps there is no play in the country who has had such vast experience in the underworld of a big city as Miss Brooks. She has depicted what she has seen with the kindly aid of J. Rose. The play has been lauded by press, public and critics. It is a masterpiece of national-wide plaudits. One Chicago minister declared every person should see this play. Let it be hoped that every person shall have this chance. The play deals with the curse of the nation, white slavery and prescribes a possible remedy. At least it points to the lurid byways of the underworld.—Advertisement.

SINGING BAND PLEASERS

Ralph Dunbar and his great singing band of nine White Hussars, heading the Orpheum's farewell bill of the season, present the best musical offering ever seen in this city. Nine fine-looking young men, dressed in white Hussar costumes, play and sing many delightful musical selections that are at each performance taking the house by storm. A beautiful black velvet curtain and the white settings make the act a beautiful "light" act. Several patriotic numbers are contained in their program, and the rendition of the "American Patrol" is especially well done. Their phrasing and shading stamp them above the usual run of musicians, and they play together with intelligence and reading that never once lapse from union or harmony. Then comes "Butch" McDevitt, of "A Millionaire for a Day" fame, who is certainly doing an interesting little stunt. Mr. McDevitt has a flow of repartee that is quite as original as the several times that have attracted him nationwide publicity, and he is entertaining to say the least. Pretty Thea LeLightner, the well-known Harrisburg girl, and Dolly Jordan, a dainty songstress, also are offering one of the niftiest girl features we have seen for some time.—Advertisement.

AT THE COLONIAL

Chief of the interesting stunts that are to come off at the Colonial's amateur performance to-night, will be the "Gosselers" doing the tango. Ask me what "Gosselers" are, and I'll tell you. They're the sweet and youthful players presiding "Mother Goose," a mighty clever musical comedy that is enjoying immense popularity at the Fuzzy Corner. A comedy playlet full of good laughs, and a clever monologist round out the vaudeville roster.—Advertisement.

PALACE THEATER

At the Palace to-morrow, Robert

Leonard and Hazel Buckham will be featured in "The Ruby Circle." A two-reel drama of love and intrigue entering into the realms of the mysterious of the nihilists, and in which a girl's love proves superior to the blood-oath which binds her to the secret order. Robert Leonard has produced the play and enacted the leading roles. That he has made a success of it is obvious on witnessing the play. J. W. Johnston, Edna Payne and Haj Wilson will also be shown in Eclair three-reel drama, "The Cabalero's Way." As for the action of the piece—it starts off with a bang and the grip it holds on one is not slackened during the whole of three reels. In other words, there is something doing every moment. The Cisco Kid, a young Mexican desperado, is the central figure. He terrifies the country-side—murders and cheats and loves with a calmness usual to a tarzan. As the character has been interpreted, it is one of the most striking and interesting ever witnessed in this kind of a play. Then, there is Lieutenant Sandrige, who goes out to get the Cisco Kid, only to fall in love with the Kid's sweetheart. The fighting, the matching of wits between these two men, the remarkable heart-breaking chase into the dry hills, all helps to make the picture the greatest drama of this nature ever released by the United States.

Ethel Grandin and Hobart Henley will conclude the bill in an Imp comedy, "Where There's a Will There's a Way," in which Ethel is unable to explain her presence in a stranger's home who thinks her a burglar.—Bon marries her and wins fortune.—Advertisement.
