Surveyors at Work Started Report That Work on Subways Was Under Way

Surveyors at work in South Harrisburg yesterday morning, and the visit of several engineers of the Cumberland Valley Railroad Company to the vicinity of Front and Mulberry and Second and Mulberry streets started a report to-day that the work had commenced on the construction of the two subways to be built by the T. Larry Eyre Company.

This was denied by local officials, and the statement was made that there are still some details to be worked out before actual work will start, and that the announcement made several days ago, that work would start next week, was correct. The surveys are being made for the purpose of arranging sidings for unloading the material and machinery. The contract has not been awarded for the construction of the bridge.

"ANTIS" COMING; THEIR WAR CRY—"NO VOTES FOR WOMEN"

National Head of Society Opposed to Suffrage Will Be Among Speakers

Votes for women and the universal suffrage doctrine will be subject for debate hereabouts to-morrow.

How so? Why the State Convention of the Pennsylvania Association Opposed to Women Suffrage will be held in this city and delegates with firm convictions that they themselves do not want to ballot will gather here from all over Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, New York and Massachusetts.

The speakers include Mrs. Georgia M. Pollett, of the Pomona State Grange, identified with the Pennsylvania State Grange, who will tell of the opposition of farmers and their wives to woman suffrage; Miss Emmeline Pitt, of Pittsburgh, Editor, National Metal Trades Review, and former Secretary Iron City Central Trades Club of Pittsburgh, who will describe what she calls the futility and absurdity of promising wage-earning women higher pay through suffrage.

Mrs. Grace Duffield Goodwin, of New York, who will explain what the antis call "the folly of applying suffrage in our great Eastern industrial centers"; Miss Lucy Price, of Cincinnati, Ohio, a Vassar gradua and Hon. John A. Matthews, former member of the New Jersey Assembly.

Sessions will be held in the afternoon and evening in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium and reports from the various state workers will be read. Also there will be general discussion on the plans of the Association to carry the anti-suffrage campaign into every part of Pennsylvania. Candidates for election to the Legislature and other public offices will be urged to "come off the fence" and in a manly, fearless manner openly express their stand on the question of enfranchising women.

Proving Easiest and Quickest to Get Meal

An electric-service company in New York recently gave several early morning window demonstrations of cooking breakfast by electricity to suggest to people in business how much quicker and more convenient the electric method is than the old-fashioned method of cooking on electric grids, grilled lamb chops prepared on broilers, breakfast cereals were cooked in double boilers heated by electricity, biscuits were baked in electric ovens, and coffee was brewed in percolator. The food had been prepared in it was arranged to be tasted in the morning.
