OLD TIME 'PEP' WAS IN EVIDENCE

Harrisburg Hands Up a White-wash to Lebanon Valley College Tossers; Local Stars in Game

Putting one over on Lebanon Valley College yesterday, score 3 to 0, Manager Cockill's Tri-State team showed the "old-time pep." Cockill's crowd had to use extra doses of the "hot stuff" mixture.

On the Lebanon Valley team were two Harrisburgers, John and Thomas Lyter, and they were big factors in holding the Tri-State bunch down to a low score. As a backstop, "Tom" Lyter is clean cut. His throwing and "gingering up" tactics made him popular with the big crowd. J. Lyter had little to do at third, but was in the game.

HUSTLERS WITH ENGINEHOUSE NO. 1 TEAM

"KID" ALCORN The Young Twirler Who Has Puzzlers to Burn.

Lined up against the Harrisburg Tri-Staters at Island Park this afternoon was the Enginehouse No. 1 team, the champion Pennsylvania Railroad aggregation. Considering that the players practice in the early morning hours and during twilight, and for short periods each day, the Enginehouse aggregation is a team extraordinary. This team is looked after closely by Isaiah Reese, foreman at Enginehouse No. 1, and this season the schedule includes many out-of-town games with the best railroad baseball clubs in the State.

Central League Starts Today; Big Demonstrations in Order

New Cumberland Had Record Attendance; Steelton Helped in Opening at Highspire

Real baseball weather was a factor in the successful opening of the Central Pennsylvania Baseball League today. Large crowds were reported at New Cumberland and Highspire where the first games were played. One week from to-day the second opening day will find the teams switching with Middletown and Steelton as the opening towns. At New Cumberland, Middletown was the attraction this afternoon.

Harrisburg Academy Lacked the Bingles; Freshmen Win Out

Penn Freshmen alias University of Pennsylvania Giants subdued the Harrisburg Academy team yesterday afternoon in a stiff-joint game, score 15 to 2. The score, however, is about the only thing the Quakers have to brag about. In fielding, the Academy boys were a shade better than the Freshmen. One great big snag the Harrisburgers went up against every time they came to bat, was a well-seasoned pitcher. The Academy had but one hit in the entire game. It was a two-bagger by McLaughlin. Jennings handed up straight balls with some speed. This twirler was at a disadvantage because he has not practice. Jennings was game. The Academy boys went up against Franklin and Marshall Academy this afternoon. Something better on the part of the locals was promised. The score: ACADEMY. ABR. H. O. A. E. SPORTING BRIEFS

Baseball is on. Harrisburg Elk bowlers went to Reading at noon and to-night will bowl the third match with Reading Elks. Wednesday next will be the big day in the Tri-State League. Hummelstown opened the baseball season to-day with a big parade. The West Fairview Orioles were the attraction. "The" McCord, who has been warming up with the Athletics, will cover shotgun for Earl Mack's Raleigh (S. C.) team. The Colonial Athletic Club defeated the North Star Stars; score, 2 to 1. Reading defeated the Brooklyn Giants yesterday; score, 2 to 0. Forty members of the Nomad Motorcycle Club will hold a sociability run to Sunbury to-morrow. The members will leave Third and Cumberland streets at 7:30 in the morning. The "Chicks" trimmed the Cuban Stars yesterday; score, 7 to 4. Gettysburg College handed up a defeat to Allentown; score, 6 to 4.
