"GETS-IT For Corns"
 Nothing in the World Can Beat It For Corns and Calluses.

Now try the different way, the new way, the absolutely sure way, the painless way of getting rid of those corns that have bothered the life and soul out of you for such a long time. Drop everything else and use "GETS-IT." A few drops applied in a few seconds does the work. Useless junk, like flesh-eating salves that make corns swell, cotton rings that make corns stand up like pop-eyes, razors, corn diggers, scissors and files that make corns brown, are all done for. "GETS-IT" is on a new principle, makes corns shrivel, vanish! It can't stick to the skin, or hurt the flesh. "GETS-IT" is sold by all druggists, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.—Advertisement.

AN OVATION GIVEN TO MISS M'ALARNEY

Makes Clever Suffrage Speech and Declaration of Principles Is Read

Miss Emma Lenore MacAlarney, of New York city, who spoke for suffrage Saturday evening at Fahnstock Hall, may well be pleased with the ovation she received from old friends in her home town.

The hall was crowded and the speaker, in clever fashion ridiculed the arguments of the anti-suffragists and spoke of the vital necessity for the enfranchisement of women if the integrity of the home is to be preserved, the welfare of the child safeguarded and the industrial activities of women duly protected.

"A declaration of principles" of the Central Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association was read and approved by the meeting. It includes:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights governments are instituted, among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

"We believe that this country will fail to attain the high standards set forth in the Declaration of Independence while women are held in political servitude, and that no government can properly perform its function or discharge its obligation to its citizens while compelling one-half of its population to bear its burden though denying them the right to share its privileges.

"We seek and believe that we shall be accorded the support of all citizens who have faith in a representative form of government.

"We pledge ourselves to the task of securing the political freedom of women, not in an spirit of self-seeking, but with a desire to secure that political and economic justice for all men and women which is only possible in a free State, where the government rests upon the consent of a fraction of the people, however large, but upon that of the whole people."

A Doctor's First Question Is . . . ?

"How are Your Bowels?" A Simple Remedy that Guarantees Good Bowel Action.

LIEUT. G. W. VAUGHAN

Trace the origin of the commoner ills of life and almost invariably you will find that constipation was the cause. It is not to be expected that a mass of fermented food can remain in the system beyond its time without vitiating the blood and affecting the nerves and muscles. It congests the entire body.

The results are colds, fevers, piles, headaches, and nervousness, with its accompanying indigestion and sleeplessness. There is only one thing to do, and that is to remove the trouble; and when nature seems unable to do it, outside aid is necessary. You will find the best of all outside aids a remedy that many thousands are now using for this very purpose, called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Many hundreds of letters are received by Dr. Caldwell, telling of the good results obtained, and among the enthusiastic letters is one from Lieutenant G. W. Vaughan, of 623 W. North St., Decatur, Ill. He is 72 and has had a bad liver and stomach since he came out of the army. He says he tried about everything, but never succeeded in getting permanent relief until he took Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. He is never without a bottle in the house, and he is never without good health.

It has untold advantages over pills, cathartics and purgatives, for while these do but temporary good,

Syrup Pepsin cures permanently. The effect of its action is to train the stomach and bowel muscles to do their work naturally again, and in a short time all forms of medicine can be dispensed with. It can be bought without inconvenience at any nearby drug store for fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size being regularly bought by those who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

Resinol

Jan. 27, 1914: "I suffered over eight years with eczema. My hands looked like they had been burned by fire and peeled off until they were only raw flesh. I was told it was eczema. It itched and burned so that I could not sleep at night. I tried all sorts of eczema salves and one prescription after another but nothing gave me any relief until I tried Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. After the first application my hands never itched or burned again, and were well in one week. I want every sufferer from eczema to know that they can find a cure in Resinol."  Who Will Lecture at the Optometrists Convention, May 6

A State-wide campaign to secure the passage of a law to provide for a board of examiners in optometry, which shall examine and license those qualified to fit glasses, will be launched by the Pennsylvania Optic Society at a three-session lecture course at the Bolton House, May 6.

Dr. Earl J. Brown, Chicago, author and lecturer on eye diseases, will deliver the principal illustrated lecture. Nearly every optometrist and optician in Central Pennsylvania will attend.

Within the next ten years the optometrists point out thirty-three States have passed a law similar to the laws governing medical practice to cover the optical profession.
