JPPER END VOTES DECIDE SEVEN SHOTS WERE FIRED

Strangely For Several Days Past

New York, May 5.—Hiram Duryea, 81, retired millionaire starch manufacturer and Civil war veteran, was murdered early to-day at his home in the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn by his son, Chester Duryea. Seven shots were fired by the son into his father's body, causing instant death.

The murder occurred on the porch at the rear of the Duryea home where both father and son were in the habit of sleeping. About one o'clock this morning Chester Duryea, who is 43 years old, slipped from his cot into the house where he kept a number of rifles, revolvers and shot guns for hunting purposes. He selected an automatic pistol and a magazine rifle, both of which he loaded, and returned to the open-air porch. Standing within a few feet of his sleeping father he first fired from the rifle and then emptled the revolver.

Had Acted Strangely
Chester Duryea would give no reason for killing his father when taken in custody. For the past few days, servants told the police, he had been acting strangely and they had feared a return of a previous breakdown. In 1909 when he showed signs of mental

Mr. Dealer, Do You Watch the Newspapers?

Do you keep track of the nationally sold products now being advertised in the newspapers, so that you can take advantage of the demand?

The demand?

The manufacturer who is using the newspapers of your town is making a market right at your doorstep — a market for you.

Make your windows and your displays of such a nature that you will reap the harvest.

That is co-operation, for the benefit of your own pocket.
