BRIDE FINDS HER HUSBAND A GIRL

Secret Revealed When "He" De-sected One Woman to "Marry" Another

Milwaukee, Wis., May 5.—Discouraged because she could not obtain a man's wages for the work she did, Cora Kedwino, a graduate of a Bolivian woman's college, donned man's attire ten years ago and since that time has posed as Ralph Kedwino, the husband of Mamie White, Cleveland.

One of the strangest, and so far unaccounted for, features in connection with the masquerading of the young woman is that more than a month ago she courted, won and married a young woman who never doubted the sex of her "husband."

According to Miss White, she and Miss Kedwino lived in Cleveland, first as roommates, when the latter jokingly suggested that she would make a good man, since she could earn as much money as one of the sterner sex.

The jest soon took a more serious turn said Miss White, until finally they left Cleveland and settled in this city, where Miss Kedwino donned man's garments and obtained employment as a shipping clerk, which position she held for six years.

All went well and the "husband" and wife got along well with their double savings until Miss White learned that her "husband" had obtained a marriage license and had married Miss Dorothy Klenowski on March 24 last and had been living with her.

When Miss White learned that her "husband" had left her and had been married to another woman, her ire arose and she went to the police station and revealed the entire story to the police, with the result that Miss Kedwino is a prisoner at headquarters.

She refuses to discuss her position with the police. The latter say that their investigation shows that she obtained her license to marry in the ordinary manner and that she was married to Miss Klenowski by Justice Edward J. Burke.

C., May 5.—A resolution calling upon President Wilson for information as to whether there is any basis for the statement published to-day that the President may aid Pancho Villa to become the next ruler of Mexico was introduced in the Senate to-day by Senator Lippitt, of Rhode Island.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Foreign Secretary Grey was invited by Sir John David Rees, Unionist, in the House of Commons to-day to ask the American government "to abandon its position that the removal of General Huerta is of greater moment than the restoration of peace and the protection of life and industry in Mexico."

Keller Murder Case Moving Very Slowly

Chambersburg, Pa., May 5.—Zelda Keller Gerhold's trial for the murder of her husband Floyd, to whom it is alleged she gave Paris-Green for a month, is dragging along desperately slow. It will certainly not close before Friday at the Commonwealth will not rest until Wednesday afternoon or evening.

Should the jury disagree, which is not improbable at all, it would mean the same as an acquittal for the woman. Zelda and her mother, like all actively engaged in the case, today showed weariness and lack of snap.

All the morning evidence followed Keller with Barnhart's thrashing rig in the late summer and fall of 1912. He drank some whiskey at the stand ever saw him under the influence. Zelda alleged that his last illness was due to excessive drinking, to whiskey "burning his insides out," all the evidence to-day, including the beginning of his last illness, when he had to quit work and go home, absolutely disapproved her.

Corporal Davies, State trooper, is not likely to get on the stand to-day. Like Heckman and his letters, waited for by so many, will follow Davies.

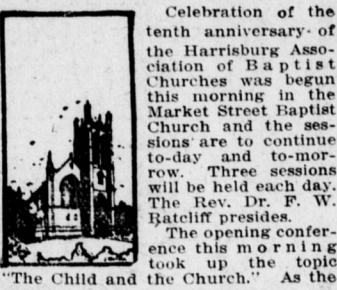

DR. BRUMBAUGH DEPLORES LACK OF INTEREST IN BIBLE

Philadelphia, May 5.—Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, superintendent of schools, delivered an address in Simpson Memorial Church, Kensington avenue above Cambria street, Sunday afternoon, in which he urged young men to take more interest in church work and to spend more time in reading and trying to interpret the Bible correctly.

Dr. Brumbaugh deplored the great lack of interest in "God's Book" manifested by young men, and also the apparently lukewarm interest of those who profess to believe in its teachings. He said: "Not only should the Bible be read to save oneself, but to learn how to save others. A person who has the zeal and the courage to save others now has not the zeal to save himself on the judgment day."

BAPTISTS DISCUSS CHILD AND CHURCH

Rev. Booth Points Out Need of Training Young in the Work

Celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Harrisburg Association of Baptist Churches was begun this morning in Market Street Baptist Church and the sessions are to continue to-day and to-morrow.

The opening conference of the church on the topic "The Child and the Church." As the Rev. W. S. Booth pointed out in his opening address, the church of to-morrow must be built out of the children of to-day, and the subject of training the youthful members of the church ought to be exaggerated.

Practical methods that have been effective in Sunday school work in the district, systems of gaining the interest in the children around making the Sunday school an attractive that they will want to come were told of by various speakers. "Efficiency," a modern watchword, as applied to the church, was the theme of the Rev. A. Agar, of Minnesota. The Rev. Dr. L. W. Hainer, Norristown, presented an illuminating address on the up-to-date Bible school.

To-night the principal address will be delivered by the Rev. Francis Behrens, president of the Philadelphia Baptist Conference, on "The Young People."

D., of the University of Pennsylvania, who arrived at 7 o'clock for beginning, the auditorium was well filled.

The general secretary, Homer Black, presided, and after a brief song service presented Dr. Scofield to the audience. His subject was "The Vision of God and the New Service," Job, 42. Mediators Note to Rebel Leader Is Made Public

Washington, D. C., May 5.—The text of the Mexican mediators' telegram to General Carranza eliminating him from the mediation proceedings, which became known to-day, is as follows: "The mediators held that 'all the difficulties which contributed toward the present situation in Mexico might be removed by the adoption of the solution of the pending conflict between Mexico and the United States.'"

The text of the note from the mediating envoys sent yesterday to General Carranza was as follows: "We have received your telegram in which you are kind enough to tell us that you deem it inconvenient for the constitutional cause to suspend hostilities against General Huerta, at least until the mediation proceedings are completed. We think, indeed, that all the difficulties which have contributed toward the present situation in Mexico might be removed by the adoption of the solution of the pending conflict between Mexico and the United States."

from Tuxpam. This information, was given to the British consul at Tuxpam by American refugees who said the Mexican authorities gave as their reason for holding the Americans a desire to assure their safety. The British consul has wired the governor of Puebla requesting their release.

O'Shaughnessy Offered Names of Mexicans to Take Charge of Affairs

Vera Cruz, May 5.—Just before Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge d'affaires left the Mexican capital he informed officials here, it is understood, that he had submitted to Washington under the direction of President Wilson a list of names of prominent Mexicans who might act as a council of notables to take charge of the affairs of the government in case of the downfall or the abdication of Provisional President Huerta.

The men suggested are said to have been named owing to their strict neutrality during the internal strife of the last three years and their lack of interest in the conflicting factions.

It is understood that the sentiment of Carranza and other leaders is in favor of acceptability of the men as temporary heads to keep order during the transition period which is expected and later to conduct the elections.

Change in Situation in Capital Would Not Be Unexpected, Many Assert

Washington, May 5.—With the virtual elimination of the constitutionalists from proceedings aimed at a general settlement of Mexico's ills, the temporary envoys to-day began plans to compose differences between Huerta and the United States government that led to the seizure of Vera Cruz. Carranza's elimination, at least for the present, was determined upon by the three mediators. They informed him that because of his refusal to agree to a truce with Huerta they cancelled their proposal that he name a representative to co-operate in mediation negotiations. Relations with the rebel chief were not arbitrarily broken off. The mediators left open to him the opportunity to enter the proceedings whenever he was ready to fix an armistice.

FEDERALS WHILE HUERTA REMAINED AT HIS HEAD

Huerta's position was declared to be increasing Americans for Zapata, the southern rebel according to reports in Vera Cruz, threatened to attack the federal capital to-day. Velasco, one of Huerta's chiefs in operations around Torreon, was said to have declared he never would direct another battle against the Constitutionalists. He was dissatisfied with the support Huerta accorded him in battles against the Carranza forces. Plots in the army against Huerta were growing, it was asserted. In many quarters a sudden change in the situation in Mexico City would not be unexpected. How far such a development would affect the mediators' program for general settlement was a topic of discussion by observers of the Mexican situation.

The influx of Americans into Mexico City from outlying districts continued to-day, and arrangements for their transportation to east coast ports were hurried. Appeals of isolated groups of Americans departing from the British minister in Mexico City, who was co-operating with the Brazilian minister for their relief.

Americans Are Safe in Guadalupe District

Washington, D. C., May 5.—All is quiet in the Guadalupe district and Americans remaining there are said to be in no danger, according to dispatches to the State Department from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City. Americans leaving Guadalupe and those remaining behind are all listed employees of the Cinco Miners. The name of Walter C. Minsch, a mining engineer, formerly of Worcester, Mass., for whom inquiry was made to-day, does not appear in any lists at the department.
