

DROP FLOWERS ON GRAVE OF GILBERT

Fellow Attorneys and Judges Pay Touching Tributes to Dead Lawyer's Memory

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED

Federal, Dauphin Courts, Visiting Bars and Attorney General's Department Represented

Touching tributes in eulogy and resolution was paid to the memory of Lyman D. Gilbert yesterday afternoon by fellow attorneys of Dauphin and other bars, the judges of the courts of Dauphin county and of the United States Court for the Middle district, members of the bar went to the funeral.

Nearly a hundred lawyers and several judges attended. Federal Judge Charles B. Witmer, United States Court, sat in the audience with Additional Law Judge S. J. M. McCarroll, James Scarlett, Deputy Attorney General J. E. B. Cunningham, Assistant Deputy Attorney General William M. Hargest, Fred W. Fleitz and Robert K. Young, State Treasurer, a member of the Toga county bar.

President Judge George Kunkel was chosen chairman after Eugene Snyder, dean of the active practicing attorneys, called the meeting to order. Assistant District Attorney Frank B. Wickesham and B. Frank Nead were elected secretaries. Thomas S. Hargest was named chairman of a committee to draft resolutions. He conferred with him were Charles C. Stroth, Eugene Snyder, Charles H. Bergner, M. W. Jacobs, Benjamin M. Nead, James M. Lamberton, S. S. Bowman, Daniel C. Herr, John A. Herman, John Fox Weiss.

Mr. Stroth presented the resolution and upon motion of ex-Judge Jacobs the minutes was spread upon the court records. This was done in order to the life and work of Mr. Gilbert and in conclusion paid this little tribute to his memory:

"As members of the bar of Dauphin county and as citizens of Harrisburg, have sustained an irreparable loss. The living, breathing man is no more. For his charming personality he has left a memory for his eloquence the stillness of the grave; his genial smile has fled and his warm, friendly grip is now the touch of a vanished hand. And in the silent halls of Time has been filled with a memorial to an accomplished lawyer, a scholarly gentleman, a useful citizen and a kind-hearted friend and companion.

The eulogies from various members of the bar followed. Among those was that of Benjamin M. Forster, the oldest member of the Dauphin county bar. His health would not permit his attendance, but his touching tribute was delivered for him by M. Homer Matter. In concluding Mr. Forster wrote:

"Was he ambitious? Yes, he was ambitious, but not for his advancement or that he might obtain power for himself—but for his friends. He declined one high position after another and there was no honor or position in public life which he could not have attained. Yet Mr. Gilbert has left footprints on the sands of time; footprints not to be effaced or washed away."

In presenting Mr. Forster's tribute, Mr. Matter also added his own little sentiment. He quoted from Blackstone's memorial:

"Untainted by the guilty bribe, Uncours'd amidst the harpy tribe; No orphan's cry to wound my ear, No honor and my conscience clear, Thus may I calmly have passed from this to the grave in peace descend. Here are some of the references to Mr. Gilbert's life, work and personality expressed in the course of the eulogies:

State Treasurer Robert K. Young—"We shall not look upon his like again."

Charles B. McConkey—"What little I have learned I have learned from him; his death will be a loss to me as well as to the citizens of Harrisburg."

Fred W. Fleitz—"For many years he has stood as a very Bayard of the bar of Pennsylvania."

Federal Judge Witmer—"He was truly a great lawyer, but not only a great lawyer; he was a prince among men."

John A. Herman—"Truly he had taught well the doctrine of the brotherhood of man."

John Fox Weiss—"We can certainly see our own exemplars those members of our bar who have passed from among us during the last twelve months—from the Olmsteads to the Mitchells. And Lyman D. Gilbert was certainly a man worthy of emulation by us all."

S. S. Bowman—"He was a courteous gentleman, a learned lawyer, and a devoted friend."

Plot Revealed to Blow Up Stough Tabernacle

Special to The Telegraph
Hazleton, Pa., May 7.—Threats have been made to blow up the St. Stough tabernacle here with dynamite. This information was received to-night by the city authorities in a letter from a woman, whose identity would be revealed because she is the owner of the property and fears violence should her name become public. She claims to have overheard a conversation relating to a plot.

The tabernacle managers were notified of the contents of the letter and the guard at the big building has been strengthened.

For Sallow, Wrinkled, Freckled, Pimpled Skin

If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercurized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, blackheads, blotches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches, or any surface eruption. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for one ounce of mercurized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple and harmless treatment report astonishing results.

If bothered with wrinkles or crow's feet, a wash lotion made by dissolving a ounce of powder and sorbolite in a half pint witch hazel will prove remarkably effective.

How Julia Sanderson Blossomed Into a Star

JULIA SANDERSON

When "The Sunshine Girl," famous musical comedy success, opens its engagement at the Majestic on Saturday there will be in all probability a great many persons who will go to see the musical play because Miss Julia Sanderson is in it, but it is very likely that but a few of these will note that in the ads and on the billboards Miss Sanderson's name is in the largest type and precedes that of the play title. This means that for the first time this daintiest of little singers is a real star who is entitled to the electric signs, a personal representative, and all the other perquisites of a genuine blown-in-the-bottle Stage Luminary. Miss Sanderson has been charming folk who attend the theaters for many years, but up to the present time her name has always followed the phrase, "Included in the cast."—Advertisement.

Harrisburg Man Goes Up the Telegraph Pole

John C. Weirick, 805 North Sixteenth street, will leave soon for Philadelphia to become assistant general commercial engineer of the Bell Telephone Company. Since 1904 the Harrisburg, who will take with him both the congratulations of his friends upon his advancement and their regrets at his departure, has advanced from stenographer, clerk and chief clerk to division manager.

PENROSE WELCOME STRONG IN BUTLER

Senator Greeted by the Men of Industries Which Are Ruing Only Half Time

Senator Boies Penrose received a rousing greeting from citizens of Butler county at a mass meeting in the county seat last night. He addressed an audience that packed the hall and cheered him as the Republican candidate for United States Senator. By other speakers his public services were highly praised and his re-election predicted, with Butler county in line for him.

In an interview after the meeting, Senator Penrose declared he was entirely satisfied over the political situation in the county. Senator Penrose went to Butler from Pittsburgh yesterday morning. He was accompanied by a large delegation of Butler county active Republicans and businessmen. Among those who greeted him were delegations from Evans City, Portersville, Grove City and other nearby towns. After the reception the Senator was a guest at a luncheon where he discussed political conditions in the county with some of the party leaders and then visited the leading industrial plants of Butler. He was shown through all of the departments of Standard Steel Car Company and shook hands with hundreds of the employees. The plant is running about one-fourth of its capacity and many of the workmen showed that they held Democratic tariff legislation responsible for the fact that in the plant were long lines of idle machines. Penrose also met the employees of the glass plants, many of whom expressed the hope that he would be re-elected.

Butler Back in Line
Butler county in 1912 was Bull Moose territory. Colonel Roosevelt carried the county by a large majority. The Republican leaders say nearly all of the Republicans who voted for Roosevelt will vote their party ticket in November. The Washington delegation reports that the Democrats are badly divided.

Senator Penrose was introduced by County Chairman Robinson at the meeting and expressed gratification over the cordial reception that has been accorded him at the towns he has visited in Western Pennsylvania and was cheered when he declared that the people would restore the Republican party to power by sweeping majorities. Senator Penrose returned to Pittsburgh and to-day he will visit points in Indiana county.

The Difference
Senator Penrose, candidate for the Republican Senatorial nomination, expended $1,894.71 to May 5, according to a statement filed with the Secretary of the Senate yesterday, while Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate, has spent $5,192.32, according to his statement. Senator Penrose declares that he has received no contributions to his campaign fund. The principal items of expenses include $688.11 for campaign buttons, $100 railroad fare, $371.55 hotel expenses; mass meetings, circulation of speeches, etc.; $255; expenses for dissemination of information, clerk hire and postage of the Protective League of Pennsylvania, $500.

Among accounts filed by candidates for the House from Pennsylvania are the following: Twenty-first District, Charles H. Rowland, Republican, $648.85; Twenty-third District, Daniel Sturgeon, Prohibition, $100; Twenty-fourth, J. T. Pender, Prohibitionist, nothing; Twenty-eighth, W. J. Hulings, Washington party, nothing; Nineteenth District, W. W. Bailey, Democrat, nothing; Twenty-third, W. N. Carr, Democrat, nothing; Seventeenth District, F. L. Dersham, Democrat, $105.50; J. H. Light, Republican, $303.40; Benjamin K. Focht, Republican, $117.23; Twentieth District, Chas. A. Hawkins, Democrat, $124.10; Twenty-seventh District, S. Taylor North, Republican, $404.04.

Of the candidates for Congressmen-at-large, A. H. Walters, Washington party of Johnstown, reports expenditures of $36.96; J. J. Patton, Prohibitionist, $20, and Henry M. Warren, Republican, nothing.

Dimmick's Campaign
The following was sent from Chambersburg to the Philadelphia Ledger last night: "When J. Benjamin Dim-mick, anti-Penrose candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate, reached Chambersburg at 10 o'clock this morning he found a working organization already in fair shape for cleaner politics and the elimination of Penroseism. Those who took the initiative are representative men of the county, and they had already engaged the courthouse, where a Dimmick meeting, large and enthusiastic, was held this evening."

DEATH WINS RACE
Special to The Telegraph
Lebanon, Pa., May 7.—In a race with death, Monroe Getz, a railroader on the Lebanon & Tremont branch of the Reading railroad, lost out. Mr. Getz was at Pinegrove when he was informed by a telegram that his wife, Mollie Getz, had been stricken with a blood clot on the brain. The husband was provided with a special locomotive by officials of the road, and he made a flying trip back to his home, but was too late, as his wife had already lapsed into unconsciousness and died a short time later. She was 27 years old and leaves a son.

DICKINSON MEN TO GATHER AT BANQUET

Harrisburg Alumni Plan Big Evening at Country Club; Big Speakers Scheduled

Half a hundred sons of John Dickinson will gather round the banquet table at the Country Club near Rockville this evening for the second annual dinner of the Harrisburg Dickinson Alumni Association.

Dr. Eugene Allen Noble, president of the college; Frank B. Sellers, of the faculty of the Dickinson Law School; G. R. Hull, of the class of 1907, and Dr. John D. Fox, of the class of 1876, will be the speakers. Howard E. Moses, president of the association, will act as toastmaster.

Not only graduates of the college from this city will attend the dinner, but nearby towns in the county and from the Cumberland Valley will be guests of the local alumni. Superior Court Judge Kaphart, a Dickinson alumnus, was invited to be present, but because of his official duties could not leave Pittsburgh, where the court is sitting.
