LETTERS IN KELLER TRIAL BEING READ

Court Takes Recess Awaiting Decision as to Which Should Be Admitted as Evidence

Special to The Telegraph Chambersburg, Pa., May 7.—This afternoon the defense will open its case in the murder trial of Zeldia Keller Gerhold. The State closed up all the loose ends this morning, the ninth day of the trial, which is the longest and costliest ever held in Franklin county. The fifteen letters, twelve postcards from Zeldia to Isaac Heckman, her paramour, and the fourteen letters from him to her, written when he was West at the time he ran away in a panic because Keller's body was to be raised, were offered for admission as evidence. Long and strenuous opposition was made and eventually Judge W. R. Gillan, counsel for both sides and a stenographer withdrew to a jury room with the letters to read each and all and thus determine which, if any, could be admitted as evidence. The court took a recess while this was being done and did not reconvene until afternoon.

STEELTON EXPECT DOWN TO HEAD PENNA. STEEL

Cambria President Even Now to Give Large Part of Time to Management Here

At a special meeting of the directors of the Pennsylvania Steel Company, in Philadelphia, yesterday, William H. Donner, president of the Cambria Steel Company, was elected a member of the board, filling the vacancy caused by the death of the late George F. Baer.

Following the directors' meeting it was announced at the Philadelphia office of the company that at the annual meeting next Monday there will be submitted for the approval of the stockholders an amendment to the by-laws creating the new office of chairman of the board. Mr. Donner will be elected to this position.

Part Time to Penna. Steel It was also officially announced that Mr. Donner will give a large part of his time to the management of the Pennsylvania Steel Company. In steel circles it is believed that the general-ly understood to mean that he will become the active executive head of the company.

Just what effect this change will have in Steelton and the future of the Pennsylvania Steel Company is still problematical. Financial circles, however, are inclined to view the changes favorably and evidently feel that the move means increased prosperity for the company.

A Philadelphia newspaper has this to say editorially this morning: "With the election of William H. Donner to the board of the Pennsylvania Steel Company yesterday afternoon, to take the place made vacant by the death of George F. Baer, the prospects of the company brighter, as the first step is a move in the movement to place Donner virtually at the head of the corporation. At the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Steel Company on Monday next the stockholders will be asked to sanction certain changes in the by-laws which will provide for the creation of a new office to be called 'chairman of the board.' To this office Donner will be elected. The success of the company's affairs will come under his control.

"At the same time he will continue as president of the Cambria Steel Company, but it is believed that the plan is to eventually bring these two concerns completely under one management. What Donner has done for the Cambria Steel, and that has been a stockholder's content, is expected he will also do for the Pennsylvania Steel. It has long needed new blood and progressive management. That it will now have. Certainly Donner's election is a boon to the stock. If it is not reflected in the market, once it can scarcely fail to be later on when the steel trade becomes active again and Donner begins to show results."

HOW I MADE MY HAIR GROW

Woman With Marvelously Beautiful Hair Gives Simple Home Prescription Which She Used With Most Remarkable Results I was greatly troubled with dandruff and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various physicians, but they all signally failed; many of them made my hair greasy so it was impossible to comb it or do it up properly. I think that many of the things I tried were positively injurious and from my own experience I cannot too strongly caution you against using preparations containing wood alcohol and other poisonous substances. I believe that the falling of my hair and my long list of failures, I finally found a simple prescription which I can unhesitatingly state is beyond doubt the most wonderful thing for the hair I have ever seen. Many of my friends have also used it and obtained wonderful effects therefrom. It not only is a powerful stimulant to the growth of the hair and for restoring gray hair to its natural color, but it is equally good for removing dandruff, itching the hair life and brilliancy, etc., and for the purpose of keeping the scalp in first-class condition. It also makes the hair easier to comb and arrange. I have a friend who used it two months and during that time it has not only stopped the falling of his hair and wonderfully increased its growth, but it practically restored all of his hair to its natural color. You can obtain the ingredients for making this wonderful preparation from almost any drugist. The prescription is as follows: Bay Rum, 6 oz.; Menthol Crystals, 1/2 drachm; Lavone de Compose, 2 oz. If you like it perfumed, add a drachm of your favorite perfume. This, however, not necessary. Apply night and morning, rub thoroughly into the scalp.—Advertisement.
