

Hundreds Reported Dead and Injured On Slopes of Etna

Many Villages on Slopes of Mount Etna Destroyed by Quake, Volcanic Eruption and Fire; Property Damage as Great as in the Messina Disaster in 1908; Nothing But Debris Remains

Catania, May 8.—Earthquake and volcanic eruption, followed by fire, destroyed many villages on the slopes of Mount Etna last night. The disaster caused the death of at least 100 persons. The number of injured will reach several hundred. Refugees declare that the property loss is as great as in the Messina disaster in 1908. Railroad tracks were torn up, churches razed to the ground, houses shaken to ruin, and telegraph poles overturned over a radius of several miles around Catania.

Dogwood and Red-bud Give Springtime Color Touches to Wildwood

If you're planning a pretty Sunday stroll or after-dinner motor trip to-morrow, make Wildwood Park your objective point. That is the tip of Assistant Park Superintendent Hoffer and endorsed by Mr. Harvey Taylor, superintendent. Wildwood Park as well as the remainder of the city's parks and parkway are at their best in the 1914 Spring dress of trees and flowers just now, but Wildwood is offering something really beautiful in dogwood.

Mother Mine

From Heaven's void of mystic dreams I came And at your knee first lisp'd your precious name Thrilling with love which is to-day the same, Mother mine, oh Mother mine! How tenderly you guarded through the years, Taught me my faith in God and dried my tears When disillusion filled my heart with fears, Mother mine, oh Mother mine!

SURGEON ON STAND IN MURDER TRIAL

Expert Testimony to Prove That Floyd Keller Did Not Die From Poison

Chambersburg, Pa., May 9.—To-day the murder trial of Zelda Keller Gerhold began to show signs of drawing to a close. The defendant resumed the stand this morning and concluded her examination in chief. To the amazement of all, her cross-examination consumed but half an hour. She denies poisoning her husband or having any reason to want him to die. She did not consider herself engaged to marry Ike Heckman and she did not accuse him of having poisoned her husband to anybody or at any time.

TWO MEN KILLED BY EXPLOSION IN MINE

Washington, D. C., May 9.—All the honors of war were paid to the late Major-General Daniel E. Sickles, who was buried in Arlington National Cemetery here to-day. The body of the veteran commander was carried in solemn procession from the Union Station, where it lay in state through the night, to the cemetery, accompanied by an escort of cavalry and field artillery. Following the casket which bore the body was led the general's riderless horse. As the procession passed through the grounds at Fort Myer a major-general's artillery salute was fired and at the grave three salvos of rifle shots and another artillery salute marked the placing of the body in its last resting place. The Rev. Father J. D. Houlihan, chaplain at Fort Myer, read the funeral service. In addition to the regular army escort a large number of Civil War veterans marched in the procession.

STRIKERS HOPE TO GET BACKING IN SENIORITY DEMAND

Men Believe That Other Brotherhoods Will Stand With Them on This Point

PLAN BIG JOINT MEETING

Just What Transportation Bodies Will Do to Be Decided To-morrow Evening

Early settlement of the Pennsylvania Railroad strike in favor of the strikers was the hope to-day of the Brotherhood of Federated Railway Employees. This hope is based on the belief that the transportation brotherhoods will back the Federated employees in their demands that the seniority rule be strictly observed in the furloughing of men.

While no member of any other brotherhood will give out a positive statement as to the final result, the general impression prevailed in railroad circles to-day that the controversy would settle upon one question, the seniority rule, and that if the Federated employees insist on no other demand they will get the support of the other bodies.

What Will Be the Result While no member of any other brotherhood will give out a positive statement as to the final result, the general impression prevailed in railroad circles to-day that the controversy would settle upon one question, the seniority rule, and that if the Federated employees insist on no other demand they will get the support of the other bodies.
