is all it takes to have these pianos or player-pianos put in your home under this Co-operative plan

Copyright, 1912, by Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

Get this first fixed in your mind: That under this co-operative plan you get a three hundred and fifty dollar piano for two hundred and forty-eight dollars and seventy-five cents, everything included; or a five hundred and fifty dollar player-piano for three hundred and ninety-five dollars, everything included. When you see what a tremendous saving this plan offers (after considering your piano purchase wholly from an economical standpoint), then turn to the convenience of the payments.

Any one can co-operate in this extraordinary opportunity, on account of the easy terms. You have to pay out only five dollars at any one time to take advantage of this plan.

Mr. J. H. Troup writes of the plan

(A PERSONAL CARD)

This plan of buying and selling appeals so strongly to me, that I am constrained to add a personal word to our advertisement. In the first place, the ECONOMIES of the plan appeal very much to me. When we were first offered the opportunity to join this co-operative movement, it was ITS ECONOMIES that I considered the best of all its features. Any plan or effort that will reduce the prevailing price of an article to the public, must of necessity do the person or the house that adopts it, a large amount of permanent good. Then, the whole plan seemed GOOD. It is so FAIR and SQUARE. Everyone who participates in it is treated exactly alike. Everyone pays the SAME low price—everyone gets the benefit of the SAME easy terms and everyone gets the SAME safeguards. In all my years experience in business I have never known a single instance where the buyer was so absolutely protected in his purchase, as on this association plan. A child can buy one of these pianos on this plan WITH SAFETY. I am glad that our house has adopted it and proud to be associated with it.

Sale begins tomorrow morning

While this sale really opened today—it begins in earnest Saturday. Already many appointments have been made, both by our salesmen and over the phone, with persons who are coming in tomorrow to make their selections. Those who do come in tomorrow—or at least during the first of the week—have this advantage—they will have the greatest number of instruments to select from, that will be on our floors at any one time and are sure to find all styles in all the various woods.

And this for your first payment. This five dollars is credited to the price of your instrument. If you take the piano, this leaves a balance of two hundred and forty-three dollars and seventy-five cents to pay. If you take the player-piano it leaves a balance of three hundred and ninety dollars to pay. And you are given one hundred and ninety-five weeks time, in either case, in which to pay the balance.

Also, in either case, your instrument will be delivered at once. Either the piano or the player-piano. No delays. No waits. But now. Every style is now on the floors. Every style is ready in all woods, both in pianos and player-pianos. Come tomorrow. It's to your advantage.

Another of the compelling features

And that is—you can have your money back. Yes, sir—you can get your money back. You have thirty days' time after the piano is delivered to your home to fully make up your mind. If you become dissatisfied with the piano within that time, you get "your money back." Or, for any other reason why—you get your money back and no questions asked.

The whole idea back of this plan of selling pianos is to secure the heartiest goodwill and the fullest co-operation from every person who participates in it. To accomplish this, the piano itself must be supremely satisfactory to its purchasers.

Those who "go in" to own a piano on this plan must see in the first place that they are getting a big bargain. That they are getting easier conditions of purchase; that they are obtaining more privileges and that they are better protected than if they were to buy a piano through the regular run of piano business. And if, after having the piano in their home for a month and going into every phase of the matter carefully, they are not convinced that they have made an exceptionally good "buy"—they then can have their money back.

How to obtain one of these pianos

To take advantage of this unusual sale, all you have to do is to send or bring in five dollars, for which we will at once give you a receipt.

This five dollars is credited to your account on the co-operative books—leaving two hundred and forty-three dollars and seventy-five cents to be paid.

The co-operative plan then allows one hundred and ninety-five weeks' time in which to pay this amount—at the rate of one dollar and twenty-five cents a week. There are no further payments of any kind to be met.

You can select your piano at once—tomorrow—next day—next week or any other time convenient to you. It will be delivered immediately—next week or next month. The time you select your piano and the date of delivery is wholly optional with you.

If not convenient for you to personally select your piano, we will make the selection for you under your instructions, with the understanding that, if at the end of a thirty days' trial the piano is not satisfactory, we will REFUND YOUR MONEY.

During this sale, the store will remain open until 9:00 o'clock. Informal player-piano recitals will be given every evening from 7:30 to 9:00 o'clock, to which you are cordially invited.

Miss Wilson Has Received Many Beautiful Gifts

Washington, D. C., May 8. — The wedding presents received by Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, daughter of the President, on her marriage yesterday to Secretary McAdoo, besides being numerous and valuable, have the added quality of being in many instances of a personal and domestic nature, signifying the interest taken in the home life on the new cabinet couple.

The bridegroom, Secretary McAdoo, in addition to the splendid string of diamonds which his bride will wear at the wedding, is also reported to have given her the opal brooch, surrounded by a ring of large diamonds. The engagement ring is said to have been a large diamond solitaire and another ring from Mr. McAdoo was an opal surrounded by diamonds.

The cabinet members and their wives united in a gift to Miss Wilson and Mr. McAdoo, following a historical precedent established at the Cleveland-Folsom wedding. Their present was a set of silver dinner plates and a silver platter.

The Vice-president and Mrs. Marshall were not in this city at the Sayre-Wilson wedding, for which Mrs. Marshall spent part of her last summer's leisure in making by hand dainty things to give the bride. Her present to to-day's bride is also of a personal character and was sent over to the White House this morning.

The Postmaster General and Mrs. Burleson are also reported in the collection of presents by an opal lavalliere. The center stone has small pearls around it and the ornament is on a fine gold chain studded here and there with tiny pearls.

The Senate's present was a gold bracelet, studded with diamonds and it has the added importance of having been chosen from among other pieces of jewelry suggested to Miss Wilson.

The gift from the House of Representatives was selected by a small committee, headed by Representative James R. Mann. It consists of a silver tea service.

To Tell Life Message at P. S. A. Meeting
The Allison Hill Men's Christian Association will provide a slight change from their usual order of speaker at their next "Pleasant Sunday Afternoon" meeting, when John H. Farmer will give an address on "What's the Score?" Mr. Farmer is a machinist employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad at the Lucknow shops six days out of the seven, and is not even a semi-professional public speaker, but he has a message drawn from a wide experience of life which is intensely interesting, with a particular appeal to the man who does not attend church.

Among his workmates John is well and favorably known for his advocacy of clean living, which has, if anything, been intensified since his visit to Scranton several weeks ago to hear Billy Sunday, and he will likely have something to say about this at the Hill meeting. There will be the usual song service at 2:30, the regular meeting starting at 3:45 and lasting one hour. A large attendance is looked for.

LIFE IS A FUNNY PROPOSITION AFTER ALL

I Spent the Last Six Years in Pain and Misery, Whereas They Surely Could Have Been Spent Hale and Hearty, Had I Known What I Know Now

Words similar to above were spoken this morning at the drug store in the presence of the Health Teacher and a number of other people by Mr. Rudolf Specker, of Steelton. He further stated his case as follows: "Just about six years ago I became afflicted with what was pronounced kidney trouble. I began to have pains across my back and shoulders which became worse from day to day. Eventually these pains spread to different parts of my body; some times my arms would ache and at other times the pains seemed to jump to my knees and ankles. I realized then that I suffered from a terrible case of rheumatism and began to squander my money for a cure. I used electric and massage treatments, liniments and oils and was always taking some kind of internal medicine or other, but no cure. I became so discouraged that I often wished I were dead. I was told to call on the Health Teacher and learn what the Quaker remedies would do for me, but I had lost all confidence and refused to visit him. A neighbor of mine, Mr. Henry Hohmann, bought a full treatment of the Quaker remedies for rheumatism, and it was helping him so much that he urged me to try some of his treatment. I did so and was surprised to find that it was helping me. I then sent to the drug store for a treatment. To-day, after taking the remedy just about six weeks, I can truthfully state that I am entirely cured. I have no more aches or pains. I again walk without my cane, and I must admit the Quaker Extract and Oil have cured me. I am going to Atlantic City to-day to spend about ten days and upon my return I will gladly meet any sufferer of rheumatism, and prove that Quaker cured me." If you suffer from rheumatism, call and get the Quaker remedies from W. H. Kennedy's Drug Store, 30 South Third street.—Advertisement.
