Strikers Who Hoot Workmen Dispersed by Police on Mulberry Street Bridge

Not Hampered, Officials Say

There were few developments in the strike of members of the Brotherhood of Federated Railway Employes in Harrisburg to-day. A body of strikers paraded down town this morning and halted on the Mulberry street bridge halted on the Mulberry street bridge just over the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad where some of them called hard names at the men on the roadway below. Two policemen were summoned who dispersed them. There will be another meeting this evening and a parade like that of last night with women in line, it was said at the brotherhood headquarters to-day. Just Read What Captain

"Joe" Thompson "Has On"

Harrisburg's captain of police, Joseph P. Thompson, appeared in an attractive new uniform yesterday.

The uniform, which is of dark blue, rame from Paris. The trimmings are in gold braid. The cap is of military exulation, with bold braid. Around he cuffs is a circle of gold braid. Two yows of gold buttons adorn the front fit he coat, and on the left side of the coat, captain Thompson wears his gold addressed to the confict of the coat, captain Thompson wears his gold addressed to the confict over any question of State or interstate jurisdiction.

The mediation and prevent strikes track brotherhood headquarters to-day. The men are still pinning their hopes to a meeting of officials of other brotherhoods here to-morrow, but members of those orders said that they would not be in a position to take any action toward a sympathy strike at this time even though they might be inclined that way.

Vice-president Arthur J. Lovell, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, arrived here this afternoon and Vice-President Valentine Fitzpatrick, of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, is also in the city.

Last evening the Pennsylvania Railroad Company issued its first compression of the production of Page 141

One Killed When Wind Destroys Tenement

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 12.—George Johnson was killed and five other persons were seriously injured when a tenement at New Kensington, Pa., collapsed in a storm soon after midnight. Fifty persons lived in the old building, and it was not until late this forenoon that the fear that many had been killed was dispelled.

The storm was the most severe of the season and did damage amounting to many thousands of dollars, much of which was in the oil fields where scores of rigs were blown down.

While a passenger train on the Pennsylvania railroad was passing through Derry, Pa., lightning struck the rear coach. Two passengers were struck by flying glass but not seriously injured.

Help Yourself

The information that you need in regard to your purchase will probably be found in the ad-vertising columns to-day. Every line therein is a message to some one. It is written with a helpful purpose.

It is definite and to the point. It will profit the man who puts in the advertisement only as it profits you—remember that.

To your question as to what rofits you—remember that.
To your question as to what r where to select the advertising columns contain the answer.
It's here—help yourself.

Late News Bulletins WILSON STILL HAS HOPES OF PEACE Washington, May 12.—Members of the cabinet after a prolonged conference with President Wilson to-day on the Mexican situation declared the President maintained confidence that mediation would succeed and that further serious consequences in Mexico would be averted.

OWEN WANTS GOVERNMENT PIPE LINE Washington, May 12.—Senator Owen presented to the Senate to-day a resolution of independent producers protesting against the cutting of the price of Oklahoma oils, and urging the establishment of a govern-ment pipe line to the gulf and bureau to govern pipe line.

ANOTHER PORTRAIT SLASHED London, May 12.—A militant suffragette armed with a hatchet to-day seriously damaged a valuable portrait of the Duke of Wellington in the Royal Academy.

SLIGHT EARTH SHOCKS CONTINUE Catania, Sicily, May 12.—Slight shocks of carthquake were felt to-day in this city and Mount Etna became very active again. During the night tongues of flame issued from the crater which is surmounted by a high column of smoke.

BOMB THROWN INTO ROOM

Kingston, N. Y., May 12.—A bomb thrown into a bedroom occupied by Mrs. Darwin Hinckley and her two daughters early to-day, exploded and seriously injured two of them. One of the daughters, Violet Win-chell, escaped unhurt, but the other, Rena Hinckley, was badly hurt, and Mrs. Hinckley received injuries which may result in blindness.

New York, May 12.—The market closed steady. Speculation was listless with prices variably changing on an unusually narrow movement. Covering purchases produced a firmer tone in the final trading, but the demand was meager and limited to a handful of stocks.
