

WOMEN AND THEIR INTERESTS

WILL AND HEREDITY

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company

Once upon a time I put an idea as old as God, and as large as the universe, into simple and compact form for the benefit of the ordinary mind, just as a homeopathist puts strong medicines into small pills for the benefit of those who cannot, or will not, assimilate big doses of drugs. Here is my poetical pill:

Out from the tomb crept Vice with hideous leer,
"I am Heredity," he cried, "whom all men fear!"
Sleep, but die not. When fate calls I come,
And generations at my touch succumb."
A lofty shape rose sudden in his path,
He cried, "You lie!" and struck at him in wrath.
Heredity, the braggar, stark and still,
Fell prostrate at the feet of Mighty Will.

Now comes a protest from a physician. He says:
"I write you because I believe your faith to be wrong, in direct antagonism to the grand idea of an omniscient and omnipotent Creator, and moreover, because I believe that its unfeeling acceptance would lead to untold suffering, disease and death. This much science teaches me."

Doctor Protests in Verse
In order to prove his "grand" idea of an omniscient and omnipotent Creator, I am sorry to say, the good doctor sent me a whole page of his protest in verse, of which one stanza will suffice to show his creed:

Feel this, Will: Though seeming dead at your bold stroke,
Heredity's no braggar and shall rise again

To harrow the world with sin and pain,
Or vex it with noble minds and hearts like oak.

I have known scores of human beings who were yoked like cattle to their load of belief in the hopelessness of their inheritance, and who "died as the fool dieth," either physically or morally, because they EXPECTED to.

I know a woman to-day who believes she "inherited" consumption through two generations of ancestors, and who is faithfully inviting it to make her the third victim.

But there are others, whom it is a greater inspiration to know, fresh air, because she "inherited" weak lungs. Then she practiced gentle calisthenics and increased the exercises gradually. She took no medicines because she had all her life taken them to no avail. She believed in her divine right to health, and she obtained robust health.

No matter what we do not know of her life—beginning this we do know—that some intelligence greater than the mind of man conceived and executed this tremendous and glorious scheme of worlds.

It Overcomes All Disease
Every part of the universe is a part of that cause beginning this we do know—that some intelligence greater than the mind of man conceived and executed this tremendous and glorious scheme of worlds.

Every star has a purpose; every human life has a purpose.
The star knows and obeys; man ignores and rebels.
But once let him know and obey and realize his higher heredity and live up to it, and he becomes a part of omnipotence. He is a crown prince thereafter and helps direct his own destiny.

In spite of the protest of my correspondent, I do not think this belief is pernicious, or that its acceptance can lead to "disease and death." Quite the contrary. I know that it overcomes disease, poverty and misery when it is persisted in.
As for death, that is only a part of eternal life, and we do not want to overcome it.
Therefore doctors and medicines have their place in the world. Men will need physicians until they learn their true relation to nature. Then they will know how to heal themselves.
It is a beautiful thing to die, but it is a terrible thing to be sick, poor and miserable while you live.
Let man learn that he is heir to health, happiness and plenty.
They are his. They belong to every one of us. Let every soul whose eyes scans these lines believe he is to be well, happy and prosperous, because it is his right. Expect it and work for it. It will be done through you, not for you.

Is a Divine Inheritance
The woman who cured consumption breathed and exercised while she declared health was her divine inheritance.

There is no noble height thou canst not climb;
All triumphs may be thine in Time's futurity.
If, whatsoever thy fault, thou dost not faint or halt,
But lean upon the staff of God's security.
Earth has no claim the soul cannot content;
Know thyself part of that Eternal Source,
And naught can stand before thy spirit's force—
The soul's divine inheritance is best.

BIBLE IN EVERY HOUSE
Carlisle, Pa., May 12.—At a meeting of the Cumberland County Bible Society held here yesterday, it was decided to raise funds to carry on a campaign of religious expansion. It is the idea of the league to place Bibles in all the homes of the county and with the co-operation of the Sunday schools to increase the interest in Bible work.

TWO DIE IN SHORT TIME
Special to The Telegraph
Dallastown, Pa., May 12.—Yesterday the second death in the family of George and Ida Finney within two weeks occurred. The first was that of Ellen, a 15-year-old daughter, of tuberculosis of only a few months duration, and the second that of Malvin, a 6-year-old son. The latter was affected with a heaving in the head, which started about a week ago. Absence from home of the father has made the strain a severe one on the mother, who has been helped by relatives and friends.

GAS TUBE EXPLODES AT EAGLES' HOME

Damage to Extent of $1,000 Done to New Building at Carlisle

Special to The Telegraph
Carlisle, Pa., May 11.—An explosion of a tube of gas used to carbonate water for use in the buffet caused over $1,000 damage at the new home of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. The entire rear wall of the house was blown away and the buffet and adjacent rooms partially demolished.
Spontaneous combustion is believed to have caused the explosion, which was so severe that it was heard at points over a mile distant from the home. The steward, Stephen Mart, had left the room a short time previously and was believed thereby escaped death, as pieces of the tube blew to all parts of the room. One portion, over a foot in diameter, torn out the rear door and was partially imbedded in the wooden door jamb. The tube has been in the house since April 19.
A meeting will be held on Thursday evening to assess the amount needed for repairs, which it is believed will be over $1,000.

FLARING EFFECTS ARE MOST DESIRED

Finish Flounces With Stitching or Graceful Little Ruffles

8211 Two-Piece Flounced Skirt, 22 to 30 waist.

WITH OR WITHOUT RUFFLE.

Everything that flares to produce a wide effect in the skirt is fashionable. This one is made with two circular flounces. It is very simple and very smart and it can be treated in a number of different ways. As shown here, it is all of one material but the flounces could be made of plaid or other fancy material while the skirt is plain, or if the material is heavy and it is desirable to reduce the weight, thin silk can be used for the skirt beneath the flounces while the lower portion only is of the material. The model is a good one for all seasons materials. The heavier ones will require only to be stitched on the edges, the lighter ones, such as taffeta and other silks, can be finished with little plaitings of ribbon or narrow ruchings of the material or in any manner that tends to give the effect of fullness at the lower edges.
For the medium size, the skirt will require 2 1/2 yds. of material 27, 44 or 52 in. wide, with 2 1/2 yds. 27, 2 3/4 yds. 44 or 52 in. wide for the flounces; width at lower edge 1 yd. and 20 in. for medium size.
The pattern of skirt 8211 is cut in sizes from 22 to 30 waist. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

AMUSEMENTS

VICTORIA THEATER
On account of being delayed by the railroad company the big six-reel feature, "Between Savage and Tiger," will be shown to-day. This picture is brimful of very exciting scenes enacted by the wild tiger. The actor or take many chances in working with these wild animals. "Snookem's Birthday" and "Fieckle Mary Jane" is one of those comic pictures which the theater has the reputation of showing "Across the Danger Line" is a four-act war picture full of excitement. "Ashes and Diamonds" is a beautiful two-reel picture which holds the audience from beginning to end.—Advertisement.

AT THE COLONIAL
Music, mirth and beauty all have their fling at the clever vaudeville offering that holds forth at the Colonial for the first half of the week. Music, mirth and beauty are the watchwords of this bill, which is probably the bill's greatest asset. It is provided by the Guatemalan Miramba Band, six virtuosos of a sweetly resonant instrument, constructed very exactly after a xylophone, only sweeter and more subdued in tone. The members of the band play sweetly and muchly and everybody is delighted. Their program ranges from opera to popular and stops at the way stations. The comedy of the bill is supplied by Murphy and Kearney, a duo of singing comedians. In very delightful manner they sing and parody, while the beauty is added by the Perry Sisters, nice-appearing girls, in a neat song and dance specialty. An excellent Lubin feature film entitled "The Inventor's Will" will be a special feature of to-day's picture program.—Advertisement.

PALACE THEATER
At the Palace to-day the second series of "Lucille Love, the Girl of Mystery," is being shown along with the regular program. For to-morrow an elaborate dramatic of the land of Pharaoh, "In the Shadow of the Mosque," will be shown, which is stirring, unique and impelling.
In this film the Clair has given us a powerful picture of a woman, splendidly acted and capably produced, amid wonderful desert scenery. The photography is superb and some of the scenes, deeply toned, are remarkable in their strength and vigor. We are given an intimate insight into an Arabian customs and nature, and the strange fatalism of the East that seems to be an inborn attitude of its people, is made one of the interesting themes of the play. One is bound to enjoy it for its novelty and freshness.
Augustus Carney and Gale Henry will also be shown in a rip-roaring comedy, "When Universal Ike Set." Vivian Prescott and Charles DeForest will also be featured in two Crystal comedies, "An Up-to-date Cook" and "Three Men and a Girl."—Advertisement.

Special Sunday Exercises at Camp Hill Church

Special to The Telegraph
Camp Hill, Pa., May 12.—On Sunday the Church of God held special exercises in honor of Mothers' Day. The church was artistically decorated with festoons, the color scheme being purple and white, a large streamer was suspended from the ceiling bearing the motto, "In Honor of the Best Mother Who Ever Lived—Your Own." At 9:30 the Sunday school remained in the session through what was the regular church service, at which time the pastor, the Rev. G. B. M. Reidel, made a strong address on "Motherhood." At the close a handkerchief salute was given to mother.
The attendance jumped from 61 the first Sunday in the year to 129, and the special offering at the Sunday school session toward purchasing a piano amounted to over $40.
Samuel Curran, the new superintendent of the Sunday school, has by hard work since the first of the year greatly increased the attendance and has added much needed equipment to the school. New curtains, chairs and other furniture have been bought, classes rearranged and teachers' meeting instituted. Bible and singing books have also been procured.

Sick Women Made Well

Reliable evidence is abundant that women are constantly being restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The many testimonial letters that we are continually publishing in the newspapers—hundreds of them—are all genuine, true and unsolicited expressions of heartfelt gratitude for the freedom from suffering that has come to these women solely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Money could not buy nor any kind of influence obtain such recommendations; you may depend upon it that any testimonial we publish is honest and true—if you have any doubt of this write to the women whose true names and addresses are always given, and learn for yourself.

Read this one from Mrs. Waters:

CAMDEN, N.J.—"I was sick for two years with nervous spells, and my kidneys were affected. I had a doctor all the time and used a galvanic battery, but nothing did me any good. I was not able to go to bed, but spent my time on a couch or in a sleeping-chair, and soon became almost a skeleton. Finally my doctor went away for his health, and my husband heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got relief and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—Mrs. TILLIE WATERS, 1135 Knight St., Camden, N.J.

And this one from Mrs. Haddock:

UTICA, O.K.—"I was weak and nervous, not able to do my work and scarcely able to be on my feet. I had backache, headache, palpitation of the heart, trouble with my bowels, and inflammation. Since taking the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am better than I have been for twenty years. I think it is a wonderful medicine and I have recommended it to others."—Mrs. MARY ANN HADDOCK, Utica, Oklahoma.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman continue to suffer without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ailments. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Superfluous Hair Killed Without Electricity

BY A SPECIALIST

"I have the greatest trouble with correspondents who insist on using common, worthless depilatories or want the torturing and painful electric needle applied for killing their superfluous hair," says Mme. Chaminate in Milady's Boudoir. "More means and physical suffering is caused by these abominable methods than you can imagine. I have carefully investigated and tried a new and simple method that never fails to remove all signs of hair completely and painlessly, and without injury to the skin or complexion. In a surprisingly large number of cases it has destroyed all trace of hair so that it has never returned, in fact I must caution my readers that it must not be applied to hair that they do not wish totally destroyed. It is called 'Mrs. Osgood's Wonder,' being named for a well-known woman who arranged for it to be put on the market after it had succeeded in entirely eradicating all traces of her own very distressing growth of hair on chin, lip and arms, which everything else had failed to touch.
Mrs. Osgood's Wonder is quite inexpensive; you can obtain it from Kennedy's Medicine Store, or any up-to-date drug store, on payment of the guarantee of your money back, if it fails. Ask for it by name, 'Mrs. Osgood's Wonder,' a sign guarantee comes with every package.—Advertisement.
