

HOW THIS BOY GAINS WEIGHT

His Mother Says She Gives Him Father John's Medicine to Build Him Up

Seven Year-Old Clifford Mercier

During a recent interview, Mr. Joseph Mercier, of 253 Walker street, Lowell, Mass., said to the writer: "My little boy, Clifford, now seven years old has taken Father John's Medicine whenever he had a cold or cough, ever since he was two years old, and it has never failed to give good results. We find that the medicine stops the wheezing, and he used to cough badly at night and he does not do it when we give him Father John's Medicine. We believe that Father John's Medicine gives him increased weight and strength, and we know that while taking it he always gained in weight. We would not be without it in the house, and strongly recommend Father John's Medicine to mothers of children who are weak and run down."

GLADDEN UPHOLDS NEWSPAPER WRITERS

Says Profession Is as Sacred a Calling as the Ministry

Lawrence, Kan., May 12.—The newspaper profession is as sacred a calling as the ministry, in the opinion of Dr. Washington Gladden, of Columbus, Ohio, as expressed in an address made before hundreds of newspaper men here to-day at the national newspaper conference being conducted in Kansas.

Other speakers on to-day's program were H. P. Harrington, of the Ohio State Journal, and William Irwin, a magazine writer. A paper by Frank B. Noves, of Washington, D. C., president of the Associated Press, on press association work was read.

Dr. Gladden declared what he referred to as a tendency of some newspapers toward "habits of exaggeration" and the exploitation of crime, vice and scandal. He outlined four great tasks for American journalism in the performance of which he said it might aid in purifying and invigorating public opinion.

First, to teach people to avoid exaggeration and violent speech and to cultivate moderate and rational modes of expression.

Second, to resist the tendencies which demoralize democracy and which substitute the mob mind for the deliberate habit.

Third, to hold the popular judgment firmly to the truth that character and manhood and not money and popularity are the central values of human existence.

Fourth, to turn the thoughts of men more and more from the negative virtue of detecting and exposing the evil to the positive virtue of discerning and praising the good.

It's local testimony—it can be investigated. Mrs. W. M. Shearer, 314 Nectarine street, Harrisburg, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in my family for several years. The one who took this remedy suffered from sharp, shooting pains in the small of his back and a feeling of languor clung to him. On a friend's advice, he got Doan's Kidney Pills and they brought relief. I can't speak too highly of this fine remedy."

Bald Jack Rose and Shapiro in Trial of Becker

Driver of Gunmen's Car Tells How Police of District Were "Fixed"

New York, May 12.—"Bald Jack" Rose, star witness of the trial of Charles Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, appeared in that role again to-day. A trifle stouter than when he appeared before, he took the stand shortly before noon and calmly told of the part he played in the events leading up to the gambler's death. Substantially it was the same story that he told at the first trial.

Briefly Rose recited how Becker and Rosenthal had entered into partnership in a gambling establishment; how they quarreled; how exposure for Becker was imminent, and how Rosenthal's death was plotted.

Willie Shapiro, driver of the gunmen's car, also testified to-day. He said he knew "Bald Jack" Rose and "Bridgie" Webber. He told of receiving a call at his stand in front of the Cafe Boulevard late at night on July 15. He then went to Tom Sharkey's saloon where he picked up Rose, Harry Valer and Scotty Sapp. "At Bridgie Webber's poker room the occupants of the car got out," he said.

"Fifteen minutes later, Dago Frank, Gyp the Blood, Whitley Lewis and Lefty Louie came out and I was ordered to go to the Metropole Hotel."

Sees Rosenthal Fall "At the Metropole, Dago Frank ordered me to turn the car around so it would face toward Sixth avenue. The four men got out and went to the other side of the street. In fifteen minutes I heard a shot and then four more. I looked toward the Metropole and saw a man fall."

I started my machine. I was going to get away from there. I had gone about fifty feet when the four men caught up with me and jumped on board.

"I heard Whitley say 'Make the chauffeur turn around and wait. The cops are all fixed. Everything is all right. Becker has fixed them.'"

"After the murder I took the four men to One Hundred and Twenty-Sixth street where they left."

"What did you say was the conversation in your car before the murder?" asked Mr. Manton, of Becker's counsel.

"Whitley said 'everything is all right. Becker has fixed them.'"

Mr. Manton read a copy of the testimony Shapiro offered at the trial of the gunmen. In that Shapiro said "Frank said everything is all right. Becker told me so. Under a fire of cross examination the witness got badly confused and was unable fully to reconcile his testimony of to-day with that of the previous trial."

Bell Wins First Round From Young in Auto License Case

Attorney General Bell won the first round in the mandamus proceeding to compel the State's fiscal officers to pay to the Highway Commissioner money from the accumulated automobile license fund when a jury returned an affirmative verdict on ten questions of fact submitted in the case against State Treasurer R. K. Young. This case went on trial yesterday, the State Treasurer having secured a severance of his case from that of Auditor General Powell, who refused to answer.

Testimony was given yesterday afternoon and this morning ten questions of fact were submitted after Judge McCarrell had overruled objections made by ex-Attorney General M. Hampton Todd. Mr. Todd made thirteen exceptions to the questions which concerned the status of Mr. Young, the existence of the money in the State Treasury and the refusal to pay the bill in the case.

An appeal will probably be taken after questions of law are argued.

duced for first reading next Tuesday. The provisions of the measure were discussed briefly by Mr. Lynch who said it was combination of the ordinances of several other cities. It is likely that a license fee will be charged for the privilege of erecting these tanks.

The journeymen plumbers of the city presented two big petitions both of which were referred to Commissioner Bowman. One asked that H. C. Heck 1722 North street be appointed as the journeymen representative to the plumbing board; the other complained that the letter of the law was not being observed in the plumbing regulations and asked that the journeymen be given a hearing on the subject. Mr. Bowman said he understood that among the things complained of is that the vent pipe of the required weight are not being generally used because this would necessitate special foundations and thereby cause too much expense and inconvenience. He will call time for the hearing in the near future, he said.

The new car which Mr. Taylor wishes for the park department is now being tried out. It is a five-passenger Rego. The ordinance appropriating $1,205 for the purchase, $455 of which was obtained from the sale of the old runabout. Of the balance of $850, the money is made up from several funds, including $300 from the summer tent colony fund.

FRONT ST. PAVING LIEN ASSESSMENTS CERTIFIED TODAY

Treasurer Copelin Sends List of Unpaid Costs to City Solicitor For Filing

Unpaid paving assessments against abutting property owners on Front street between Maclay and Division streets, were certified to the City Solicitor to-day by City Treasurer O. M. Copelin.

The assessments were due two months ago but the accounts were only completed to-day. They will form the basis for filing the liens and incidentally the basis for any action which the North Front street property owners may wish to bring against the city to be reimbursed for paying for the full width of the street.

Some of the property owners, it is understood, have retained counsel and it is believed that the suits must be asked to agree upon the facts and submit the case to the court. The property owners hold, it is said, that they are liable only for the cost of paving to the middle of the street and that the western half of the paving should be paid for by the city in view of the fact that the city maintains a parkway strip on the west side.

The position is based upon the Dauphin county court's recent decision in the Whitehall street case. There the half abutting on Reservoir Park was held to be non-assessable. The city will contend, however, that the situation differs in that Front street from Maclay to Division had been condemned for street purposes from its eastern curb to low water mark on the river and that the municipality is therefore not liable for any of the paving.

What land could be set aside as parkway would be set aside for park purposes. The city will maintain the line of action that was followed in State street. This, it is held by city officials, does not make the city liable for any of the paving assessment. The cost of the paving the street was $25,716.84.

War Department Leases Staten Island For New York's National Guard

New York, May 12.—The Cameron estate on Staten Island is being leased by the War Department for a concentration camp where several army divisions and State troops will be mobilized. It is estimated that the site alone will cost the government $500,000.

Plans already complete are for the construction of wooden barracks on this side for permanent use and the tents and other equipment of the various organizations will be stowed away on the transports.

On good authority it is learned that the George W. Vanderbilt and adjoining properties at New Dorp also will be rented for camp grounds.

The leasing of the camp sites and the preparations made for the embarkation of the troops is a significant incident that war is near. The activity to-day in army circles has never been so great since the Spanish-American War.

General Funston Says Mexican Cannot Take Vera Cruz Water Works

Washington, D. C., May 12.—President Wilson and members of the Cabinet discussed to-day plans for participation by the United States in the Mexican mediation conference to begin next Monday at Niagara Falls, Ontario, and various problems which have arisen since the occupation of Vera Cruz by American military forces.

Before the Cabinet met a message was received from General Funston at Vera Cruz, in which the American commander declared that no attention should be paid to "alarmist reports" that Mexican forces were threatening to attack the Vera Cruz water works. General Funston said there was no indication of movement of Mexican troops in preparation for any such attack.

"There have been rumors," General Funston's message read, "that an attack was threatened. These have been due to remarks attributed to General Maas. The water works cannot be taken from us by force. If the pipe line should be cut, it could be repaired in a few hours."

General Funston added that 200 sacks of American mail destined for Mexico City and delivered at the break in the railroad, still lay on the tracks in possession of the Mexican outpost. He had no news of Private Parks, who rode into the Mexican lines and has not returned.

Consul Alger, from Mazatlan, reported to-day at the State Department for instructions. He stated that between 14,000 and 16,000 Constitutionalists were in the vicinity of Mazatlan when he left. At that time they were protecting troops on the firing line in attempting to break through the line of wearing out the Federalists.

The thirty Americans were left at their own request. Most of them were women and children. Several hundred foreigners of other nationalities also refused to leave.
