THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 14

ELIMINATING HUERTA THE most interesting development of the Mexican controversy is the proposal of the mediators that Huerta step down and out.

But, first of all, Huerta's opinion in the matter must be taken into consideration. It must be realized that Huerta is a desperate man, playing for high stakes.

Yet the price of hosiery is no less than a year ago. Every extra pair imported has displaced a pair knit by American workmen in America.

But notwithstanding these convincing and incontrovertible facts, the White House twins—Palmer and McCormick—the personal selections of President Wilson for United States Senator and Governor of Pennsylvania, are rushing up and down the highways of the State bawling for support of an administration that seems immune to reason or common sense.

President Judge Kunkel will be given almost unanimous support for the Supreme bench in this part of Pennsylvania. His distinguished service has commended him throughout the Commonwealth and his friends are more than confident of his success, not only in the primary, but in the general election next November.

DEMOCRATS HEDGING THE Democrats in Congress are evidently endeavoring to avoid an open declaration on woman's suffrage and prohibition. In their caucus the other evening they issued a discussion of both these issues—issues that are among the most important and pressing before the national lawmaking body to-day.

IN HARRISBURG FIFTY YEARS AGO TO-DAY [From the Telegraph of May 14, 1864.] U. S. S. to Meet The annual meeting of the Union Sabbath School Society will be held to-morrow at a quarter past 3 o'clock, in the Masonic Hall, Tanners alley.

NEWS DISPATCHES OF THE CIVIL WAR [From the Telegraph of May 14, 1864.] Capture Division Baltimore, May 12.—6 P. M.—The whole of Stonewall's division, including an immense number of prisoners and forty other men, were captured, General Johnson, of Stonewall's division, is a prisoner.

AN EVENING THOUGHT The fear o' hell's the hangman's whip To haud the wretch in order; But where you feel your honor grip, Let that 'aye be your border. —Burns.

nical High School team, which is said to be a very promising aggregation of athletes. Should Tech win the shield the rivalry will be even more intense hereafter.

The annual high school events have come to be regarded as the most interesting athletic contests of the year and all of Harrisburg will turn out to see the runners and jumpers and hammerthrowers and other athletes do their stunts. All that is necessary to assure a successful meet is a little co-operation on the part of Jupiter Pluvius.

Every paved street in this city must be in fine shape before the big freshmen's convention, and as City Commissioner "Billy" Lynch is an old fighter himself, he will see to it that the Harrisburg streets are all right.

"SUPPORT THE PRESIDENT!" A PARROT CRY THERE is a hosiery and knit goods factories in Harrisburg and throughout Central Pennsylvania. Employees of these plants are watching the operation of the Wilson free trade policy with increasing contempt for an administration that will deliberately destroy American industry.

When the hosiery and knit goods manufacturers told Congress that a reduction in the tariff on their product would seriously injure their business and benefit no one but the foreigners, the Democratic Congressmen, or did they? The answer was to be reduced at all hazards and the manufacturers must submit to the tariff.

The manufacturers are not content with their present tariff. They submit facts in support of their contention that their business has been injured. One man, who has never run his factory on half time save during one year of Cleveland's second administration, asserts that he is now confronted by a similar slump in business.

Speaking of fish, there is the usual demand made at the State Department of Fisheries for young sunfish by people who have ponds near their homes and who are going to spend the summer in localities where there are bodies of water offering good breeding grounds for mosquitoes. Young "sunfish" delight in eating the larvae of mosquitoes and the State has aided as far as possible localities where the "sketeers" have been pests. Well authenticated records show that mosquitoes are not numerous where there are many sunfish.

One of the noticeable things about the construction of the street railway here is the fact that the entire approval of the course of the Public Service Commission. To put it mildly, the commission has gone into practices of the traction lines have been rather expensive. But the traction men have not only submitted, but formed a committee to work out uniformity in reports in conjunction with the commission. In this enlightened and wise acceptance of the act the traction men are rather distinct from other public utility companies.

Among visitors to the city to-day was ex-Congressman D. F. Lefean, of York, one of the candidates for nomination for Congress at-large on the Republican ticket. Mr. Lefean is a well-known manufacturer and was elected for several terms from the York-Adams district.

It's odd how people will flock to the Susquehanna river when there is a prospect of a possible flood. Last night word got about that there was danger of high water at Wilkes-Barre. This morning scores of people lined the river bank watching the stream.

John H. Hoffman, formerly of this city, has just completed his term as grand recorder of the Knights of Malta.

The Rev. J. Edward Harms, of York, prominent in the general affairs, has accepted a call to Dayton, Ohio.

Emerson Collins, the Williamsport lawyer, addressed graduation classes in Clearfield county towns.

George E. Barst will be re-elected president of the Philadelphia Bourse, with whose building up he has had much to do.

Joseph B. McCull, president of the Philadelphia Electric Company, recently celebrated his forty-fourth birthday.

The prohibition and suffrage amendments to the national constitution were not considered by the caucus, it was explained, because they were not party measures. The action of the caucus, Democrats tried to show, does not preclude their consideration in the House if they can be reached AFTER THE DEMOCRATIC PROGRAM has been disposed of.

Was there ever a better example of political hedging than this? And President Wilson lends himself to it by agreeing to the terms of the caucus. By the way, where does President Wilson stand on suffrage and national prohibition?

Doesn't it begin to look as though he and the other Democrats at Washington are trying to postpone any definite action on these important matters until after the November elections in order to carry water on both shoulders and appeal to both sides?

Appealing for support of an administration which has done so little to deserve support is the up-hill job of the White House twins who have already torn the Democracy of Pennsylvania asunder.

After this week the political pot ought to be permitted to cool off and give baseball a chance.

EVENING CHAT

Chestnut street between Second and Third on a market morning is about the meanest stretch of highway in Harrisburg and trolley cars have to elbow their way through the farmers' wagons and the delivery teams which cluster about it.

Along the shore of the river just above the pumping station is a whole lot of undoubtedly good firewood—sawyer cords of it in bulk, in fact—ready and waiting to be taken without even the asking. Father Susquehanna provided it. The half-dozen or more cords of prime kindling, furnace or boiler wood is contained in a giant tree twenty-five or more feet in length and at least four feet in circumference.

Fishermen in this section of the Susquehanna Valley have been watching with a great deal of interest the result of the planting of salmon fry by United States government experts.

Senator Boies Penrose spent last night in the city so as to get an early start on his way to Bellefonte, the first stop in his final primary campaign tour, and smiled broadly when asked about the entrance of Secretary of State Bryan and other Cabinet officials into the Democratic primary fight.

I see they are taking a hand. The last time an administration took a hand in a factional contest in a State was in New York and we know what happened," said he. The senator appeared to be in fine fettle and well pleased with his prospects. He will visit State College to-day and then go to Bellefonte, where he will be in other places to-morrow and winding up the week in Johnstown at a meeting. Sunday he will come here and remain for the family party of the Harrisburg Republican Club on Monday.

Members of the committee of arrangements for the dinner in celebration of the twelfth anniversary of the incorporation of the Harrisburg Republican Club have completed their plans. Prepare for the family dinner the night of Monday at Chestnut Street Hall. The dinner will be limited to members and a few guests, as it is to be a social affair.

Democrats in the city legislative district have gotten into a brawl which threatens to complicate matters in the Democratic gubernatorial contest. This city is a pair of which will be watched with great interest all over the State and as the machine has openly espoused the cause of Jesse J. Lybarger the friends of the other three candidates will concentrate fire on him. Lybarger has been noisier than ever known in his previous campaigns, none of which landed him in the Legislature.

Curious, the only candidate Bryan mentioned by name was Palmer. The Patriot says that when Bryan spoke of candidates he made a gesture that took McCormick. But he did not name him.

They say Bryan has a long memory about those who voted against him in the years of his crusades. Bryan must have lost his punch that they have drafted "Billy" Wilson so soon.

Ryan appears to have been studying McCormick at close range. Mayor Warman at Uniontown, had to prevent John O'Donnell, a newspaperman, from attacking Ryan last night.

Federal officeholders in Philadelphia have been notified of a "meeting" at the Democratic Club to-morrow. State Chairman Morris will speak.

Pinchot is touring Bucks county and enjoying the scenery. The McCormick caravan touched five counties yesterday. The counties which they are touching later on.

In McCormick's ads he is called the "rescuer and reviver" of the Democratic party. Wonder where Palmer comes in.

McCormick expressed himself as well satisfied with his campaign in Pittsburgh yesterday.

"BILLY" WILSON CALLED TO STATE

Desperate Machine Ticket Drafts the Secretary of Labor to Explain McCormick

BRYAN CAN'T STEM THE TIDE City Legislative Nominations Bone of Contentions Among the Democrats Today

Secretary of Labor "Billy" Wilson has been drafted from Washington to help the Palmer-McCormick ticket in the Democratic primaries next Tuesday, and will pay particular attention to explaining McCormick's labor record.

McCormick's defensive play has been weak and even Palmer's interference has not checked onslaughts. Now they have brought in "Billy" to form a flying wedge in the hope that they may get McCormick across the line.

Bryan had a fine time yesterday. He had crowds out all along the line. The machine Democrats passed along the word and lots of other folks turned out to see and hear the Secretary of State.

Bryan was sent in by the Palmer, but to try to get him straight. The administration is thoroughly alarmed over fear of a rebuff, and it was significant that Bryan mentioned only Palmer in his speech.

Senator Boies Penrose spent last night in the city so as to get an early start on his way to Bellefonte, the first stop in his final primary campaign tour, and smiled broadly when asked about the entrance of Secretary of State Bryan and other Cabinet officials into the Democratic primary fight.

Let Papa Alone [From the Pottsville Journal.] Now what kind of a flower would we wear on Father's day if such a day were designated? Somebody has suggested the night-blooming cereus, but we reject it instantly. We recognize the animus behind the suggestion. With all this in mind we desire to enter a motion to quash all these suggestions and to let father alone. The old gentleman appears to be enjoying himself. He is at peace with world and everybody who does not go to put something off-color over him. He is doing his duty to-day he has always done it, but he don't want anybody to apostrophize him because of the fact. Let him alone.
