with 45 1/2 points. Steelton made a hard fight to take second honors, but lost out in not having a larger representation in some of the events. Steelton quit with 36 1/2 points.

By their victory on Saturday Tech is entitled to the championship shield one year, when it will be turned over to Reading permanently. The Berks county champions took home with them a handsome silver cup, the prize awarded to the runner-up.

Central High was a disappointment. Central lacked material and after Tech made a killing in the early events a number of Central athletes lost heart and showed little energy in their work.

While the final result of the meet was almost a certainty after eight of the fourteen events had been started, the competition was keen until the finish. The fight between Steelton and Reading for second honors was bitter. When it was made plain that Tech had the meet tied up interest with the other schools centered in landing medal honors. The smaller schools, by reason of having five-point winners in each event, fared much better than during any previous meet and carried off a number of medals.

Central High had 21 points and came in fourth. Next came Phillipsburg with 11 points. Waynesboro boys were prominent in two dash events and scored 9 points. Bloomsburg, Millersburg and Milton each scored 4 points; Altoona had 2.

Winner's Mother Kisses Him

Beck made the best showing for Tech, scoring 15 points. Anderson was second with 11 and Garland third with 10. The work of Garland was one of the interesting features. His finish in the two-mile event was one of the features of the meet. This boy was as fresh as when he started. At no time did Garland appear to be exerting himself. At the finish he was carried across the field and his mother kissed him out where all could see. Another game boy was Chambers, of Steelton, who went half the distance in the 440 with a bare foot.

PENROSE HERE TO ATTEND BANQUET

Republican Club members and a few guests will celebrate a dozen years of incorporated existence. It will not be a large affair, as the tickets have been restricted to members and their personal guests. Senator Penrose, Congressman Kreider and Mayor Frank B. McClain will be club guests, Governor Tener being prevented from attending by orders of his physician that he remain quiet at home to recover from an injury to muscles of his back. Republican legislative nomination candidates will also be present.

The primaries next Tuesday. The people are thoroughly aroused to the importance of the issues before them and they demand the return of the Republican party to the control of national affairs," said the senator in discussing the probable result of the primaries to-morrow, when the Republicans of Pennsylvania will pass upon his own candidacy and that of J. Benjamin Dimmick, of Scranton, for the Republican nomination for United States senator.

Senator Penrose closed his campaign for the nomination with an address at a big meeting in Johnstown Saturday night. One year ago Wednesday he opened his campaign at Washington, Pa., where he had gone to deliver an address at a meeting of good roads advocates. Since then he has visited every part of the State, has made hundreds of speeches and personally has greeted many thousands of citizens. Comparatively few of his addresses have been of a political character, as many of the invitations he accepted were to attend country fairs and other gatherings of farmers and to address patriotic orders, school children and civic organizations.

Senator Penrose appeared confident that Dimmick would not receive any effective support.

"During the last two months I have been deeply impressed by the fact that many thousands of patriotic men heretofore in the Democratic party now openly are expressing their intention to vote the Republican ticket in November on national issues. The people of Pennsylvania are convinced that it is the economic policies of the Republican party alone that can bring prosperity to the country. Industrial conditions which are growing worse instead of better are so apparent all over the State as to cause alarm alike among the wage-earner and the employer.

"I have not found any element of the people, whether agricultural, industrial or commercial, which does not view the situation in the same light. I look for so large a Republican vote at the primaries that it will be an assurance of party success in November.

"There are few persons who do not believe that the result of the election will be a Republican landslide. The third party has gone down as rapidly as it came up. It cannot elect its candidates and can accomplish nothing except the election of Democrats in close districts."

Senator Penrose went to Johnstown from Phillipsburg and met many prominent citizens of Johnstown and Republicans from various parts of Cambria county. There were delegations from South Fork, Ebensburg, Hastings, Patton, Lilly, Big Bend and other towns. He was told that sentiment in Cambria county, which in 1912 was one of the strongest Bull Moose counties in the State, had undergone a remarkable change; that the workmen in the big industrial plants, the farmers and the people generally had had all they wanted of Democratic administration, and that they were ready to vote the Republican ticket.
