MISS LUCY PRICE,
Who Is Against Women's Voting and
Wants to Debate With Suffragists

With a challenge for a debate to take place in this city with their antagonists, the Pennsylvania Society for Woman's Suffrage, the anti-suffragists to-day began a whirlwind campaign to win votes for the cause that is against woman's voting. Miss Lucy Price, of Cleveland, Ohio, a representative of the national anti-suffrage association, came to Harrisburg yesterday and outlined plans for conducting meetings in this city and in the surrounding section.

Miss Price announced that she would at once issue a challenge to the suffrage party to meet her party in open debate. At headquarters of the Pennsylvania Society for Woman's Suffrage this morning it was said that in all probability the challenge will be accepted. Later in the day the recently elected president, Mrs. Frank M. Roessing, of Pittsburgh, who will again assume the executive office after

MAY EXTEND INVITATION

Washington, May 22.—In circles close to the Mexican Constitutionalists here it was definitely expected today that within twenty-four hours, a renewed invitation would be extended to the Constitutionalists to be represented at the Niagara Falls mediation conference. Whether General Carranza would accept the invitation was not known, but it was positively asserted that, should he do so, it would be without declaring an armistice or agreeing in any way to check his campaign against Huerta forces.

New York, May 22.—The market closed firm to-day. Following the irregular opening it soon became so stagnant that it failed to exercise the slightest influence in either direction. MAN WHO SHOT RUPP
SOLD CHICKENS JUST BEFORE ARREST HERE

So Declares Lieutenant Warden
Who Traced Slayer's Route
From Home of Farmer

At the hearing of John Bent, alias Max Morganthal, the Harrisburg huckster charged with the murder of John M. Rupp, a Cumberland county farmer, Lieutenant of Police Edward Warden, will be an important witness. The hearing will take place Monday night at Carlisle.

Lieutenant Warden has some interesting evidence to give. Though the efforts of the Harrisburg officer, Bent's travels have been traced from the time he left the Rupp farm, until the arrest was made on the Harrisburg bridge. Bent did not come by way of the main road to Harrisburg, but drove over the Conodoguinet creek and stopped at West Fairview, where, it is said, he disposed of a coop of chickens, according to Warden.

Mechanicsburg when first questioned by Lieutenant Warden. Later the huckster said to the lieutenant:

"If I had gone up the river and crossed over at the Juniata Bridge, you never would have got me. You would not have fixed this on me, either."

Other things told by Morganthal, which may prove that there was someone else with the huckster when the shooting occurred, will be a part of the testimony at a hearing next Monday night.

In the vicinity of the Rupp home, and at various points in Cumberland county, detectives are hunting for evidence on which they hope to convict Bent on a charge of murder in the first degree.

Alleged Murderer's
Little Dog Sits and Whines For Master

John Bent, charged with the murder of John Rupp, the farmer, told District Attorney Jasper Alexander at Carlisle yesterday that he had no friends. He probably overlooked his little fox terrier.

Neighbors in the vicinity of South and Filbert streets tried hard to comfort this little dog to-day. It could not be done. Ever since yesterday, when Bent failed to turn up at his rooms his dog has been howling listlessly about the neighborhood. He refuses food and whines at every comforting word. It was suggested by one neighbor that the dog be sent to Carlisle.

Returns From 53 Counties at Hand; Some Big Districts
Still Out

With the returns in hand from fifty-three counties Judge Kunkel was this afternoon in the lead over Judge Endlich for nomination as candidate for Supreme Court Judge by 5,700 votes. The returns in hand do not include the two large counties of Lackawanna and Luzerne, where it was reported that Judge Endlich might poll more votes than Judge Kunkel, but the counties still to be heard from are expected to offset any gains likely to be made by the Reading jurist in the anthracite counties.

The complete but unofficial figures from thirty counties were received this afternoon giving Judge Kunkel a total of 1,231 votes and Endlich 268. It is understood that Judge Kunkel will have a majority over Endlich in Bucks.

The way it looks Judge Kunkel will be on the ballot.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon revised figures that practically assure the nomination of Judge Kunkel were given out at the Kunkel headquarters. Judge Kunkel now has about 5,500 majority over Endlich. Lackawanna gave Endlich 2,744 and Kunkel 2,556, which was regarded as a splendid showing for the Dauphin county jurist. Luzerne, Bucks, Juniata and some other counties are still out, but the result seems sure.

BECKER'S FATE IS NOW IN HANDS OF
JURY; VERDICT SOON

Judge Seabury's Charge Lasted For More Than Two Hours This Morning

New York, May 22.—Justice Seabury began his charge to the jury in the Becker case at 10 o'clock this morning and concluded at 12.29 this afternoon.

Becker appeared in court a few minutes after the jury was seated. His wife sat at the side of the room.

"This defendant," began Justice Seabury, "is charged with murder in the first degree. The people do not claim that he fired the shot that killed Rosenthal. But they charge him with producing the commission of the crime."

"If this defendant as a lieutenant of police had a murder done, Justice demands that he be convicted and punished by being sentenced to death. But he must be proved guilty beyond reasonable doubt."

Justice Seabury read the jury several statutes dealing with the crime of murder, to show that in law a man who procured or aided in the commission of murder is to be considered a principal.

"If this defendant," he went on, "either directly or indirectly procured the murder of Herman Rosenthal he is guilty as charged."

"The State has introduced both direct and circumstantial evidence. The law does not act upon circumstantial evidence alone. It does act, however, when some direct evidence is introduced. Jurors should not disregard circumstantial evidence simply because it is such."

The case went to the jury at 12.52 p. m.

The jury was expected to return before evening.

Judge Gary Declares

New York, May 22.—The country is entering on a new era of big business according to the address of Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, at the opening of the annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute to-day.

"As I read the signs of the times," said Judge Gary, "there is a well developed sentiment throughout this country in favor of giving big business a fair chance."

Phyllis Was His Only Joy, But
She Fell Down the Sewer

So What's Wrong With David Bestowing a Bit of Affection on Her Sisters, Huh?

Double comfort in his loneliness is to be provided for Swan David, widower of Wildwood Lake.

Two more swans, said to be sisters of Phyllis, David's pretty graceful wife that was, are coming to ease David's lonesome hours. They have been ordered by City Commissioner M. Harvey Taylor, superintendent of parks, and are expected here within a day or two.

Phyllis, David's first love, last fall fell down the sewer at the upper end of the lake and was never heard of again.

Since then David has passed up loading on the lake to any extent and has been taking over the boshop of the runways of the Sam Eshlinger barnyard.

The new lady swans will likely be called Naomi and Ruth.

Training School Girls to Get Diplomas Tonight

Thirty-six small folks of the hair-ribbon-kickerbocker age will figure very prominently this evening at the commencement exercises of the teachers' training class for 1914. The exercises will be held in the auditorium of the Technical high school.

The youngsters who will bear so important a part in the program will be the pupils of the "model" schools, eighteen having been selected from each of the two rooms that are used by the embryo schoolma'ams for demonstration work.

The program for this evening is unusually good and judging from the inquiries as to admission tickets, etc., it is safe to say that a big crowd will be on hand to see another lot of Harrisburg's pretty girl schoolmarm get their diplomas.

Constitutionalists Begin to Realize
Value of Sending Representative

By Associated Press

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 22.—Confronted with the announcement from Washington that the Constitutionalists were planning to send a representative here, the mediators as well as the American and Mexican delegates awaited with much interest to-day some definite word as to his mission.

Until the exact purposes of a Constitutional representative here are officially communicated to the mediators they will be unable to determine whether or not he can be admitted into the negotiations.

A midnight conference of the three mediators and the Huerta delegates discussed various possibilities in this connection but no conclusion was understood to have been reached in view of the absence of definite information.

In the meantime the American and Huerta commissioners were in communication with Washington and Mexico City about the preliminary phases of the questions to be discussed in the mediation itself. No formal conferences were planned for to-day, much of the time being set aside for sight-seeing and entertainment. Informal talks between the mediators and commissioners, however, are not subject to regular schedule so that the day was expected to develop further conversations.

May Be Informal

The possible entry of the Constitutionalists into the gathering was of absorbing interest to the mediation colony.

On just what basis the Constitutional emissary would reopen negotiations with the three South American diplomats occasioned much interest among the principals to the parleys. The only word that had come of the Constitutional intentions was contained in press dispatches. It was confidently expected that before any emissaries would come to the mediation would be made to the mediators though it was also suggested that the visit of the new delegate might be purely informal, reserving explanation of his mission for a personal call.

Make Your

A properly trimmed window is a great business builder. What is better to put in your display than the things the people want to see?

Suppose there is an advertising campaign on in the local newspaper exploring some article that happens to be in your stock.

Naturally, that name is in the public mind and there is a desire to see that particular article. Then is the time to put it in your window and let the public know you are on the job.
