Plans for the big parade and mass meeting by the members of the Broth-erhood of Federated Railway Em-

Plans for the big parade and mass meeting by the members of the Brotherhood of Federated Railway Employes to-morrow night will be completed to-night when a program will be announced. The committee in charge of arrangements expects 2,000 men in the parade.

At a meeting held in White's Hall yesterday afternoon general plans were discussed for a wage-earners' coperative department store. The officers elected and committees appointed were:

L. G. Smith, president; E. A. Nesanger, vice-president; W. S. Quigley, secretary; H. O. Matter, treasurer; directors, George Baltoser, chairman; G. G. Royce, W. S. Lindley, S. W. Smith, O. C. Burg, A. Hall, C. L. Smith, D. H. Dibler, W. R. Gallagher, F. X. Wolfe, H. L. Melchoir, W. W. Winn, W. R. Wagner, J. S. Abergast, E. Manley, S. D. W. Sohn, T. D. Trout, W. N. Collis, L. S. Fry, L. G. Smith, E. A. Nesanger, H. O. Matter, chairman; L. G. Smith, W. D. Sohn, G. W. Baltoser, W. S. Quigley; committee on printing and advertising, L. G. Smith, T. A. Nesanger, W. Lindley.

The following was given out at Philadelphia division headquarters: "The statement made by W. H. Pierce that employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad are coerced into taking membership in the Mutual Benefit Association is absolutely false and without foundation," said John L. Parks, a Harrisburg yard brakeman, this morning. "The Mutual Benefit Association is absolutely false and without foundation," said John L. Parks, a Harrisburg yard brakeman, this morning. "The Mutual Benefit Association was gotten up by the employes themselves and the company has nothing to do with it."

A meeting of the Mutual was held last evening at which a large number of the members were present, and there were expressions of indignation that the association should be misrepresented.

Strike Mediation

Dr. Stough's Plan

Hazelton, Pa., May 28.—The Rev. Dr. Stough, evangelist, assuming what he termed his final role as a factor in attempted settlement of the protracted Hazelton trolley strike, took an entirely new course by suggesting arbitration as the only remaining means of reaching an adjustment. He announced that the strikers, through W. F. Welsh, vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes, had agreed during the day to submit their side of the dispute to an impartial board. He expressed the view that it was the duty of the Lehigh Traction Company, on behalf of its employes and the long suffering public likewise, to accept the proposition, so that there could be ari early and sensible termination of what he termed an intolerable situation.
