

HORRORS! HARRISBURG HAS BREWERY STRIKE AND MERCURY'S AT 90

Police Called Out to See What Can Be Done About It

OHO! FOR THE FOAMING GLASS

Management Says Places of All Strikers Have Been Filled

Horrors! Harrisburg has a brewery strike. And the mercury's near ninety!

Fifteen men quit the job at the Fink beer brewing place this morning. Absolutely! The fact that the cold stein is now the habit did not influence the strikers one whit. And the announcement is made that "the worst is yet to come."

For some time a delegate of the International Union of Brewery Workers from Cincinnati has been in Harrisburg raising some sort of a how-do among those who make the foaming fluids that please so large a part of human kind hereabouts. In Steelton, it is said, the delegate persuaded every man who works in the brewery there to join the union. In Harrisburg, the story goes, many workmen have agreed to obey the union laws and regulations. Recently the workmen of the Fink brewery demanded a conference with Milton H. Plank, head of the Fink brewery. The conference was held this morning.

Union employes who worked at the Fink brewery were on hand, but it is said the head representative from Cincinnati did not show up. Mr. Plank asked his men if they were going to work. Fifteen said "No" and left the place. Later six returned. One hour later the vacancies were all filled, according to Edward Boswell, head brewmaster.

Police Called Out

There was no trouble. Someone saw the crowd and called the police. Patrolmen Coleman, Phillips and Murphy were sent to Capital and Forster streets, but the men had left when the officers arrived. Mr. Plank said to-day:

"There is no trouble. The wages we pay are higher than in many breweries allied with the union. Most of the workmen are Americans. Those who quit to-day included one driver and men employed in the various departments. There are too many men out of work to-day to worry about a strike."

WANT TO LOOK AT YOUR FRAMEWORK?

New Electrical X-Rays at Shoppe Hospital Will Help You Do It

To gaze through a frame that looks as if it were covered with green gauze and see a heart beat, to sit in a chair and let electric currents play through the body, to stand up before a cabinet with a tube in front of it, see a flash of green light and a little later look at a photograph of the interior arrangements of your human mechanism—these are a few of the wonders new to Harrisburg and to become a permanent part of the medical equipment at the Shoppe Hospital, Second and Hamilton streets. During this week several physicians have inspected the wonderful X-ray transformer, recently installed at the hospital, and already the apparatus has demonstrated its ability as an infallible diagnostician.

The mechanism is the most perfect yet produced in electric-therapeutic laboratories. Its control is so wonderful that, merely to example one phase of the machine, it is possible to set a time-exposure for from one-tenth of a second upward, turn the switch, and the machine automatically obeys. Perhaps not so wonderful, but certainly more spectacular than the photographic taking machine is the fluoroscope, where by means of the same weird, greenish rays it is possible to see the actual interior arrangements of the body in the discharge of their functions. Dr. Shoppe has already taken a number of remarkable photographs, particularly some of the bones which are so perfect as to show the very fibers of the bony structure.

Look For Parents of Child Found Dead in Barrel

County Detective James Walters is trying to locate the parents of a dead child, found in a barrel in a cellar at 662 Calder street yesterday.

Mrs. Fanny Raudhant, colored, who moved into the house recently, was cleaning the cellar and found the decomposed body of a baby in a barrel of rubbish. Coroner Eckinger believes the child was killed after being born. The body had been in the barrel about three weeks. Coroner Eckinger turned over his report to District Attorney Stroup. Prior to Mrs. Raudhant moving into the house it was occupied by a family of Hungarians.

A CLOTHING PRESERVATIVE

There was a time when men and women only sent their clothes to the cleaners or to the laundry because they wanted it to do emergency service. But to-day people who dress well send their clothing frequently to a reliable cleaning establishment. Phone to Compton and you'll make no mistake, 1006 North Third street.

Henry Sourbeer Stricken in Hummelstown Streets

Stricken in the streets of Hummelstown while returning to his home in this city from Stoverdale yesterday afternoon shortly before 4 o'clock, Henry Sourbeer, aged 79, of 716 Capital street, died shortly afterwards in the parsonage of the Rev. Arthur L. Lehman, at Hummelstown.

Mr. Sourbeer was a well-known merchant of the West End. For the past forty years he was engaged in the dry goods business at 1321 North Sixth street. Mr. Sourbeer was accompanied by his son, F. Marion Sourbeer, when he died. His death was due to acute indigestion and heat prostration. Mr. Sourbeer was born in Columbia in 1835. He was a member of the Ridge Avenue Methodist Church. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Burial will be made in the East Harrisburg Cemetery. Besides a son, five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren survive.

tunity to see what effect the evangelistic campaign is having on the laboring classes of Hazleton.

A final letter to the churches has been sent out by E. F. Weaver, secretary of the campaign to be held here, giving details of the trip, with request that names of those who wish reservations on the special train be sent to him at once, as identification cards must be obtained for each passenger. Every man or woman who can make the trip has been requested to send in his or her name at once so that arrangements can be completed satisfactorily. Mr. Weaver can be reached by the downtown people at 25 North Third street. Robert F. Webster, 223 South Fourth street, is looking after the Hill section.

How Campaign Will Open

E. F. Weaver this morning said that the evangelistic campaign will really begin in Harrisburg about the middle of August, when neighborhood prayer meetings will be held in every section of the city three and four times a week. These neighborhood prayer meetings will be held with a view to awakening interest in the work and preparing those interested for the great amount of personal work which will have to be done to get results. In addition to the holding of these neighborhood prayer meetings, gigantic mass meetings for men will be held throughout the city many times before the formal opening of the campaign in November. Meetings will be held simultaneously on the Hill, in the West End and in the central portions of the city. Probably great joint meetings will be held from time to time in one or other of the theaters.

Stough Has Hard Fight

Dr. Stough is having one of the hardest fights and greatest successes of his career at Hazleton, where he is now in his fifth week. The work of the party has been handicapped by a trolley strike covering the surrounding towns which has prevented thousands near by from attending his services. Notwithstanding this there have been about 3,000 converts and some of the most remarkable demonstrations ever seen in the region. Through Dr. Stough's efforts, during which he has impartially outlined the just claims of both sides of the strike fight, the employes have consented to submit their case to arbitration and a petition to be over a mile long is now being prepared to be presented to the Lehigh Traction Company to do the same. The strike has lasted since this first of the year, but now seems to be within reach of settlement entirely through the evangelist's efforts.

THE HEALTH TEACHER CURES DUNN

Relates a Remarkable Incident at Kennedy's Drug Store This Morning

Is it really possible to cure a case of chronic stomach trouble in six weeks? Such a thing does not seem possible, yet the following case proves that Quaker can do it. Mr. John V. Dunn, of Cowden street, is 46 years old. Since the age of 40, or, in other words, for six years, he had been complaining of severe stomach troubles. First of all he was constipated and he could not obtain relief by soap-water injection. Then he suffered from intestinal and nervous indigestion. His appetite was poor and he had to be very careful in selecting what little he did eat. After eating his stomach would bloat to immense proportions and this bloating would be followed by severe spells of belching, palpitation, shortness of breath and dizzy sensations. For two years he was unable to work, and to use his own words, "the medicine I took would fill a small drug store." He called at the drug store and obtained a treatment of Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm. Since he took these remedies he improved gradually, but it was not until this morning that he reported himself entirely cured, and to-morrow he returns to work at Enola. This case is all the more remarkable because it has been pronounced incurable. If you suffer from rheumatism, catarrh, kidney, liver, stomach or blood troubles, obtain Quaker Herb Extract, $1 per bottle, 3 for $2.50; Oil of Balm, 25 cents, from W. H. Kennedy, 30 South Third street.—Advertisement.

TRUTH OF AMERICA
EDWARD MOTT WOOLLEY has written a little book which every business man should read. It describes that wonderful organization of 127 clubs and 10,000 members, the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, whose emblem is shown above. It tells how these earnest and militant clubs have fought with successful vigor against fraudulent and deceitful advertising and unfair and unsound business conditions. It also tells of the plans for the Tenth Annual Convention of the A. A. C. of A., to be held in Toronto, June 21-25.
