

CITY PAYS ITS OWN FLORAL TRIBUTE TO SOLDIER DEAD

Harrisburg's Park Department motor car might have readily won first prize in a Los Angeles "festival of roses" parade to-day. Heaped on the driver's seat and banked in the tonneau were masses of red and white peonies and orange Oriental poppies—the city's own floral tribute to the memory of the soldier dead.

INDIANAPOLIS IN A WAY HADN'T MUCH ON THIS BUSY DAY

If Indiana Had Its Auto Races Harrisburg Had Its Roller-mobile Event Harrisburg folks who didn't get out to Indianapolis to-day, but who did get to Front street between Locust and State streets, were probably just as well satisfied.

CHILDREN GREETING THE BOYS IN BLUE BEFORE ANNUAL SCHOOL EXERCISES

One of the pretty features of the Memorial exercises at the Forney School building yesterday was the shaking of the Veterans' hands by the children. The "Vets" lined up and one by one the tots walked by, shook the hands of the heroes of long ago and then went back to their places to hear the war stories that always are so pleasing.
