"Dyspeptics" Eat Freely Without Distress

Without Distress

Men and women, who after eating, fler from sour, acid stomach, bloating, belching or "heartburn" should try tenspoonful of Bisurated Magnesia in quarter glass of water after each cal. Bisurated Magnesia is not a omach "cure" nor does it artificially gest food, thus weakening the natural tion of the digestive organs, as do ost pepsin pills and tablets. Instead, promptly dissolves or neutralizes all e poisonous acid that fermenting food is left in the stomach and the digeste machinery, thus relieved of this impering acid accumulation, goes iturally and normally about its own ork of digestion without help of any ind. So remarkable is the action of Sisurated Magnesia" in stopping omach distress that as a rule the orst burning of sour stomach sensaons will vanish within five minutes own the time Bisurated Magnesia enry the stomach. Any dyspeptic can rove this with a single trial and likelies with perfect safety, for "Bisurated agnesia" is harmiless. By counteracting acid formation in the stomach in its manner, so called Dyspepsia and digestion would soon be a thing of the past, and people who now belong to be past, and people who now belong to be past, and people who now belong to the past, and people who now belong to the past, and people who now belong to the past, and people who now belong to se past, and people who now belong to select the table and are obliged to refuse that they please without the slightest are of unpleasent after effect. Philadelphia, June 4.—Counsel for the Reading Companies and the Jersey Central Railroad, defendants in the suit to dissolve the alleged illegal combination which the government claims exists in the anthracite coal industry, contended in their argument in the United States District Court to-day that the Reading and Jersey Central are not competing lines and that the Reading and Jersey Central are not competing lines and that the Reading's control of the Jersey Central was not contrary to law.

Jackson E. Reynolds, general attoring for the Jersey Central, asserted that the two roads are supplementary, one supplying the needs of the other. He referred to a decision of the court in which the present case is being heard in which it held in another suit by the government that the two roads were not in competition before the Reading secured control of a majority of the stock of the Jersey Central, and the decision, reminded Mr. Reynolds that the Supreme Court, when the case was appealed to it, had not fully ruled on the question but had dissented that the Reading had not secret that the Reading for his presence of the Jersey Central asserted that the Reading had not secret that the Reading had not secret that the Reading had not secret that the Reading of an outlet into New York harbor.

John G. Johnson, of counsel for the defendants, argued on law points in the suit. He sald there was not coming hing of interests in the fact that the Reading company, a holding corporation, held the stock of the Reading Railway and Reading corporation, held the stock of the Reading Railway and Reading corporation, held the stock of the Reading had from Company, nor was there any violation of the commodities cause of the act regulating commerce.

Mr. Johnson further declared that the anthracite regions are strewn with more financial wrecks since coal was first found there than with successful concerns.

Railroads Show Big

Special to The Telegraph
Washington, D. C., June 4.— The financial statement of the railroads of the United States for April, issued by the Inter-state Commerce Commission, shows that there was a decrease in operating revenue of more than $1,000,000, as compared with April, 1913, and a retrenchment in expenses of more than $4,000,000. There was a loss of revenue on Eastern railroads in April, 1914, as compared with the same month in 1913 of more than $1,000,000.

TO CONTINUE FESTIVAL

The festival of the Brotherhood of Federated Railway employes at Midway, near Enola, will be continued tonight, rain or shine The attendance last night was large. A committee visited Harrisburg to-day and secured additional contributions, and there will be plenty to eat to-night.

THE OLD PAPER COLLAR

How many of the present generation remembers the wearing of paper colars in place of the present Troylaundered collars? Very few, indeed, and the celluloid collar tried to supplant the paper collar, but neither stood a ghost of a show when modern laundry methods were introduced. It put Troy on the map, and Troy laundry work stands for the best in Harrisburg. Either phone for wagon.

Murder Case Costs Subject of Action Against County Commissioners

Suit against the board of commis-sioners of Dauphin sloners of Dauphin county requiring them to pay the bill of $153 for the detention of Ernest Crumpert, a witness in the Hans Solbrig murder case, was filled to-day by Attor-Crumpert.

to-day by Attornery William L. Loeser, counsel for Crumpert.

The case has been hanging fire for months, ever since Crumpert who had been confined in a jail cell for 103 days pending the trial of Solbrig, demanded recompense as a witness at a fee of $1.50 per day.

Attorney Loeser tried again and again to convince the county commissioners of the justice and legality of his client's claim, but the bill was not paid. After a final conference on the subject yesterday Mr. Loeser decided to begin the proceeding in the courts.

Meeting Starts at 2 O'Clock.
The meeting was started at 2 o'clock, the platform committee holding it up. Almost all of the members answered "present," Gifford Pinchot sitting in on a proxy.

W. F. Pascoe, Cumberland: E. S. McFarland, Dauphin; F. W. Stewart, Huntingdon; F. A. Howard, Delaware, and E. A. Studholm, McKean, were named as a committee on organization.

A big delegation of suffragists came in connection with a move to have the convention go on record as favoring legislative action on the ground that church and state should be kept as widely separated as possible.

The convention adopted a resolution favoring local option, with the convention will meet next year at St. Stephen's, this city.

McFarland, Dauphin; F. W. Stewart, Huntingdon; F. A. Howard, Delaware, and E. A. Studholm, McKean, were named as a committee on organization. A big delegation of suffragists came in just about the time the meeting got under way.

The organization of the State committee was continued on a report from the organization committee as follows:
State chairman, A. Nevin Detrich, Franklin; vice-chairman, T. V. Hendricks, Jefferson; secretary, H. D. Lindemuth, Schuylkill; treasurer, R. K. Young, Tioga; assistant treasurer, W. L. McCullagh, Allegheny; executive committee, William Flinn, Allegheny; chairman; B. H. Boyd, Westmoreland; W. A. Stone, Fayette; W. H. Sponsler, Perry; Robert F. Rich, Clinton; M. P. Miller, Lancaster; W. F. Remppis, Berks; Louis Reihl, Carbon, and G. F. Holmes, Philadelphia; national committeeman, William Flinn.

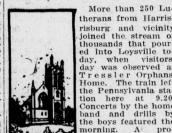

Chairman Detrich read a letter from Colonel Roosevelt declaring he was coming into Pennsylvania for the campaign and wishing the Progressive party good luck.

A committee on rules was then named with A. S. Fought, of Philadelphia, as chairman, and while it was meeting Judge C. N. Brumm, of Pottsville, addressed the conference.

Judge Brumm, who was defeated by William Draper Lewis, of Philadelphia, for the gubernatorial nomination, declared his fealty to the ticket and made a plea to give the ballot to women.

William Flinn reviewed what the Progressives of Pennsylvania had accepted the progressives of
