Carlisle, Pa., June 11.—One person as dead and several others seriously injured as the result of the severe electrical storm which swept this section yesterday. Trees and wires were blown down in a score of places through the country and the amount of the damage is large.

As he was playing with some boy friends during the storm, Carl, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Keiser, residing in West Louther street, Carlisle, was shocked so severely when he came in contact with one of the high voltage cables of the electric light company, broken down by the storm, that he died twenty minutes later.

James B. Zeigler, a prominent draying contractor, who attempted to rescue the boy, was thrown a score of feet by the contract, but finally succeeded in pulling the lad from the wire, suffering severely, however, in the attempt. The boy's hand came in contact with the wire from which the insulation had been striped by the short circuit and the member was partily burned away. In spite of the efforts of several of the town's best physicians he died without galning consciousness. His parents and a sister survive.

Other minor shocks are reported

Annyille, Pa., June 11.—Martin Van Buren Steinmetz, a native of Annyille and widely related with the Steinmetz family throughout the county, died at the Wadners Astoria, New York city, on Monday after a brief illness of pneumonia. His body was brought to Annyille yesterday afternoon although funeral arrangements have not as yet been completed. Mr. Steinmetz was the Woman's Christian Temperance Union 70 years old and was engaged in the coal and iron brokerage business. He was a son of Jacob Steinmetz, a widely known farmer, living about one mile southwest of Annyille.

consciousness. His parents and a sister survive.

Other minor shocks are reported as the result of falling electric wires crossing telephone cables.

Near Dillsburg, a large tank on a canning factory sank through the roof and the engineer of the plant was injured. The girls employed in the factory, were in a panic after the big tank had splintered through the building and the water drenching the interior. None of them, however, was seriously injured.

The storm prostrated telegraph and telephone wires and trees were blown down in all directions. Several persons were more or less injured in attempt to use telephone, lines which had been blown across heavily charged electric wires.

Quit Puttering With Corns. Use This Sure, New-Plan Corn Cure A few drops of "GETS-IT," the big-gest seller in the world to-day of any corn remedy, is enough to spell posi-tive doom to the fiercest corn that ever cemented itself to a toe. It's good-by, Johnnie. You apply "GETS-IT" in two seconds—no fussing with plasters that don't stay put, with salves that make corns "pull' and make the toe beefy and raw, with knives, scissors, razors and diggers that make corns grow faster and that may cause blood poison from corn-cutting and corn-bleeding. "GETS-IT" shrivels up corns, they come right off. That's the new principle. It's just common sense. No more corn-pains. "GETS-IT" is safe, and never hurts the flesh. Get rid of corns and callouses.

"GETS-IT" is sold at 25c a bottle by all druggists, or sent direct if you wish, from E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Slick Stranger Swindles Columbia High School Class Brothers With Bogus Checks

Greencastle, Pa., June 11.—A stranger giving his name as Young passed a bogus check on Frank Conn, a Greencastle merchant, yesterday, from which he received merchandise amounting to $19.50 and $29 in cash. The check was on the Citizens' National Bank of Greencastle, bearing the signature of M. E. Jehnson, to the amount of $48.50. Mr. Conn's brother, a merchant of Chambersburg, called him by phone to inquire about the signatures of men from Greencastle. An investigation was at once started and it was discovered that both business men had honored bogus checks.

Mr. Conn, of Chambersburg, at once notified police headquarters in that place and the forger was finally found at the Cumberland Valley station, but managed to get away from the officers. In his haste he dropped two suitcases, which were found to contain a lot of old clothing, the goods he had purchased and several checks ready for presentation.
