

Matrimony and the Pay Envelope

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Had you better marry a poor man? Yes, by all means if you are poor, for then you will be used to poverty and the shock of it won't act as an icy douche to kill love. And equally—yes, by all means—if you are a wealthy girl, for since you have always had everything money can buy you should be ready for the adventure of going without! You must surely have proved the worthlessness of riches to bring you the things you really want and therefore you should be admirably fitted to be the wife of the poorest man you know.

Marrying a poor man ought to be a very easy thing for any worth while girl to contemplate and carry out. It is, however, a little hard on the poor man! He will grieve to see the woman he loves going without things. He may fret at not being able to give you the things you are accustomed to have.

The Test

And right there the girl's love will meet its bitterest fire—will it? Well, I hope. The greater the man's refinement and unselfishness the keener will be his idea of how his wife misses luxury. But the girl who loves truly and unselfishly will hide her own discomfort to save her husband from paying too great a price of discomfort for the expensive luxury and priceless happiness of calling her wife.

It will be an amusing lark to keep house in a tiny flat or a dingy tenement or wee cottage at first. It might even be fun to climb four flights of stairs to a boarding house hall bedroom that would just hold "him" and "you" and love. It must all surely be tremendous fun—for a while! But the second month won't be as droll as the first nor the third as attractive as either, unless you are sure the love and companionship of a poor man are sufficient recompense for all you forego when you become his wife.

The question is not whether poverty would be a lark for a week or a year, but whether you are willing deliberately to take it up for the rest of your life. You must to this gladly, you must be sure you never will reproach him or yourself or train up children to be bitter toward their father because he cannot give them as much as other boys and girls have.

You must be ready to plan and work to stretch the meager contents of the poor man's pay envelope to their utmost buying capacity. You must be ready to sew and stitch and wash and bake and scrub. House-keeper, maid-servant, sweetheart, wife and business manager must be roles you will be willing to play during all the years of your life. And all this you must face gladly before you decide to go on being poor with a poor husband like your own father—or to essay poverty as the wife of your humble sweetheart.

But if you are half-hearted about letting love shake hands with poverty, or poverty kiss with love, be kind to your poor lover and to yourself by sending him away.

Only Misery

It will only bring misery to marry a poor man unless you are joyfully willing to be poor all your life, and joyfully certain you will do your working share toward conquering poverty.

You don't marry for the rose-hued honeymoon when poverty is a shadowy joke, with inconsequence a fund of amusement for thoughtful happiness and midsummer madness. Think of this and be honest. Shall you marry a poor man? Yes—if you can do it with a heart that is brave and unafraid.

QUANT LITTLE GOWN TRIMMED WITH TABS

Two Materials May Be Combined Effectively in This Design

8269 Girl's Guimpe Dress, 4 to 8 years.

New frocks for little girls are needed at every season but this one can be made in two quite different ways. There is a straight skirt, a guimpe and a little body portion with tabs. On the figure, the skirt is joined to the guimpe and the body portion is separate. In the small front view, the tabs have been cut off the body portion and its lower edge joined to the skirt. Both styles are good. In this case, one material is used throughout for both dresses but a pretty effect can be obtained by making the skirt of white cotton voile or French crepe and joining the little over portion made of bright color such as cerise or blue. Or again, flowered material could be used for the over-body with plain material for the skirt. In children's frocks as well as in their elders, there is much opportunity for variety, for materials are many and different color effects and different combinations produce such different effects that they scarcely suggest the same model.

For the 6 year size, the dress will require 2 yds. of material 27 or 36, 1 1/2 yds. 44 in. wide, with 1/2 yd. 36 for the guimpe, 3/4 yd. 18 for the yoke, 1/2 yd. of banding and 3 yds. of edging; or 2 1/2 yds. 27, 1 1/2 yds. 36 or 44 in. wide, with 1 yd. 18 to make as shown in back view.

The pattern 8269 is cut in sizes from 4 to 8 years. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

Minister Accepts Call to Succeed the Rev. Dr. Grant

Special to The Telegraph
Northumberland, Pa., June 12.—The Rev. Arthur Llewellyn, who preached in the First Presbyterian Church on two Sundays recently, has been extended a call to the church. The call has been accepted and the Rev. Mr. Llewellyn will be here to conduct services in the church on Sunday, both morning and evening.

This church came into notoriety several years ago when the Rev. Dr. William Grant, the pastor, was charged with heresy and was given a trial before the presbytery, resulting once in his conviction and later in his commitment. Following this affair the church disorganized and Dr. Grant left town. This is the first time the members have come together since then.

Wilson Will Attend Reunion of '79 Class

Special to The Telegraph
Princeton N. J., June 12.—President Woodrow Wilson, who will come to Princeton Saturday to attend the reunion of his class, to-day requested the university authorities to make no formal recognition of his presence, as "I want to be allowed to enjoy myself as any other member of the class of 1879 will do."

The President expects to confine his visit chiefly to the reunion. He will lunch with his former classmates, march with them in the alumni parade and sit with them at the Princeton-Yale baseball game.

Mr. Wilson has invited President Hibben, of the university, to be his guest while here.

Morrisville Man Just Wouldn't Stay Dead

Special to The Telegraph
Morrisville, Pa., June 12.—After a report had been circulated here to-day claiming that James Ross, a contractor, had committed suicide by hanging himself, the word was sent to the office of an insurance company in Trenton, and Joseph Woods crossed the Delaware river to settle a policy held by the supposed deceased man in the company. He reached the house and met the wife of Ross.

"I called to view the body of James Ross, who committed suicide," declared Woods.

"Well," replied Ross, "I'm the only James Ross in this section, and if you think I am a dead one just start something."

He was peeling off his coat as Woods disappeared through the doorway.

PERKINS REPLIES TO ATTACK OF PINCHOT

Progressive Executive Chairman in Statement Declares He Will Stick to Party

Special to The Telegraph
New York, June 12.—Amos Pinchot's attack on George W. Perkins, asking that Perkins be deposed from the chairmanship of the Progressive party national executive committee on account of alleged leanings toward the trusts and alleged opposition to labor, seems to have simmered down to a very mild proposition.

Said Mr. Perkins at his Riverdale home: "I know that when Mr. Pinchot says that I don't think I will stick to the Progressive party, I don't think his letter will either help or hurt him. I don't think anything will happen as a result. I don't think it will change either his relations or mine to the Progressive party."

Said Mr. Pinchot in Washington, according to press dispatches: "I will not bolt the Progressive party if Colonel Roosevelt and the national committee refuse to remove George W. Perkins. Nothing could drive me from the Progressive party."

He added that he thought his attitude toward Perkins was not that of the party's rank and file. It is understood here he is sounding Progressive Congressmen on the subject.

Roosevelt Refuses to Comment on Letter

Special to The Telegraph
Madrid, June 12.—Colonel Roosevelt declined to comment on the news conveyed by cable that Amos Pinchot's letter read George W. Perkins out of the Progressive party, although he showed great interest in re-reading the dispatch. It is learned on unquestionable authority the Colonel's present political program in New York is to form an alliance of Progressives and Progressive Republicans, accepting the latter's candidate for Governor on condition the candidate agrees to the abolition of the office of Governor and give the Progressive the office of Governor, for which office the Colonel's first and last choice is Oscar S. Straus. His present favorite for Governor is Whitman, on foregoing conditions. Concerning Pinchot and Perkins, it is said here the Colonel now has no use for Amos Pinchot, who, he considers, is radical almost to the point of foolishness. He still holds high regards toward Perkins.

OFFICES TRANSFERRED

Special to The Telegraph
Mechanicsburg, Pa., June 12.—On account of the ruling made recently that all offices of the Western Union Telegraph Company shall be operated independently, the local office at Mechanicsburg was transferred to the office of the Misses Happle and Swartz in Main street. Both Miss Happle and Miss Swartz were prevailed upon to take over the office from the fact that both of the ladies were former managers of the Western Union Telegraph.

MRS. SHETTEL ENTERTAINS

Special to The Telegraph
Mechanicsburg, Pa., June 12.—Mrs. Charles Shettel, of Roxbury, about one mile west of Mechanicsburg, entertained the following guests this week: Mr. and Mrs. George Shettel, of Winchester, Ind.; Philip Shettel, of West Fairview; Mrs. Beideman, of Camp Hill, and Mrs. Robert Shettel, of Trindle Spring.

CITY FOLK HEARING CALL OF THE WILD

Realty Men Say Many Harrisburg People Are Building Summer Cottages on Outskirts

Several persons in the city are these days hearing a modified "call of the wild," according to real estate men to-day, who point out that while the summer vacation exodus is about to begin, there are a number of persons who are going to take a real vacation while at the same time staying by their jobs. They do this by erecting bungalows and small cottages in suburban lands adjacent to Harrisburg.

Recent acquisitions of land in and around Dauphin by some Harrisburg men are, it is understood, for the purpose of building bungalows for summer residence. One or two have already gone up at this point during the Spring and are ready for occupancy by their owners.

Suburbs along the Conodoguinet are also proving attractive to a large class of buyers who wish to get away from the roar and moil of the city during the summer, while still holding down their jobs in town. The building of an inexpensive bungalow for occupancy during the summer upon a small plot of ground, which in some localities is not excessively priced, is the way out that many persons who have previously been tied down to the city are finding.

Secretary Says There Will Be More Jobs Than Men Within Few Weeks

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C., June 12.—Predicting that within a month there would be more jobs in the United States than men, Secretary of Labor Wilson to-day hoped to solve the problem of getting men to fill the places. His forecast was based upon the bumper wheat crop, revival of the iron trade, mining and the textile industry. The Secretary has already received reports for more than 80,000 laborers in the wheat belt of the West and South and he plans to arrange with the railroads special excursions from the East to get the men to the wheat fields.

ORDERS TO SPANISH VETERANS

Howard Newcomer, camp commander of Harrisburg Camp, No. 8, United Spanish War Veterans, to-day issued orders that all veterans of Harrisburg Camp No. 8 who are able to take part in the Flag Day at the State Capitol, should assemble in the camp rooms, 26 South Third street, Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock dressed in full uniform. All Spanish War Veterans, whether members or nonmembers of the camp, may participate.

WILL NOT EMPLOY PERSONS UNDER 16

President of Lindner Shoe Company Announces Policy as to Employment

Carlisle, Pa., June 12.—Announcement has been made by John Lindner, president of the Lindner Shoe Company, that after this date no person will be employed under 16 years of age. At the present time there are only fourteen out of the several hundred employed who are under 16. The majority of them will be 16 years old within a short period. However, this small number will not be dismissed, and by interview all agreed to continue studies until they reach a proper age. A few exceptions might be made where they are the only support of a mother and where small children are dependent but they will be obliged to continue their studies in that case. All applicants for employment under 18 must be accompanied by their parent or guardian to secure employment.

It was Mr. Lindner's policy from the very beginning of the company's organization not to employ anyone under 16 years old and it was only in recent years that a few such persons were employed. The company was organized about twenty-five years ago and almost from the beginning was among the largest employers of labor in the Cumberland Valley.

AMUSEMENTS

MYSTERY AT THE COLONIAL

A real mystery developed on the bill at the Colonial Theater yesterday when the Frescotts, two young men, made their appearance and made their people in the audience what they were thinking of. This made an instantaneous hit and is already the talk of the town. While one of the men made his way through the audience pointing out articles, Frescott sat on the stage blindfolded and named exactly every article that his partner indicated. Names of persons in the audience were given quickly and accurately and some of them were pretty hard names for a stranger to give if they had been

PHOTOPLAY THEATER

The big three-reel feature, "Incognito," which is showing at this theater to-day, is a picture full of love and adventure. The story is of a young woman who dresses as a man so that she can follow her lover, who has joined the army. Many thrilling scenes take place in this picture. "The Stolen Formula" is a two-reel feature which goes a long way to make this program to-day a good one.—Advertisement.
