This was the reply of Colonel Roosewelt to a bombardment of questions at Lieutenant Colonel Lee's country home.

All Subjects Taken Up
The Colonel was questioned on the passage by the American Senate of the Panama tolls exemption repeal bill and the prospects of his candidacy for the governorship of New York State. His reply in each instance was "I have nothing to say" or "no, you may not expect a statement from the subject of the governorship.

which of two Dauphin county juries Edward G. Smith must face in September quarter sessions — one whose verdict may send him to the electric chair, the other to end his life in a madhouse—will be decided by the Dauphin county court early in July.

While the date has not been definitely fixed District Attorney Michael E. Stroup said to-day that the hearing of expert testimony before President Judge Kunkel to determine whether or not Smith's sanity should be investigated by a special jury, would be held during the first or second week of Jüly.

The hearing will be in open court and not in chambers and some of the stand for both commonwealth and the defense. Should it be decided to present the problem to twelve of Dausphin's good men and true, then the jury will be selected from the September quarter sessions panel.

District Attorney Stroup said in discussing the question to-day:

"Of course Smith is sane, and I only asked that the case go over until September so that I may show by the best allenists obtainable that what I say is true."

HIGHSPIRE FIREMEN TO BE IN PARADE

Borough Laddies Will Be in Line With New Motor Driven Apparatus

Members of the Citizens' Fire Company, No. 1, of Highspire, have already begun preparations to attend the State convention of volunteer firemen to be held in Harrisburg the week of October 5. With nearly 150 men in full uniform, a band and a company's full equipment of motor chemical truck and a twenty-five-foot ladder truck in line, the Highspire "laddies" feel that they will compare very favorably with any of the companies from the larger towns and cities.

It is the pride of the Highspire fire-fighters that they have, so to speak, "put one over" on Harrisburg and some other cities by having a motor-driven apparatus. The Highspire company but recently purchased its fine motor chemical truck and established the record of having the first motor-driven fire-fighting apparatus in Dauphin county. This new truck replaced the hand-drawn chemical truck purchased several years ago and was secured at a cost of $1,100 for the truck alone.

Company Five Years Old

It is but a little over five years since the Citizens' Company has been organized. During this short time the company has built its present twostory brick home at Paxton and Broad streets. This fine building is finished in all modern equipments with the or-story brick nome at Faxton and Broad streets. This fine building is finished in all modern equipments, with the entire lower floor reserved for housing the apparatus and the second floor furnished as a parlor and reading room for the members.

The present membership is 150 men, including many of the town's most prominent citizens. The company does not allow any intoxicating liquors in its "home," a rule that has called forth the hearty commendation from the borough's ministers. That the company is efficient is shown from the fact that no fires in recent years have been allowed to reach serious proportions and the property loss through fire has been kept down to almost nothing.

The present officers of the company fire has been kept down to almost nothing.

The present officers of the company are: President, Homer Etter; vice-president, Robert Brashears; secretary, Austin Heicher; financial secretary, Chiah Brown; treasurer, Harry Hoke; trustees, William H.
