S. A. REEME, FORMER | TO ARGUE FLEMING APPEAL TOMORROW POOR DIRECTOR; DIES

Reduced Poorhouse Expenses; Condemned Murderer Will Try to Prominent in Political and Business Circles

Shell A. Reeme, former Poor Director and almshouse steward, son of a pioneer resident of Penbrook, died yesterday at his residence, in that place, 2413 Main street. Death was due to nephritis, from which he has suffered the past six months.

Mr. Reeme was born at Shiremanstown, March 20, 1849, and when he was 14 moved with his parents to Penbrook. His mother erected one of the first brick residences in that place. It is now occupied by the Penbrook National Bank. In 1872 he was married to Miss Emma Brightbill, of Carlisle. Shortly after he purchased from his mother's estate the farm north of Progress, now known as the Ober farm, where he conducted a model dairy for some years.

some years.

Mr. Reeme was always an ardent Republican and was elected Director of the Poor of Dauphin county in 1878, and in 1881 was elected steward of the almshouse in which position he served six years, his administration being marked by a notable reduction in the expenditures.

He laid out a large part of the present borough in plots, selling them by preference to young men that would marry and raise families, and in many cases helping them to build their homes. His business ability was early recognized. He was a charter member of the Merchant's National Bank, and also was a director of the Central Trust. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. William T. Osborne, of Natoon, Ili., and Mrs. Charles Appleman, of Washington, D. C. A brother, T. O. Reeme, of Watsuka, Ili., alsoo survives. ORPHANS IN CORPUS CHRISTI SERVICES

Impressive Exercises on Lawn of Sylvan Heights Home; Benediction Under the Flag

Ceremonies in celebration of the feast of Corpus Christi were held at Ceremonies in celebration of the feast of Corpus Christi were held at Sylvan Heights Orphanage yesterday with an open-air religious pageant in which 112 g iris who live at the orphanage, Sisters of Mercy and clergy participated. Hundreds of spectators from Harrisburg and denity saw the exercises. The services began at 4 o'clock, when the procession moved to the two altars on the lawn. At the head were two cornetists, who played the accompaniment for the singers. Under a spreading canopy the Rev. M. M. Hassett, rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral, carried the blessed sacrament. The Rev. Anthony Zuvich, rector of St. Mary's, Steelton, was deacon, and the Rev. John O'Donnell, rector of St. Mary's, this city, was subdeacon, Other priests assisting in the service were the Rev. D. J. Carey, rector of St. Francis' Church; the Rev. T. B. Johnson, of the Cathedral, and the Rev. W. V. Dalley, rector of Sacred Heart Church; and the Rev. P. S. Huegel, rector of St. Lawrence's Church.
