Experienced Women Advise Mother's Friend

and has been of such great help to a host of expectant mothers, these women, experienced in this most happy period, advise the use of "Mother's Friend." Applied externally to the abdominal muscles its purpose is to relieve the undue tension upon the cords and ligaments resulting from muscular expansion. Beneath the surface is a network of fine nerve threads and the gentle, soothing embrocation, "Mother's Friend," is designed to so lubricate the muscular fibres as to avoid the unnecessary and continuous nagging upon this myriad of nerves. It is a reflex action.

Applied to the breasts it affords the proper massage to prevent caking.

Thousands of women have reason to believe in this splendid help under the trying ordeal of motherhood. Their letters are eloquent evidence of its great value to women. In use for many years it has come to be a standard remedy for the purpose.

There is scarcely a well-stocked drug it has come to be a standard remains the purpose.

There is scarcely a well-stocked drug store anywhere but what you can easily obtain a bottle of "Mother's Friend" and in nearly every town and village is a grandma who herself used it in earlier years. Expectant mothers are urged to try this oplendid assistant to comfort.

Says Ill-Gotten Wealth Should Be Returned

Chicago, June 16.—"Gifts of illgotten wealth should be cast back into the teeth of the giver until he gave evidence of repentance and restitution," declared Edward A. Ross, professor of sciology in the University of Wisconsin, here to-day in his address to the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

"Such gifts cost society more than they are worth," he sai... "The real fight to uplift humanity centers around the conditions and the pay of labor.
This is a terrible shock to the whole system of reliance on private philanthropy."

Private benevolence should be restricted to experimental work, was Professor Ross' conclusion. The State's dependents, he said, should be cared for by the State.

Another Attack Made on Albanian Capital

Durazzo, Albania, June 16.—Another attack on the Albanian capital was made by Mussleman insurgents at 6 o'clock this morning when heavy artillery was brought to bear on the defending force commanded by Prince William.

The guns of the attacking force were soon located in the vicinity of Rasbul and the artillerymen in the garrison quickly found the range. The opposing forces then engaged in the brisk artillery duel.

Detachments of bluejackets from the international fleet off the coast took up positions in the neighborhood of the foreign legation and consulates and also erected barricades round the royal palace.

and in a cameo-like setting this afternoon the company is producing "Pomander Walk," the delightful English comedy of manners.

The club grounds have been decorated with potted plants, and festoons of electric lights have been strung about the spot selected for the presentation of the play. This evening the players will present a romantic drama based on the old ballad of "Robin Hood." All the characters dear to legend and childish fancy live and talk, and the Colonial grounds will become for to-night Sherwood forest where Maid Marion and Friar Tuck and Robin and the Sheriff will entertain a Harrisburg audience for a few hours.

"Pomander Walk" should strike a delightfully sympathetic chord in Harrisburger's hearts, for the story deals with life along the river Thames.

It is left for Marjolaine the charming heroine of the play, to express the poet's love for the river. When Jack Sayles, fresh from his young life of a deventure in every busy port of the world exclaims, "Poor little girl you must be so lonely here," Marjolaine is astonished.

"Lonely? No! No!" she exclaims, "one cannot feel lonely where there's a river. Twice every day it brings news—down from the meadows, where the flowers are, and the cattle, standing knee-deep in its edges, and the demoiseles—how do you say?—dragon files—the willows dipping their branches in it; and when it comes back from the great town, and sings of the ships, and the crowded bridges, and the king and queen taking their branches in it; and when it comes back from the great town, and sings of the ships, and the crowded bridges, and the king and queen taking their branches in it; and when it comes back from the great town, and sings of the ships, and the crowded bridges, and the king and queen taking their branches in it; and when it comes back from the great town, and sings of the ships, and the crowded bridges, and the king and queen taking their branches in it; and when it comes specially trained by one of the leading New York musical directors will sing appropriate ballads

I have seen that starry banner in our loyal Governor's hands
Presented to a regiment, then sent to Dixle's lands.

I have seen it leave Camp Curtin, with its colors bright and gay:
The scene, it was inspiring, not as solemn as to-day.

I have seen the color bearer, a stalwart brave and true,
Lead off a thousand men, and they all

They had buckled on their armor, in

To cross o'er Mason Dickson's line, a

A complaint was filed with the Public Service Commission to-day by M.
L. Ludurick, of Penbrook, against the Dauphin County Gas company. He alleges that he signed a contract to have gas service for heating purposes and that the pipes were to enter his residence from the Canby street side. The company now refuses to give him the service unless they can enter the residence from Main street, which the complainant says will spoil his front lawn and entail more expense in laying the pipes.

But that brave, young color bearer, skies, His bones to-day are bleaching, where that brave young soldler lies; And that dear old starty banner, is carried by other hands; Perhaps the remnant of his regiment, but there in line he stands.

"All is Well That Ends Well"

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness, sleeplessness and general ill health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be assimilated and carried to the blood. On the other hand, the blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion. In turn, the nerves are not fed on good, red blood and we see those symptoms of nervous breakdown. It is not head work that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip—bronchitis—consumption. Fortify the body now with
