WILSON'S JAB AT JEWS CAUSE OF RESENTMENT

President Disclaims Any Intention of Offending; Didn't Really Mean it

By Associated Press

Washington, June 17.—One paragraph in President Wilson's address at the dedication of the American University here May 27 and which caused some discussion among Jews, brought an inquiry to Mr. Wilson from Herman Bernstein, of Hollis, N. Y., and drew from the President a disavowal of any intention to discriminate against Judaism.

The incident is treated in correspondence made public to-day by Mr. Bernstein after he had called at the White House and obtained permission to do so.

"Dear Mr. President: I have read with deep interest your address at the dedication of the American university. I take the liberty of inquiring whether you were correctly quoted in the following lines which were published in a New York newspaper:

"That is the reason why scholarship has usually been most overtaxed when associated with religion and scholarship has never, so far as I can this moment recall, been associated with any religion except the religion of Jesus Christ."

"I feel quite certain that you know that true scholarship has ever been and is now the very essence and foundation of Judaism, the religion that gave birth to Christianity. It seems to me that it would therefore, be unfair to exclude Judaism from the religion with which scholarship has been in the past associated."

The President's reply was: "I am sorry that there should have been any unfair implication in what I said at the opening of the American University. You may be sure that there was nothing of the kind in my mind, or very certainly nothing in my thoughts that would discriminate in the important matter you speak of, against Judaism. I find that one of the risks and penalties of extemporaneous speaking is that you do not stop to consider the whole field, but address yourself merely to the matter directly in hand."

Creator to Play '1812,' Great Tonal Picture

At the request of many Harrisburg people, Signor Creatore has consented to include in his program next Friday Tschakowsky's remarkable overture, "1812." No other band known here has been able to handle this overture in the way it is presented by Creatore's band. It is wonderful to observe how Signor Creatore brings different sections of his band into action and as quietly retires them at his command; how sharp the attack and equally marked the finish. It is always with a feeling of regret that the audience hears the last strains, but each one present carries the memory of the music for days and weeks to come. It is well known how this symphonic poem—it can scarcely be described as an overture—is based on Napoleon's retreat from Moscow. A broad, flowing melody, taken from one of the chants used in the Greek Church, opens the work, and this is presently succeeded by some picturesque "battle music." At one time high above the tumult arises the "Marschaise," at another a theme of Russian origin appears, the two motives alternating as the fight gives the advantage to first one side, then the other. The whole work forming one of the most interesting and striking tone pictures to be found in the whole history of music.—Advertisement.

Motor Club Run Planned For Martinsburg, Va.

A sociability run from here on the Fourth to Martinsburg, Va., is planned by the contest committee of the Motor Club. If twenty-five cars owners signify their intention of participating in this run it will be one of the most interesting ever checked out from Harrisburg. The tour is about ninety-two miles and leaving here at 6 in the morning of the Fourth, the touring party would be in Martinsburg for dinner. From there detours could be made to various interesting and historic places. The battlefield of Antietam is about twelve miles from Martinsburg. Others might prefer to go down to Harper's Ferry, Berkeley Springs, Charlestown, Baltimore, the Luray Caverns or down through the Shenandoah Valley. And many would return by way of Frederickburg, Gettysburg and York. The committee will have another meeting Friday evening and progress made, and if sufficient interest is shown plans will be perfected for a two-day trip that will be especially enjoyable to every owner of a car and those fortunate enough to be among the guests.

MANY CRACK BALL PLAYERS WANT TO JOIN THE FEDERALS

Chicago, June 17.—The Federal League can wreck from a playing standpoint the two big leagues within thirty days if it carries to sign all the players who have asked to be taken over, according to a statement here to-day by James A. Gilmore, president of the Federals. The Chicago American League team which so far has escaped the Federals' raids almost intact, according to reports will lose other players besides Chase, who will play his last game to-morrow. Scott, Russell, Weaver, Benz and Blackburn are players the White Sox will lose, according to the report.

ROBIN HOOD'S MEN DELIGHTS BIG CROWD

Colonial Club Event Takes Hundreds Back to Delightful Tale of Long Ago

That delightful old tale of "Robin Hood" and His Merry Men in Sherwood Forest, and of how they saved Maid Marion from the "vile sheriff of Nottingham, and his nephew, still more vile, Guy of Gisbourne," was portrayed to hundreds of Harrisburg lovers of the beautiful last night in the open air at the Colonial Country Club by the Frank Lea Short Company, of New York. Perhaps never in the history of the city was an open-air theatrical event so successful. Not only did the play itself swing the audience back to the lovely green sward and the widely sung scenes of the famous robber's rendezvous, but the hospitality accorded the throngs by the club management was such as will not soon be forgotten. Just as a sun of gold was sinking behind the deepening blue of the distant Kittatinny the lights about the club-house flashed on and throughout the evening the place represented an air of festivity that made one sorry to go back home. The play was charming, and the cast could not have been better. Miss Kathryn Vincent, as Maid Marion, was all that the ballads so long sung would have us believe of that "poor, sweet lady." V. L. Granville, as the outlaw, was handsome, bold, brave, courteous, fearless and all things else that Robin should have been. Perhaps no character in the comedy was so amusing as was Frier Tuck, in which role was J. P. Macsweeney. That reverend gentleman's longing for ale and the crowd in a continual state of warmth and good humor, despite a drop of the mercury, that made the ladies wear their silks and mohairs and the gentlemen their balmacaans. Thomas Smith Davies, as the sheriff, and Alford Brander, as Guy of Gisbourne, were excellent in their roles. One of the most pleasing features of the production was the singing of Hood's men. Not only could the cast act, but very evidently the members have well trained voices. The crowds came and went from the club grounds on special cars. Before and after the performance many of the visitors were shown through the club-house, Democratic informality and good will was the keynote of what was a most merrie evening spent amid a most merrie crowd. MAX ROBERTSON.
