The outflow of our gold to foreign capitals has gained such totals as to alarm some students of international finance. But the extraordinary outflow is not hard to understand and it is perfectly natural. Our exports have, as the result of the depression in Eu-rope, due to the Balkan war drains, fallen to negligible proportions, and at the same time, our imports, by rea-son of the lower American tariff, have very largely increased. The balance against us in this respect is upwards of $$0,000,000 as compared with last year. Then, too, American travelers are going to Europe this year in the

Sent Out of Easton

Secial to The Telegraph Special to The Telegraph Easton, Pa., June 18.—There was a sensation at the Lafayette commence-ment exercises yesterday, when George H. Stephens, a former member of the faculty, who sprved a long sen-tence in prison for burning Pardee Hall, walked into the auditorium and took a conspicuous seat in the gallery. Informed of his presence, Chief Hughes, City Detective Miller and Mayor Nevin quietly slipped into seats near Stephens and watched his every movement. He never took his eyes from Dr. Warfield, ennity for whom caused him to burn the building and ruin other college property. At the close of the exercises, police escorted him to the Lehigh Valley sta-tion and put him on a train for the West. He violated an order of the court by coming to Easton without ob-taining permission from the police de-partment.

Two of the suffragettes were severely handled. Two suffragettes chained themselves to a statue in front of the Royal Ex-change to-day and began to harangue the passers-by. Soon an unsympathe-tic crowd collected and began to hiss the women. Then missiles were thrown. The militants tried to flee. but could not release themselves. Po-licemen fought their way through the mob and rescued the women.
