First City Zouaves and City Grays Celebrate Fifty-third Anniversary

PRAISES FOR THE HISTORIAN

Historic Pictures Presented; Banquet Addresses Full of Interest and Reminiscence

Battles were fought over again when soldiers, old and new, gathered at the City Grays armory last night to celebrate the fifty-third anniversary of the First City Zouaves and City Grays (Companies D and I). Comrades were present from all over the State.

One big feature was the distribution of bound copies of the history of the First City Zouaves and City Grays, compiled by Lieutenant Charles P. Meek, a member of the City Grays. This history appeared last winter in the Harrisburg Telegraph day by day in chapters and its appearance in book form, handsomely bound, was the result of long and diligent research on the part of the author. The history covers a period of fifty-three years of the dual organizations, giving all the work from the beginning of the Civil War down to and including the present City Grays, Companies D and I. So well pleased were the members of the Veterans Association with this book that they passed unanimously the following resolution:

Whereas, Lieutenant Charles P. Meek has discharged with great satisfaction to our association the important duty of compiling a history of the First City Zouaves and City Grays, which has been handsomely printed and illustrated and is now ready for subscribers, therefore be it

Resolved, That the sincere thanks and appreciation of this association be and are hereby tendered to Lieutenant Meek for his admirable work.

Another interesting incident was the presentation to the association of two large group pictures. One showed the City Grays in dress uniform in 1877 and the other was a portrait of the Grays when they wore their shako uniforms in 1886. Both were handsomely framed.

The presentations were made by Captain E. Laubenstein and were received on behalf of the Armory Association by Lieutenant Colonel Maurice E. Finney, of the Eighth regiment. The pictures were placed on the walls at the armory to-day.

Last night's celebration also included interesting anniversary exercises and a banquet. Major John T. Ensminger, president of the association, made the address of welcome following a prayer by the Rev. Harry Nelson Bassler, chaplain of the Eighth regiment and pastor of the Second Reformed church.

The banquet was presided over by E. J. Stackpole. Patriotic songs were sung and addresses were made by the toastmaster and by Colonel H. C. Demming, Colonel Livingston V. Rausch, Lieutenant Charles P. Meek, Chaplain Bassler, Major J. M. Peters and Captain Robert V. Vaughan.

Owing to a bad case of ivy poisoning contracted at the rifle range, Captain Copelin, who was down for a speech, could not be present.

A vote of appreciation was tendered the acting president, Major Ensminger, and thanks were also given the secretary, Sergeant Philip German, and the treasurer, Sergeant Christian Nauss.

In his introductory remarks, a veteran of the City Grays, referred to two inspiring incidents of the last year, the great reunion of the Blue and the Gray at Gettysburg and the transfer of the battle flags at the Capitol last Monday. He complimented the organization and dwelt upon the spirit of efficiency which had permeated the Harrisburg companies as the result of the late Captain Thomas F. Meek's training. He also referred to the fact that the soldiers of to-day, those of the regular establishment and the men of the National Guard, were no less valiant or patriotic than the men of the past who had upheld the best military traditions of the country.

Captain Laubenstein told of the influence of the Ellsworth Zouaves in their drills throughout the country and suggested that their appearance in this city had inspired the organization of the City Zouaves. He also gave some interesting reminiscences of the famous exhibition drills of the two commands.

Lieutenant Colonel Finney told of the new regulations and compared the present squad drills with the old and more spectacular tactics. Colonel Demming's address was brim full of interest for all present. He recalled many incidents of the Civil War period and spoke of the efficiency of the Harrisburg companies.

Major Rausch won all present by his recital of the days when the City Grays were located at Mahanoy City, his old home, in the Molly Maguire riot period. He said the fine example of the company and its officers had given him much inspiration for his organization and equipment of the Mahanoy company now in the Guard.

Lieutenant Meek's story of the preparation of the history of the two organizations and the patriotic speech by Chaplain Bassler were loudly applauded.

Officers of the association elected are: President, Captain E. Laubenstein; secretary, Philip German; treasurer, Christian Nauss. Those present were:

Rev. Harry N. Bassler, Major J. T. Ensminger, Colonel H. C. Demming, Lieutenant Colonel M. E. Finney, Major J. Markwood Peters, Captain H. H. Baker, Lieutenant Ralph C. Crow, Major Frank L. Hutter, Captain E. Laubenstein, Captain Edward H. Schell, Captain J. J. Hartman, Captain Frank Zeigler, Lieutenant W. T. Bishop, Lieutenant Fred W. Yingst, Captain Nicholas Tack, Captain Chas. Bernheisel, Lieutenant Charles P. Meek, Lieutenant George S. McGowan, Lieutenant Oliver Attick, Lieutenant Charles E. Euter, Lieutenant John T. Eretz, Lieutenant Joseph P. MEDIATION IS ONBRINK OF FAILURE

Niagara conference is marking time and threatened with complete failure, was regarded as highly significant. If it was known among officials that Minister Naon was returning, news of it was carefully guarded. The minister went direct from the train which had brought him from New Haven and Cambridge, where he had been attending commencement exercises at Yale and Harvard Universities, to the uptown hotel where he was close to the State Department and the White House.

PRESIDENT INFORMED
At the White House it was said that if President Wilson knew of Minister Naon's visit to Washington he had not imparted the information to officials there. It was thought, however, that the minister's visit had been one of the subjects discussed at an early conference between the President and the Secretary of State. The Argentine legation professed not to know of the minister's arrival. Mr. Naon at first denied himself to all interviewers. It was understood, however, that conferences with administration officials had been arranged later in the day.

CRISIS AT HAND
The issue of the note of the Mexican delegates by Senor Rabasa and the reply of the American delegates published last night after it had been approved by President Wilson admittedly has brought the mediation conference to a point where it generally is expected to fail unless one side gives way. The Huerta delegates standing firm for the selection of a "neutral" for the provisional presidency and the Carranza delegates no less firm that the new executive shall be one fully approved by the Constitutionalists are confronted with a situation which only a modification of demands on one side can ameliorate. The general belief was that Mr. Naon had returned to Washington to use his efforts with the President and the Secretary of State to prevent a breakdown. It was among the possibilities, too, that he might personally present the names of some of the men suggested for the presidency of Mexico.

Almost at the hour of Mr. Naon's arrival a long message was received at the White House from the American delegate, Secretary Bryan, after his receipt said he understood there would be a meeting in Niagara Falls at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The Cabinet assembled at the White House as the news of Minister Naon's return became known. Evidently none of the other members had heard the news officially, for they received it with expressions of surprise and greatest interest. It had been planned to give over the entire meeting to a discussion of the Mexican situation.

After a short stay at his hotel Minister Naon went to the Argentine legation. He said he did not expect to have any conferences there, but planned to see Secretary Bryan later to-day.

Nothing to Say
When shown a dispatch from Niagara Falls saying he had come to ask Secretary Bryan if officials here had any information which would seem to make it advisable to continue the Niagara conference Mr. Naon said:

"You had better be satisfied with that at this time. There is nothing I can say."

Although the leading agents of the Constitutionalists here, including those with whom the American delegates conferred at Buffalo, were in the same hotel with Mr. Naon, it was said he would have no conferences with them whatever.

Those officials who regard mediation as having definitely failed looked upon the minister's visit as one of courtesy to officially notify President Wilson of the deadlock and inquire formally if there is anything further to be laid before the conference before it ends.

Bryan Noncommittal

Secretary Bryan was more noncommittal than usual as he went to the Cabinet meeting. There were intimations that some sort of an official announcement might be given out late to-day.

With mediation as a solution of the Mexican difficulty in the background, the Mexican situation was divided with the status of the situation between Carranza and Villa. Official reports and intimations of the situation that the chief and his fighting general had patched up their differences with the understanding that Villa is to have supreme command of the army were received here, with the Constitutionalists' information that Carranza supporters whom he seized when he forcibly took possession of the Constitutionalists' affairs at Chihuahua. This was taken as added evidence that the difficulties had been smoothed over.

President Wilson Will Only Accept Man Who Is Favored by Both Sides

By Associated Press
Washington, June 19. — With the outcome of mediation hanging in the balance, Washington to-day looked to Niagara Falls for results of the next conference among the Huerta and American delegates and the three envoys which it was believed, would indicate whether Mexico's ills could be settled through diplomacy.

The statement of the American delegates, outlining their reply to the Huerta missions criticism of the attitude of the United States was widely discussed here. The statement generally was interpreted as a conclusive showing of the administration's aims in the mediation negotiations. That part of the note outlining the American government's policy in the search for a provisional president for the troubled republic was confirmatory of previous statements. It read:

"The effort therefore should be not to find a neutral but one whose attitude on the controlling issues would make him acceptable to the Constitutionalists, while his character, standing and conduct would make him acceptable to the other part. Such a man, and only such a man, can reasonably be expected to have the confidence and respect of the entire country."

General Villa Begins His March on Capital

By Associated Press
El Paso, Tex., June 19. — General Villa will leave Torreon to-day for the front above Zacatecas. Thus will begin the peculiar arrangement between him and General Carranza which will allow Villa full command of the zone in which he dominates and of any further territory which he can take to the south. No announcement has been made concerning the status of General Carranza as head of the central zone which Villa by his insistence has taken over.

The general plan of the campaign now is along the lines drawn up before Carranza put Natera in command of the new zone. Villa, who has taken Juarez, Ojinaga, Chihuahua City, Gomez Palacio, Torreon and San Pedro de Northern Mexico, all within the last few months, will now have a clear road to the national capital so far as

Americans Insist That Demands Be Accepted

By Associated Press

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 19.—Just before the American delegates were notified that there would be no conference to-day they were in communication with the Washington government by telephone. It is understood that they received instructions to stand by their attitude as outlined in the statement of last night and to insist on an acceptance of the American plan.

In some quarters the attitude of the Washington government was described as virtually an ultimatum, the acceptance of which by the Mexican delegation would be the sole condition on which mediation will be continued. In this connection attention was directed to the concluding paragraph of last night's statement, which was taken literally from Justice Lamar's memorandum to Emilio Rabasa. The paragraph said, in part:

"The United States is a party to the mediation in the hope that it might lead to peace, and that the peace will lead to prosperity. The plan which the American representatives propose, AND ON WHICH WE MUST INSIST, has been formulated solely with that end in view."

The American memorandum was taken to mean that at to-morrow's conference the United States would reiterate its purpose of accepting only a Constitutionalists and that unless the Huerta delegates accepted, mediation would come to end.

But for the presence of American troops at Vera Cruz, it is believed, the
