hat trainmen shall not manipulate the lower hand brake on freight cars burg. by means of a club. Incidentally this New means the total elimination on the Pennsylvania of the oldtime club known since practically the band brake was used on cars as the chief ally of the brakeman. Investigation has shown that the old custom not so common now in the day of alrabrakes but still practiced to some extent of clubbing the lower or "tunnel brakes" of the freight car is dangerous.

Dependents Commission Has Hear-ing at the Capitol For the Members of the board of managers of the Children's Industrial Ho me to-day discussed with Messrs. Boyle and Lynch, of the State Dependents Commission, the scope of the work of the Institution and the suggestion that juvenile dependents should be cared for in county institutions, separate from the alms house entirely, until they can be given to foster-parents or taken home again. Eight institutions in this city that are receiving State aid were invited to send representatives to the hearing, which was held in the rooms of the State Board of Public Charities, but the Industrial Home was the only one to send members. Mrs. Boyer outlined what had been accomplished and how the good work of the institution was to be enlarged. The managers, however, did not look with very great favor on the suggestion for homes under direction of the poor directors or county commissioners in place of the various charitable institutions.

The Crittenton home sent a letter giving its ideas and an outline of work. Smallpox Spreads.—The Department of Health was to-day informed that smallpox has spread to Rush township. Asks a Bridge.—John J. McEntee, who is employed at Steelton, petitions the Public Service Commission for a foot-bridge over the Réading railroad at a point known as the Transfer Sheds, located at the extreme end of Rutherford yards, between Harrisburg, and Hummelstown. At present the nearest crossings are the Beaver subway, one mile to the east, and an overhead bridge, one mile and a half to the west, and because of this condition every person in the neighborhood crosses nine tracks in preference to going the longer route.

Halifax Company.—A state charter was issued to-day to the Prenzel Sectional Pneumatic Tire Company, of Halifax, with a capital of $250,000. The incorporators are A. H. Prenzel, Luther W. Ryan, L. Samuel Marshall, Halifax, and Frank Clayton, of Lewisburg. The company will erect a large plant.

New Trolley Charter.—The Ephrata and Lebanon Street Railway Company was chartered to-day with $34,000 capital. The company, which is to build between the two towns, is separate from the other companies chartered for lines in that section. The incorporators are all from Pittsburgh, as follows: C. O. Collett, C. D. Siegle, Charles D. Lawrence, Henry O. Evans and E. T. Noble.
