Young and Powell Say That Compliance With Mandamus Would Cause Complications

Armando Cariboni, who was removed from the bedbug-infested county almshouse on June 11 to the Pennsylvania Hospital, at Philadelphia, died there yesterday, according to a telegram received by Joseph Parialo, 129 South Second street, who, it will be remembered, had heard of Cariboni's situation at the almshouse and was instrumental in having him removed to the Pennsylvania Hospital.

Parialo to-day made arrangements for the burial of his fellow-countryman in an Italian cemetery in Philadelphia. The remains will be taken in charge by Undertaker C. C. A. Baldi.

That the man's death was imminent was known by Parialo this morning. J. Harvey Smith also declared that he was incurable at the time that he was taken from the almshouse, but it was for the purpose of assuring him the best of care and comfort for what time he could live that his friend here sent him away.

Pinchot Resumes His Attack on Perkins

Philadelphia, June 26.—Colonel Roosevelt's endorsement of George W. Perkins as "on the whole the most useful member of the Progressive party," to be expelled only if the Colonel is honored, has been diagnosed. At present he is unable to take any nourishment by mouth, rectum or navel feeding, and he is starving to death, aside from the general intonation (poisoning) following the tumor growth. I would advise, therefore, that if he has any friends, for them to see him immediately. And I would like to know your opinion in disposition of the body in case of death. Kindly inform Dr. Smith of this, too, altho I expect to see him myself early in July.

Old Offenders Receive 60 and 90 Days at County Stone-Quarries in Police Court Session

Police Chief Says City Will Be Free of Panhandlers After July

Convicted on a charge of vagrancy, Steve Noonan and James Belford, old offenders, this afternoon were sentenced by Alderman C. E. Murray, of the Third ward, to 60 and 90 days, respectively, in the county workhouse. This was the first sentence of the kind ever imposed by a Harrisburg magistrate.

The workhouse, which is being fitted up at the county almshouse, is not yet complete. Noonan and Belford went to jail until preparations can be made to put them to work. Belford was drunk in the Eighth ward last night and was quite noisy. He holds a record of being arrested forty-two times in two years. Noonan was also bad, and he too has been in police court on an average of once a month for the past two years.

Mayor John K. Royal did not return from Massachusetts to-day, and Alderman Murray presided over the police court session. In imposing the sentences, Alderman Murray told Noonan and Belford that they had been dealt with leniently for a long time, and that it was unfair to the taxpayers of Dauphin county to be required to pay the expense of keeping them in jail. That they would now have to earn their board and lodging.

ROOSEVELT REVEALS PINCHOT PARADOX

Politicians Smile at Repudiation of Attempt to Read Perkins Out of Progressive Party

Special to The Telegraph. Philadelphia, June 26.—Colonel Roosevelt's exceedingly prompt announcement upon his return from Europe that he had absolutely no sympathy with the plan of the Pinchot brothers, Gifford and Amos, to "read George W. Perkins out of the Progressive party" caused no surprise whatsoever among Progressives in this city yesterday. Ziba T. Moore, for instance, who was the first representative of the Roosevelt movement in Philadelphia in 1912, voiced the feelings of others when he said laconically: "There was nothing else for the Colonel to do."

which resulted in Roosevelt's "throwing his hat in the ring" in 1912. He said that Perkins has been with Roosevelt from the very start; that Perkins was for Roosevelt when others were for La Follette, and finally and conclusively, Perkins was the "angel." Further, said Moore, he was the "right-hand bower." Perkins was to past corporation affiliations and his alleged present sympathy with corporations rather than with the workingman, is a burden on the party and should be removed from his party office.

FISCAL OFFICERS BLOCK REPAIR [Continued From First Page] ment will not be able to put the roads into good condition. To-day's move places Powell and Young squarely in the position of holding up the funds pending decision of the case. Judge McCarrell was ill this afternoon and could not hear the case and argument will be heard next week.

Bank Was Shaky Three Years Ago, Says Report Chicago, June 26.—The La Salle Street National Bank, predecessor of the recently defunct La Salle Street Trust and Savings Bank, controlled by William Lorimer and C. B. Munday, was shaky three years ago, according to a report made public to-day by James H. Wilkerson, United States district attorney. The report was that of a committee appointed by the Chicago Clearing House Association in February, 1911; acting on application for admission of the bank to the association. The application was refused because of many dangerous practices and alleged unethical banking. The committee requested the directors of the bank to replace huge sums in doubtful collateral with quick assets, and to cease the practice of loaning money to Lorimer and Munday and their enterprises as preliminaries to another application to the Clearing House Association.

Book of Traffic Rules Enough to Scare Off Crossing Blockader Shortly after 12.30 o'clock this afternoon Patrolman Edward McFarland put up a strong argument with a huckster who had his team standing along the curb near the corner of Cameron and Market streets. "You'll have to open this crossing up," said the officer as he was gently swinging his club. "I ain't on the corner," said the huckster in a rough voice. The copper then walked aside, pulled out his book of rules which governs the traffic regulations. Then the huckster left.

To Improve Expression As Well As Complexion No face is really beautiful that lacks expression. Do you realize that continual use of powders and creams tends to spoil pliancy of skin and elasticity of expression? Why not quit cosmetics, use something better, which makes you look younger, more youthful. Every draught has this wax acts quite differently from any cosmetic, giving it life and expression. By gradually, harmlessly pressing it off the thin veil of surface skin it brings to view a pure, soft, spotless complexion, delicately beautiful and youthful. It is spread on nightly like cold cream and washed off by morning. In a week or two the transformation is complete. Wrinkles do not of course enhance the expression. Neither do the pasty things many use to eradicate them. A treatment free from all objection is made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in 1/2 pint witch hazel; use as a wash lotion. This soon removes even the most obstinate wrinkles—Advertisement.
