PHOTOPLAY THEATER

"A big Warner's feature entitled 'False Evidence', is a picture showing how a young person ruined their future by accusing another person of committing a crime and receiving some money for doing it. But in time the truth came out and he was a ruined man. 'The Mummy', a two-reel Melies picture, is on the program to-day. 'The Opal's Curse' shows how superstitious some people are and how willing they are to believe anything along those lines.—Advertisement.

Approves Teaching of Sex Hygiene in the Sunday Schools

By Associated Press. Chicago, Ill., June 26.—The teaching of sex hygiene in Sunday schools was approved to-day in the report to the convention of International Sunday School Association by E. K. Mohr, superintendent of the Purity Department. "Sex knowledge will be taught," said Mr. Mohr. "If not in the home and in the Sunday school it will be taught in the street. Silence is criminal. We cannot remain inactive. We must teach the facts and teach them right so that knowledge may lead to purity and righteousness. "With the new awakening and discussion of sex matters the pendulum has swung from silence to a publicity that is almost nauseating. Literature, the stage, the newspapers, the 'movies' have exploited the interest in the subject. The endeavor to avoid false modesty may in the end break down the barriers of real modesty. "With the religious atmosphere and reverent receptive attitude of the Sunday school it is eminently fitted to bear the message of the knowledge that tends to personal purity. It is the plainest religious strategy."

YES, IT'S HOT!

We all know it and feel it, but what's the use of talking about it and looking at the thermometer. The sensible thing to do is to come up to our bath parlors and we'll give you any kind of a bath desired. We make you feel like a new man. Health Studio, John H. Peters, H. D., 207 Walnut street.

RABIES SHOULD BE GUARDED AGAINST

State Veterinarian Marshall Issues a Statement of Interest to the State

The general quarantines against dogs on account of rabies that the Pennsylvania Livestock Sanitary Board have in force occasion many inquiries, therefore the following from Dr. C. J. Marshall, State Veterinarian, is of timely interest: "Rabies is a disease that affects all warm-blooded animals. In man it is called hydrophobia. Recently a child died showing clinical symptoms of hydrophobia, the head of the dog that bit the child had been submitted to the laboratory of the board, a diagnosis positive of rabies established and the interested persons notified. The Pasteur treatment was recommended but it was not administered. Exposed animals were destroyed or quarantined. "A great factor in the spread of rabies is the stray dog, and the number of these animals should be materially reduced by proper enforcement of the dog tax law of 1911, which work is in the hands of the assessors, tax collectors and constables. "In conclusion the State Veterinarian desires to make known to the public that if the head of any animal that dies or is destroyed, suspected of being affected with rabies, is severed from the carcass near the shoulders, promptly forwarded to the laboratory of the State Livestock Sanitary Board, 19th street and Woodland avenue, Philadelphia, plainly marked with the name and address of the sender, a careful examination will be made and a report submitted free of cost. All positive cases are investigated by the board and exposed animals destroyed or placed under quarantine. General quarantines are established only when all other methods have failed to check the spread of infection in a given locality.

INDIAN BRAVES OF CITY TO HOLD PARADE

CHARLES E. PASS Who Will Be the Big Chief

tions have also been sent to tribes in York, Lancaster, Reading and Lebanon to participate. Charles E. Pass, of Cornplanter Tribe, No. 61, was elected as great sachem in Philadelphia two weeks ago. For one year he will lead the great council of Red Men of Pennsylvania. Soon after the powwow in Philadelphia local members got busy. The following committee was selected to prepare for the big parade: Chairman, H. O. Burnett, Tribe No. 61; secretary, H. E. Sanderson, No. 244; treasurer, George Sprout, No. 57. This committee last night selected David H. Ellinger, of Warrior Eagle Tribe, No. 340, as chief marshal. He will select his aids within the next ten days. The committee first decided to have the parade on July 4, but it was planned to interfere with the patriotic exercises, the date was changed to July 17. Several of the local tribes have already begun preparations, and will display in the first time their handsome new costumes. Complimented to wear the uniforms which won for them first prize in Philadelphia. There will be plenty of redfire and music.

DULL DOOGERS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Munsey's Paper Says That Penrose Will Win in November and Palmer Isn't Trusted

Leaders of the Progressive party in Washington admit that Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania had as good as won his fight for re-election in the Keystone State. The disaffections in the Progressive ranks, with the fight within the party between Amos Pinchot, brother of Gifford Pinchot, Progressive senatorial nominee, and George W. Perkins, who was the principal financial backer of Roosevelt in 1912, has reacted in favor of Senator Penrose. Frank A. Munsey, another Roosevelt financier of 1912, also admits that there is little hope of defeating Penrose. In his Washington Times last evening appeared an article conceding a Penrose triumph in Pennsylvania in November. The article says among other things: "The whole Senate has its eye on the outcome of the fight in Pennsylvania for a variety of reasons. And a good deal of information about conditions there has been furnished to Senators. At one time there was much talk that Penrose would not be returned, but the present indications are that he is going to win out. For this there are a variety of reasons. "One reason is that Penrose has perfected an unusually strong organization. Another that Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, the Democratic candidate for Senator, is not likely to prove exceptionally strong at the polls. He has factually opposed in his own party and does not have the confidence of the great bulk of progressive-minded voters of the State. "As for Gifford Pinchot, candidate of the would-be party, there is no doubt he is making a very good campaign and is arousing enthusiasm wherever he speaks, but the developments thus far do not indicate that he can command such support at the polls as will elect him or block the election of Penrose. "One of the factors in favor of Penrose is that Pennsylvania is a strong Republican and protection State, and there is pronounced disaffection over the tariff issue. Moreover, Penrose and his lieutenants are making the tariff a prominent issue in the campaign. The fact that Colonel Roosevelt, according to present advices, will not be enabled to make a speaking campaign in Pennsylvania, or at most anything like the extensive campaign planned at one time, is expected to work in favor of Penrose and tend to hold down the vote for Pinchot. As it is, Penrose and the men close in his confidence are talking optimistically of the outcome in November."

SIGNS OF BUSINESS REVIVAL EVIDENT

that the President's announced attitude would have the effect of rallying Democrats to the support of the trust program. This belief was further strengthened by the fact that the entire Missouri delegation in the House pledged the President their aid in his fight. That the President feels that Congress would complete the program at an early date was evident in his address to the editors. The speech, in part, follows: "I think it is appropriate in receiving you to say just a word or two in regard to the judgment about the existing conditions. "I want to say to you that as a matter of fact the signs of a very strong business revival are becoming more and more evident. It is my belief that the business revival is not only being admitted but is being actively encouraged. "I want to suggest this to you: Business has been in a feverish and apprehensive condition in this country for more than ten years. We need to stop to point out the time at which it began to be apprehensive, but during more than ten years business has been the object of sharp criticism in the United States, a criticism growing in volume and growing in particularity; and as a natural consequence, as the volume of criticism has increased business has grown more and more anxious. "Business men have acted as some men do who fear they will have to undergo an operation and who are not sure that when they get on the table the operation will not be a capital operation. As a matter of fact, as the diagnosis has progressed it has become more and more evident that no capital operation was necessary; that at the most a minor operation was necessary to remove admitted distempers and evils. The treatment to be constitutional rather than surgical, and the habits of life and action which would have been hurtful. For on all hands it is admitted that there are processes of business in various branches of business in this country which ought to be corrected; but the correction has been postponed, and in proportion to the postponement there has been increased the fever of apprehension. "Would End Guessing "There is nothing more fatal to business than to be kept guessing from month to month and from year to year whether something serious is going to happen to it or not and what in particular is going to happen to it if anything. It is impossible to forecast the prospects of any line of business unless you know what the year is going to bring forth. Nothing is more unfair, nothing has been declared by business men to be more harmful, than to keep them guessing. "First, there was a tariff, and business shivered. We don't like to go in; the water looks cold; but when the tariff had been passed it was found that the readjustment was possible without any serious disturbance whatever. So the men said with a sense of relief, 'We are glad to get that behind us, and it wasn't bad after all.' "Then came the currency reform. You remember what resistance, with what criticism, with what systematic holding back, a large body of bankers in this country met the proposals of that reform, and you know how they recognized its benefit and beneficence, and however since the passage of that reform bankers close to the United States have been congratulating themselves that it was possible to carry out this great reform upon sensible and solid lines. "Will Not Halt Trust Bills "We have advanced to the trust program and again the same dread, the same hesitation, the same urgency that the thing should be postponed. It will not be postponed because it will not be postponed because we are the friends of business. We know what we are doing; we purpose to do it under the advice, for we have been forbidden enough to obtain the advice of men who understand the business of the country; and we know that the

IMPROVEMENTS AT GRETTA

Special to The Telegraph
Mt. Gretna, Pa., June 26.—Cottagers who are arriving very fast this time of year are finding many new improvements, such as the gravel roads and paths, in both the Campmeeting and Chautauqua grounds, the cement gutters in the Campmeeting grounds making a fine drainage system. The park auditorium picture show has been enlarged and now has a seating capacity of close to 700. The bathhouse on Lake Conewago has been enlarged by an addition of fifty feet, making twenty-six extra bathhouses. George Hutman, of 1703 North Third street, Harrisburg, has been spending a few days with his family at Chestnut Knob. Mrs. Lile W. Quigley, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. George W. Wolford, of 1805 North Third street, Harrisburg, has opened her cottage, the Drovers, for the summer.

MUST FINISH PROGRAM

"I for one could not ask this country to excuse a policy which subjected business to longer continued agitation and uncertainty, and, therefore, I am sure that it is beginning to be evident to the whole press of this country, and by the same token to the people, that a constructive program is at last not only to be proposed, but completed, and that when it is completed business can get and will get what it can get in no other way—rest, recuperation and successful adjustment. I cannot get rest if you send me to bed wondering what is going to happen to me in the morning; but if you send me to bed knowing what the course of business is to be to-morrow morning, I can rest. How much better is certain justice to the men engaged in business. "It is a matter of conscience as well as a matter of large public policy to do what this Congress I am now certifying to do, finish the program. And I do not think that it is going to take a very long time."

AT PAXTANG

The vaudeville show at Paxtang Park this week is one of the strongest bills of the season, and that is saying a great deal, as this season's attractions at the park theater are a great deal better than the average popular-priced entertainment. Perry's Minstrel Maids, as the headliner, put the park bill in a class with the best. The act is one of those up-to-date girl stunts full of ginger, comedy and good music, to say nothing of the bevy of well-looking young ladies who fill out the circle in the minstrel first part. The balance of the show is correspondingly good and the whole makes a performance well worth twice the price of admission.—Advertisement.
